GANG LEADERS SPEND UNHAPPY DAY IN COURTS

Barker, Maddox and White Back in Cell.

The business of making Chicago a sorry place for hoodlums went forward briskly yesterday with four well known gangsters spending a troublous day in the courts. New indictments, the revival of old charges, and investigation of violated paroles brought a droop in the shoulders of a once jaunty quartet of gunmen.

Chief Justice John P. McGoorty of the Criminal court looked down upon the three men who stood before him. Attorneys singled them out; George [Red] Barker, who was presently to sniff a mournful whine; William [Three Finger Jack] White, the debonair, jail wrinkles in his expensive clothes; Claude Maddox, the jaunty Cicero gangster, now inclined to lurk modestly behind his companions.

Ask Freedom on Writs.

Each of these defendants, their attorneys said, was being detained in prison contrary to the law and constitution. As the arguments in behalf of the trio on their triple petitions for a writ of habeas corpus went on these things happened:

1. White was served with a capias charging him anew with the murder five years ago of Policeman Edward Pfaume of Forest Park.

2. Maddox was served with one of Judge John H. Lyle's vagrancy warrants, which carried a $10,000 bond requirement.

3. Barker was ordered held by Judge McGoorty while an investigation was made into a report that he violated his parole on a larceny charge and that he should serve four years more as a result.

Thus, although White and Maddox gained their point on the petition for a writ of habeas corpus, all three were back in jail last night and their future seemed dark.

Report Indictments Voted.

To add to their gloom, they heard late in the day that the grand jury was reported to have returned true bills charging White with the murder of Policeman Pfaume and charging both White and Barker with carrying concealed weapons.

All Maddox had to contemplate was a hearing before Judge Lyle this morning. But he didn't seem to be much happier than his companions.

Barker, who gained control of the teamsters' union by his ready use of fists and guns, was shy when Judge McGoorty called his case. Assistant State's Attorney James Brown asked a two day postponement of the case, explaining that at the direction of State's Attorney Swanson he was inquiring into the discharge of Barker in 1929 on a habeas corpus writ issued by Judge T. N. Greene of Peoria.

Freed on Change in Law.

Judge Greene released Barker on the theory that he was entitled to freedom by an amendment of the penalty fixed by law for robbery. The punishment for this offense was changed by the legislature from 10 years to life to one year to life imprisonment. Barker contended this change made him immediately eligible for parole and the judge so held.

"Barker was convicted in 1928 and sentenced to from ten years to life in Pontiac reformatory," said the prosecutor. "Judge Greene's ruling released him after he had served a year. From then he violated his parole by going to California, leaving the state without permission."

"I am unable to understand why he has not served the remainder of his term," commented the judge.

Barker Makes a Plea.

Barker spoke for the first time and his listeners noted a marked pleading note in his voice.

"I had a right to go to California," he said. "Daddy Reed gave me permission."

A little, white haired man, all but hidden in the group, pushed his way to the front. State Parole Agent Clement "Dad" Reed spoke:

"I beg to differ with the defendant. He had no such permission from me."

"Say," cried Barker. "Do you think I'd be crazy enough to leave the state without an O. K.?"

"Crazy is the word," declared Prosecutor Brown. "You're going to regret that craziness."

"I understand that the parole board was without representation at the hearing before Judge Greene," remarked Judge McGoorty. "And I would like to know how the Circuit court of Peoria acquired jurisdiction in the matter. The court is of the

BROKER'S SAFE FOUND EMPTIED OF SECURITIES

New York, Oct. 14. — [Special.] — When representatives of the state attorney general with the aid of state troopers, entered the offices of the missing Charles V. Bob, capitalist and aviation enthusiast, in the Equitable building today and opened the safe of Metal and Mining Shares, Inc., of which Bob is chairman, they found no trace of securities of the cost value of $6,000,000.

According to Assistant Attorney General Watson Washburn, it is believed that all the portfolio securities of Mr. Bob's investment trust organization have been transferred to three banks situated in New York, New Jersey, and Massachusetts.

While Mr. Washburn's staff from the bureau of securities were searching the metal company offices for securities and records, they continued also their search for Mr. Bob, who dropped out of sight in Chicago Thursday afternoon after he and his pilot, David Lamb, had stored his private airplane at the Blue Bird hangar at the Municipal airport.

Hunted for a Week.

After Mr. Bob's associates had expressed concern for his safety following his failure to return to New York by air on Friday, as scheduled, Assistant Attorney General Washburn disclosed that he had been searching for the missing capitalist since Monday. He has announced that he will subpoena Mr. Bob as soon as he can find him because he wishes to question him concerning the affairs of Metal and Mining Shares, Inc.; also another of Mr. Bob's corporations, the Rainbow Luminous Products company, Inc., of which Mr. Bob is a director. Mr. Washburn has been investigating these companies since the curb exchange suspended trading in Rainbow Luminous, which was followed by a slump in Metals and Mining.

After expressing the belief that the missing $6,000,000 portfolio securities had been deposited elsewhere, Mr. Washburn pointed out that his office had no authority to subpoena records of banks outside this state.

Learn Safe's Combination.

Deputy Attorney Generals Clarence Donovan and Marie Teresa Scalzo and Frank J. Meehan, statistician, spent four hours there examining various persons they found in Bob's office today. No one would admit knowing the combination of the investment trust's safe when the attorney general's investigators were at Metal and Mining Shares, Inc., offices last Saturday, but the combination of the safe was obtained over the holiday week-end and the investigators quickly had access to the safe that was practically empty.

In it they found some securities and various books of record, but none of the securities that should have been in the portfolio of Metal and Mining Shares, Inc. Officers of the corporation, however, acquiesced in the attorney general's request to take with him what he had found.

Speaking of the missing portfolio securities, Assistant Attorney General Washburn said: "The attorney general subpoenaed for questioning several officers and directors of the various companies in which Mr. Bob is interested."

BOB PLANE AT AIRPORT.

The airplane brought to Chicago last week by Charles V. Bob, missing New York broker, and his pilot, Col. Dean Lamb, was still parked in the Bluebird hangar at the Municipal airport yesterday, but nothing had been heard at the airport from the owner or his pilot. T. B. Dyke, operations manager of the Bluebird service, stated that he had received a long distance telephone call from New York, and that a person who said he was connected with Mr. Bob's New York office had requested that the ship be held here until release is authorized from New York.

Test Device to Cut Down Noise of Plane Engines

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Oct. 14.—(AP)—A device to diminish the noise of airplane engines was tested today by Peter De James Reid at the behest of Miss Eldgrado Jones of Moline, Ill., its inventor. The device, a fanlike arrangement attached to the exhaust, cut down the engine's rear by about 60 per cent, Reid said after his test.

4 PER CENT BEER NOT INTOXICATING, YALE PROFESSOR FINDS

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—From a scientific standpoint beer and ale are not intoxicating, according to Prof. Landell Henderson, professor or applied physiology at Yale. He was asked by the Yale Daily News to give a definition to scientific beverage and today made his report based upon laboratory research.

"No beverage," he said, "which in common usage is drunk only in such amounts that not more than the equivalent of 80 cubic centimeters of absolute alcohol is absorbed into the blood an hour, can properly be denominated as intoxicating.

"General experience shows that few persons care to drink two liters [half a gallon] of beer in an hour. Under this definition, therefore, beer containing 3 or 4 per cent of alcohol by volume is not intoxicating. A person who is accustomed to drinking beer does not become intoxicated in the proper sense of the word even if in each of several successive hours he drinks a liter of 4 per cent beer."

SHOOTS HIMSELF, GOES 5 MILES TO BID WIFE GOOD-BY

Summerdale police last night were investigating the shooting of Thomas McManus, 1219 Granville avenue, who was found wounded in the mouth and near the heart in his apartment, following a telephone call by his wife, Mina.

McManus' story was that he was despondent because he was unable to earn sufficient to defray the household expenses and that he had also lost $4,000 in the failure of a radio concern. He said he drove in his car to the forest preserves in Edgebrook, walked into the woods, and shot himself. When he failed to die he decided to go home and tell his wife good-by. He then drove the car five miles to the apartment.

Mrs. McManus, in her car, had driven to the Edgebrook Golf club to get a medal she had won in a tournament a week ago. She said her wounded husband staggered through the door after she returned.

Musicians Put Radio Ban on G.O.P. Talks

James C. Petrillo, president of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, last night declared unconditional war on canned music and the local Republican party for permitting its use. The latest moves in the battle to force candidates to use musicians instead of radio and phonographic devices are street parades and a threat of strikes at radio stations permitting Republican candidates to speak.

The following telegram was sent to all local broadcasting stations: "As the Chicago Federation of Musicians is about to place the Republican party of Cook county on the unfair list this will mean that if any Republican candidates speak on the radio the service of members of the Chicago Federation of Musicians will be withdrawn."

Will Urge Democratic Victory.

To enable broadcasting stations to present programs already advertised the telegram will not be effective until Monday. In addition to the strike threat to stations the war will be waged on another front. One thousand musicians, paid by their own organization, will parade the streets on foot and on band wagons displaying placards advocating election of all Democratic candidates.

The permission of Acting Police Commissioner Alcock for the parading of musicians was sought yesterday but last night no answer had been received. In case the permission is not granted, Mr. Petrilol said, one thousand musicians will be given to the Democratic party to use as they see fit. Parading will start simultaneously with the broadcasting edict.

Democrats to Hire Men.

Meanwhile the Democratic leaders, dealing with the musicians through Clayton F. Smith, have signed an agreement to use only union musicians. Several hundred musicians will be used under an agreement reached yesterday. Then musicians will be provided to a truck. Their pay will be $11 a man for three hours in the loop and for four hours outside the loop.

"We have approximately eight thousand men out of work," Mr. Petrillo said. "The only way we can provide work is to see that they are not supplanted by mechanical devices. I have no sympathy for candidates who have spent thousands of dollars for billboard pasting but cannot spend a few hundred on men out of work.

Cites Employment Pleas.

"It is rather ironic that the leaders of the Republican party, President Hoover and Gov. Emmerson, have both urged that the employment of all available men is the only way to alter the present unemployment situation. In answer to this the local party contents itself with a phonograph. If they want a war we will start it."

Bernard W. Snow, county Republican chairman, said no trouble existed, but that the Musicians' Federation misunderstood the position of the party. He stated that the Republican committee has not and would not use any mechanical music. A few isolated candidates had done so, he said, but without the permission of the party. Mr. Snow could not be reached last night for comment on the proposed strikes at broadcasting stations.

Hoover Talks to Officers of Stock Market

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Official admission by White House attachés tonight that President Hoover had entertained at dinner on Sunday Richard Whitney, president of the New York stock exchange, and Allen L. Lindley, vice president of the exchange, led to rumors here today that the President had conferred with the financiers on possible measures for curbing short selling tactics that have kept the market in an uncertain condition.

From the White House, however, there came no admission that Mr. Hoover had discussed the short selling problem with the officials of the exchange.

Rumors concerning short selling were based on persistent reports that Mr. Hoover frowned on the practice at this time, because it caused market fluctuations which added to the general economic unrest.

Follows Chicago "Short" Speech.

Another fact that seemed to add strength to the rumor was that Mr. Whitney's Sunday night visit to Washington came only two days after his speech in Chicago in which he defended "legitimate" short selling, although he decried the practice of short selling deliberately intended to force down securities values.

When Mr. Hoover left the White House on Saturday for his Rapidan camp it was said that he would return on Sunday in time to keep an engagement. This led to the belief that Mr. Whitney's speech might have prompted the executive to arrange the dinner date, in the hope that he might influence Mr. Whitney and other officials of the exchange to do what they could to curb the short selling of market raiders. Mr. Whitney and the President are old friends, having served together on the federal food administration during the world war.

Government Lacks Powers.

While officials here pointed out that, even if the President had been informed of the details of short selling practice, the government had little ability to correct or change the situation under existing laws. There were strong reports to the effect that the department of justice has been investigating the matter on the quiet. There has been no intimation in official circles, however, that the government intends to interfere with the stock exchange.

The only group with the power to curb short selling by individuals or concerns seeking to cause a drop in security values to their own advantage, it was pointed out, are the officials of the stock exchange, and there were intimations in one important quarter here that some quiet investigation of short selling has been carried on by them.

Guest Also Reticent.

New York, Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Allen Ledyard Lindley, senior partner of Lindley & Co. and vice president of the New York Stock exchange, tonight described his visit with President Hoover with Richard Whitney, president of the exchange, as "a personal visit."

Asked whether there had been any discussion of the present stock market situation or of short selling, Mr. Lindley replied:

"We spoke about everything in general. It was a delightful evening."

Mr. Whitney could not be reached.

SO. PARK BOARD BOOSTS FOR BIG FOOTBALL GAME

Offers Field to N. U. and Notre Dame.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Soldiers' field, which seats 110,000, will be offered rent free for charity's sake on the afternoon of Nov. 22, when it is hoped to stage the great Northwestern-Notre Dame football game there for the benefit of the poor and homeless.

The board of south park commissioners will meet today to make the formal offer to Northwestern and Notre Dame universities. Only necessary expenses will have to be met out of the sale of the extra 60,000 seats which the transfer from Dyche stadium will give to the public for this historic gridiron battle.

Northwestern to Decide Soon.

Decision of the board of trustees and the faculty athletic committee of Northwestern university on the transfer, which promises to result in a fund of from $150,000 to $250,000 for the use of the destitute, will be made soon.

Difficulties which were raised yesterday seemed to be smoothed away in the trustee's minds, and Melvin A. Traylor, president of the board, said last night that he thought the change could be worked out satisfactorily to all the ticket holders.

Under the proposed change the present ticket holders are to be given preferred seats at Soldiers' field in exchange for their regular Dyche stadium tickets, and the only sacrifice the Northwestern adherents will be called upon to make for the cause of the poor will be the journey downtown.

Traylor Is Optimistic.

"I feel very favorably toward it," said Mr. Traylor last night. "I think it can be worked out all right. I expect a meeting of the trustees will be called by the president soon."

Members of the south park board who expressed themselves in favor of the project are Edward J. Kelly, president; Philip Graver, John Bain, Michael L. Igoe and Ben F. Lindheimer.

The faculty athletic committee at Northwestern, which has final authority in all matters of this sort, consists of Prof. O. F. Long, Prof. E. J. Moulton, Prof. F. B. Snyder, Prof. W. J. Smith, Dean Irving S. Cutter of the school of medicine, Prof. William Farquharson, and Prof. Andrew A. Bruce.

To Help the Charities.

The proceeds of the sale of the extra tickets is to be divided among the chief Chicago charities and the Evanston charity fund. The Catholic and Jewish charities, the United Charities, and the Salvation Army all report that they are trying to handle twice the usual number of calls for help at this time of year. Kenneth Wilson, director of athletics at Northwestern, called attention to the urgent needs of the Evanston charities.

The Rev. James M. Stifler, president of the Central Association of Charities of Evanston, said:

"I think the idea is an excellent one. We should like to get in on it. Evanston charity is in desperate straits at the present time. Like all others we are being swamped with calls. In fact, we are $5,000 in debt and face the prospect of obtaining a loan. I see no reason why the Northwestern-Notre Dame game cannot be transferred to Soldiers' field. Believe me, it will serve a worthy cause. I imagine the situation in Evanston is typical. Our cases took a big jump in July, another in October, and we expect still another in November."

Julius Rosenwald, the philanthropist, added his approval to the charity game plan.

"Of course I favor it," he said. "No one could make a mistake in that. It is a very fine idea."

Charity Heads Appeal to Scott.

D. F. Kelly, president of the Catholic Charities; Joel D. Hunter, general superintendent of the United Charities, and Alfred K. Foreman, president of the Jewish Charities, have united in an appeal to President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern university to consent to the transfer, declaring that the situation with which the charity organizations are confronted has never been so bad as it is now.

"There are 300,000 persons in Chicago out of work," said Mr. Hunter yesterday. "All the effort put forth to aid the unemployment situation will be inadequate to meet the demand. Consequently, any great project such as the proposed Northwestern-Notre Dame game in Soldiers' field, merits the support of every loyal Chicagoan."

Mr. Foreman, who is vice president of the Foreman State National bank, said:

"Football emphasizes the import-

Good Bonds Are Available at Attractive Prices

You see a horse. You may not know his name, but you know his family well. He's old equus caballus, beast of burden, man's friend. You don't confuse him with hors d'ouvres, horseradish or hoarseness in the throat. A horse is more like a horse than like anything else in the world.

It's the same with bond markets. Each bond market isn't a replica of all the others, but it follows the same general outlines. Movement of bond prices starts with the most senior securities of the best known companies. Every one then seems to want the same bonds and the price of the triple A bonds goes to the point where the yield is exceedingly small. People then realize that they can get more returns about as safely from bonds of other companies well-managed but not so well known. The prices of those other bonds then get into adjustment with the better ones.

The present bond market is in the perfect pattern. Bonds of the best known companies are the highest in years, while interest in the others lags. A broadening of the bond market with higher prices for bonds of less well-known, but strong, well-managed companies, is the next step. It's a good time to talk about bonds with a good investment house.

ance of team play. No individual can score without the help of his teammates. To make the goal coöperation is requisite. In communal welfare, coöperation is similarly indispensable. To meet the prevalent distress the whole community must coöperate. Let us have team play in Chicago."

The Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, president of the University of Notre Dame, said last night:

"Notre Dame will be glad to approve Soldiers' field as a site for the Northwestern game provided an invitation to that effect is received from Northwestern. The game is to be played under Western conference rules and the Big Ten, of course, would have to sanction the move before Notre Dame would accept."

19 N. U. Trustees Approve.

Nineteen trustees of Northwestern university have already expressed approval of the plan to transfer the game. There are 40 trustees on the board and President Scott is to call them into special session to act on this suggestion before he leaves for California next Friday.

"Such a thing has never been done anywhere in the world before," he said last night. "There are several practical questions to be worked out. Alumni with whom I have talked are in favor of it. The tickets for the game at Dyche stadium have all been sold.

"Under ordinary circumstances we would not be able to make the change, as we have entered into a contract with the ticket holders, and many of them might not care to go downtown, but this is an emergency situation, a consideration of charity, and we may be able to manage it. I shall have to get in touch with the trustees before reaching any decision."

Comment from Trustees.

President Traylor of the trustees, William S. Mason, and Arthur Cutten agreed to the plan when it was first suggested.

George A. McKinlock, for whose son the downtown campus of the university was named, said yesterday: "The purpose is commendable. Generally speaking, I see no reason why it should not be done if the difficulties are worked out."

Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes of the Methodist Episcopal church, a member of the board, said: "I am very heartily in favor of it."

The other trustees who were available responded as follows:

George W. Dixon—"I think this will be the greatest charity we have ever had. I indorse it 100 per cent."

William A. Dyche—"In a general way I look upon the plan with favor."

Nathan William MacChesney—"I am in sympathy with this general purpose, for the need for charity is so great. I shouldn't favor it as a regular thing, but I think this plan is good."

George A. Mason—"It shows a fine spirit. I hope the question of details can be worked out."

Mark W. Cresap—"If the problems attending the plan can be worked out it will be a very fine thing."

Called a "Splendid Idea."

Eugene S. Gilmore—"Splendid idea."

George P. Merrick—"It's a fine idea. Perfectly all right."

James F. Oates—"Good idea. It has my general approval."

Albert E. Cross—"It looks like a good idea to me."

Nathaniel M. Jones—"Very good indeed. I hope the unemployed will benefit greatly from it."

Charles P. Whitney—"If the difficulties can be arranged to suit all, I favor the plan."

Arthur Andersen—"Good thing."

Expressions from "Associates."

Members of the Northwestern University Associates, a group of business and professional men interested in the welfare of the university, also voiced approval of the plan. The expressions of three of them were as follows:

Brig. Gen. Abel Davis: "It is a marvelous idea! It is well, while enjoying our college sports, to think of those who have a hard winter ahead of them. All the unemployed will thank the university for this splendid project."

Sidney S. Gorham, former president of the Chicago Bar association: "It is a laudable enterprise, and I was favorably impressed with the idea. The plan, as I understand it, will involve no loss to Northwestern, and the overfund from the proceeds of the extra seating capacity will go to organized charity. I understand certain rules governing Big Ten games must be passed upon, but there ought to be no complications. It would be a very proper thing for the governing body of the conference to waive the provisions for this laudable undertaking."

Henry H. Hilton, publisher and executive of Ginn & Co.: "Under present economic conditions the idea appeals to me."

Daily Northwestern Lends Support to Charity Game

In an editorial titled "N. U. vs. N. D. for Charity," Virgil Haffler, chairman of the editorial board of the Daily Northwestern, student publication, expresses campus opinion in regard to transferring the Notre Dame football game to Soldiers' field this morning as follows:

"Forgetting our desire to see the forces of Rockne and Notre Dame fall before the Wildcats in Dyche stadium, and the possible inconvenience of going sixteen miles for a home game, we wish to cast our vote in favor of the plan.

"Northwestern university always has been a leader in social work in this community, and the proposed transfer of a home game to Soldiers' field will require practically no sacrifice on our [the students] part."

The editorial goes on to quote Kenneth [Tug] Wilson, athletic director, as favoring the charity game, provided that "certain objections are overcome."

What Sport Leaders Say.

The comment of athletic directors at the other Big Ten schools follows:

A. A. Stagg, athletic director, University of Chicago. — I, personally, would be heartily in favor of shifting the Northwestern-Notre Dame game to Soldiers' field. I would say that it is all right. The motive is a good one, and I wouldn't have any objection to the plan. However, the transfer of a game is governed by Western conference rules and the proposal would have to be submitted to the faculty athletic committees for approval.

George Huff, athletic director, University of Illinois—Under the rather exceptional circumstances which exist now I think that it's a good thing. In view of the great need under present conditions, I do not think any one could or will interpose an objection to transferring the Notre Dame-Northwestern game to Soldiers' field.

Edward H. Lauer, athletic director, University of Iowa—I think the plan to devote the surplus proceeds of the Notre Dame-Northwestern game to charity is an excellent idea. Personally I do not see any objection to it and believe that it is deserving of support.

Nelson A. Kellogg, director of athletics, Purdue university—I am strongly in favor of the proposal and think that it should be sanctioned. I certainly shall not oppose the transfer of the game in any way.

Z. G. Clevenger, director of athletics, Indiana university.—I think that it's a fine idea. It will be a fine thing for both institutions to take part in it. It do not see how any one could object to the movement and I believe the faculty committee would grant permission to hold the game at Soldiers' field. If it were purely a commercial matter between the two schools the committee probably would not sanction it, but in a cause like this I am sure every one will be in favor of it.

George E. Little, director of athletics, University of Wisconsin.—If I had a vote on the faculty committee I would vote yes. I think it's a generous move on the part of Notre Dame and Northwestern, and whatever inconvenience they are put to will be repaid threefold in good will and public esteem. It think it's a fine thing when the universities take an interest in the welfare of the communities in which they are situated.

Airmen to Race Across U.S. with Japan's O.K. on Treaty

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 14.—Lieuts. I. A. Woodring and W. M. Caldwell, United States army flyers, will hop off from Victoria at dawn tomorrow on a transcontinental air dash against time with Japan's ratification of the three power naval treaty. A copy of the treaty signed by the emperor of Japan reached Victoria on the liner Hikawa Maru tonight. Ely Palmer, American consul general, and S. Yedo, Japanese consul general, will intrust the treaty to the flyers, who will attempt to place it in the hands of Pierre de L. Boal of the United States state department before he sails for London on the Leviathan Saturday.

Paralysis Outbreak Forces Idaho Town to Shut Schools

Caldwell, Idaho, Oct. 14.—(AP)—An outbreak of infantile paralysis here has caused closing of all public schools and children have been advised to keep away from public gatherings for the next two weeks.

FIRE ON SUNKEN SHIP ROTARIAN ADDS TO MYSTERY

Just as divers were completing a day of prowling around in the hold of the half submerged club boat Rotarian, which sank in the Chicago river at Clark street last week, fire broke out in the pilot house, adding another strange incident to the mystery surrounding the passing of the old craft.

"Ghosts—that's what I think it is," observed Policeman Ed Hartnett, who with Assistant Harbor Master J. A. Duwaat was watching the boat from the shore when the flames burst out.

Hartnett turned in an alarm and the fire was extinguished before it could sweep the decks. Duwaat expressed the belief that one of the divers had dropped a lighted cigaret in the pilot house.

The divers failed, they said, to find evidence that the ship had been scuttled.

EX-PRESIDENT OF FINLAND MISSING; FEAR KIDNAP PLOT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Oct. 14.—The mysterious disappearance of the former president of the republic, Dr. Kaarlo Juho Stahlberg, and his wife is causing excitement here. The couple set out for a walk and disappeared.

Strange rumors are abroad concerning a black auto with lowered blinds which had been observed near the ex-president's home.

Dr. Stahlberg is the leader of the Swedish Progressive party and was elected the first president of the Finnish republic in 1919. He held the office until 1925. He was elected last week to the new parliament and was about to resume political activities. It is feared the couple may have been kidnaped by political enemies.

U. S. DROUGHT BOARD SPEEDS UP ROAD FUNDS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—(AP)—The federal government has made immediately available to drought states their 1932 allotments of its $125,000,000 appropriation for aid to highway construction as a means to provide employment for drought stricken farmers.

The action, taken at the instance of the national drought relief committee, was made public today by Dr. C. W. Warburton, its secretary, in reply to a telegram from Harry Flood Byrd, former governor of Virginia and chairman of that state's drought relief committee, asking for a definite statement of national relief plans.

NOTED RIFLEMEN AMONG RESULTS OF DRY LAW RULE

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Prohibition enforcement methods of the federal government have developed some notable riflemen among the agents who go out to battle with bootleggers and moonshiners in remote parts of the country. While the agents have killed 154 citizens during the 10 years of prohibition, sixty-two of their own number have fallen from the bullets of those made outlaws by the 18th amendment.

Prohibition Agent W. H. Kinnaird is one whose name appears in two fatal shooting affairs detailed in the latest report from the prohibition department. There were the cases of Arthur Burman and Boe Fugate in Kentucky, in 1921 and 1922. There is another case, however, in which Kinnaird was a star performer and which does not appear in this list of killings.

Appears in Court Records.

The death of Emile Matsumato, a French-Japanese youth, in the woods near Orting, Wash., on Aug. 30, 1926, is not given in the department's report, although it is spread on state and federal court records of that state, and Kinnaird, presumably the same man who had served in Kentucky, was the prohibition agent involved.

In the Matsumato case the Rev. George Seeley, a young Methodist minister of Orting, three other agents and two posse men, went out after a still, and Matsumato, who was working there, was shot in the back as he attempted to escape. The federal court took this case away from the state so swiftly that no investigation was ever made as to who fired the fatal shot. The cases were dismissed in federal court after state warrants charging murder had been issued against Kinnaird, Seeley and the other agents.

Report on Other Killings.

The other killings in which this agent was concerned are reported by the department as follows:

ARTHUR BURMAN.—"Facts of the case: On the night of Oct. 11, 1921, agents W. H. Kinnaird, A. F. Guelda, T. C. Gilliam, and County Patrolman Gilbert left Louisville and drove about 8 miles to within a quarter of a mile of a still on the Shepardsville pike. When about 50 yards from the still one of the agents noticed a man standing on a hillside and ordered him to put up his hands. Refusing, the man ran in the direction of Arthur Burman's home, calling to his father to get the shotguns!

"The agents proceeded to the still and, prepared to destroy the equipment found there, but were fired upon from the hillsides, which ended in the agents retreating, as they were outnumbered and also were running low on ammunition. A call for reserves and ammunition was made from the home of a Walter Mathis, about four miles from the still. Federal Prohibition Agent J. H. McFarland of Louisville responded, bringing Deputy U. S. Marshal Ellis Workman, Ex Federal Agent N. E. Reed, N. A. Russell, and others.

"Cautiously returning to the distillery and finding no one in sight, some of the agents proceeded to destroy the distillery while others kept guard.

Describe Hillside Battle.

"One man, later identified as Arthur Burman, came down into the hollow carrying a gun. N. E. Reed, who was nearest him, commanded him to throw down the gun. Burman refused, saying he had a right to carry a gun on his own land. At the second command Burman fired at Reed, the load taking effect in both thighs.

"Thereupon Agents Kinnaird, Reed, Deputy Marshal Workman, R. R. Maxwell, a Herald reporter, and Agent McFarland opened fire with Winchester rifles. Burman wheeled and ran behind a tree, firing one shot at Workman, who was on the other hillside. Ten or 12 shots were fired and Burman fell, dying instantly.

"Disposition of the Case.—No criminal action instituted against the officers and agents who participated in the raid. Civil action was started Sept. 29, 1922, in County court and later removed to federal court. This action was dismissed March 8, 1926."

BOE FUGATE—"Facts of the Case—In April, 1922, Prohibition Agents John D. W. Collins, Robert A. Collier, and W. H. Kinnaird attempted to arrest Boe Fugate, charged with operating a still. Instead of surrendering to the officers when they approached him and sought his arrest in Knott county, Kentucky, he opened fire on them and the agents, as well as several of the possemen who were trying to apprehend Fugate, returned the fire and killed Fugate.

"Disposition of the Case.—Indicted for murder, April, 1922. Indictment dismissed for lack of prosecution.

SLAYERS START LIFE TERMS DAY AFTER MURDER

Michigan Speeds Pair to Penitentiary.

Jackson, Mich., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Late yesterday Thomas E. Martin, 38, of Chicago and James Gallagher, 28, of Toledo, O., held up the Old National Bank and Trust company of Battle Creek, Mich.

Driving away toward Indiana, they met State Trooper John S. Burke. He tried to question them and was shot and killed. Other Michigan state police pursued the pair to Howe, Ind., where they captured them after a gun battle in which one of the bandits was shot in the leg. The pair had $2,300 in loot in their pockets.

This morning, less than 24 hours after the double crime, Martin and Gallagher entered the state prison here to serve life terms. There had been no pleas for continuance, no writs of mandamus, no stalling of justice customary in criminal cases in Illinois. And a life sentence in Michigan means life, not the usual 14 years in Illinois.

Martin and Gallagher pleaded guilty to first degree murder and were sentenced by Judge Glenn E. Warner, who pronounced the killing of Trooper Burke as "cool, ruthless, and premeditated." Shortly thereafter they were in the penitentiary.

Speedy capture of the bandits was due to the efficient operation of the newly installed radio broadcasting station at the East Lansing state police barracks. Three minutes after the barracks received word of the robbery eleven scout cars were mobilized by radio. Burke also picked up the alarm. Commissioner Oscar Olander of the department of public safety expressed the opinion that the radio had more than justified in this one case the expense and trouble it cost the state.

Gov. Fred W. Green, a few months ago, defied the federal radio commission when it was indicated that the state would not be granted a broadcasting license. The commission finally capitulated and the station was installed.

HAITI GOES TO POLLS; FIRST TIME SINCE 1915

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Oct. 14.—(AP)—While American marines remained in their barracks, the people of Haiti today held without disorder their first parliamentary election since American intervention in the island republic's affairs in 1915.

Early returns indicated that three of the presidential candidates, Constantin Mayard, Charles Zamor and Seymour Pradel, had been elected to the senate.

Orderly crowds assembled in front of the newspaper offices here tonight to get the latest returns in the balloting for 15 senators and 36 deputies, who will meet in November as a national assembly to choose Haiti's next president from among their number.

The new chief executive will succeed Eugene Roy, provisional president since May 15, when President Borno completed his eight year tenure of office.

DRY LAW POLL OF EDITORS BEGUN BY WOODCOCK

Sends Out 3 Thousand Questionnaires.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—With a view to determining the attitude of newspapers in the United States on the wet and dry issue the bureau of prohibition today addressed questionnaires to the editors of 3,000 papers in all parts of the country.

Each editor was asked to answer one of three questions. They were:

"Are you in favor of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act?"

"Are you opposed?"

"Are you neutral?"

The inquiries were signed and sent out by E. A. Grant, chief of the division of research and public information in the office of Director Amos W. Woodcock. The director was absent from Washington today and no official announcement about the questionnaires was made. It was learned, however, that the answers will be compiled and made public.

Bureau Is New.

Mr. Grant's division of the prohibition bureau is a new one created by Director Woodcock and he is known to value its activities. A few days ago the division announced the results of a survey on possible liquor production in the United States.

No such comprehensive poll of the press is believed to have been undertaken by an official agency in the past, although one approaching it was conducted last August by the Methodist board of prohibition, temperance and public morals. Its survey was based on a canvass of 1,438 newspapers out of a total of 2,213 listed in the American Newspaper directory.

The board announced that its studies showed that 56 per cent of the papers were editorially dry, 36 per cent wet, and the others noncommittal.

Take Up Law Report Today.

Members of the Wickersham commission tomorrow will reassemble to continue discussion of the prohibition question. The commission has stood adjourned since last Friday. Its session will end Friday of this week.

Over the week end Mr. Wickersham has been in New York while several other members scattered to their homes. All eleven will be present tomorrow except Judge William S. Kenyon of Fort Dodge, Ia., whose court room duties will prevent him from returning.

While the meetings of the first week were devoted largely to discussion it is expected that beginning tomorrow the commission will get down to the task of digesting and summarizing the reports of its experts which have accumulated during the summer and to the assignment of particulars phases of the report.

PROPOSE CENSUS OF CITY JOBLESS AS RELIEF STEP

Association of Commerce Ponders Project.

A city census of unemployed, a step which public officials and both industrial and labor leaders have declared essential to the organization of effective relief in the present business depression, is under consideration by the Chicago Association of Commerce. If, the necessary machinery can be set up, the census may be broadened to cover the state.

Plans for the census were revealed last night by Clifford W. Barnes, chairman of the Association of Commerce committee on civic affairs. Mr. Barnes, with Charles W. Bergquist, is co-author of a program of employment relief submitted to Gov. Emmerson on Monday at his conference on the problem at the Hotel La Salle.

Plan Put Up to Association.

Whether the Association of Commerce will sponsor and finance the Chicago unemployment census will be discussed at a meeting of his committee today, Mr. Barnes said. The question will be passed on by the association's executive committee, which meets tomorrow.

"Quick action may be obtained by sending questionnaires to employers, asking them to indicate their present employment as compared with normal," Mr. Barnes said. "The facts having been obtained, it will be necessary to register the unemployed, so that, in the matter of job finding, preference may be given to heads of families and legitimate residents of the city over the habitually unemployed, who will flock here when relief measures are taken.

"How this registration is to be made has not been decided, but it would seem logical to set up numerous registration places throughout the city. For the state registration the cooperation of the Illinois department of labor would be invaluable."

Governor Plans His Committee.

Gov. Emmerson was engaged yesterday in drafting the list of his unemployment committee which, it was understood, will include 25 bankers and industrial leaders. The committee list is to be ready for publication this morning, according to one of the governor's aids.

Among those reported to have been approached by Gov. Emmerson were Col. A. A. Sprague, William Wrigley Jr., George F. Getz, Charles A. McCulloch, John Hertz, Eugene M. Stevens, and Samuel Insull Jr.

Three men, known to have accepted appointment, are James Simpson, chairman of the board of Marshall Field & Co.; James E. Gorman, president of the Rock Island railroad, and Britton I. Budd, president of the Chicago Rapid Transit company and other utilities. Mr. Barnes is also a member.

Tells of State Created Jobs.

Speaking over THE TRIBUNE radio station, W-G-N, last night, Gov. Emmerson outlined what the state had done to create jobs during his administration and pledged that more would be accomplished next year. For erecting new and rebuilding old state institutions, the governor said, Illinois had spent $14,000,000 during this biennium, $10,000,000 of this sum being used for new structures for the department of public welfare.

Before winter sets in, Mr. Emmerson estimated, the state will have provided 13,000 jobs on the program of adding 830 miles of new pavements and 150 new bridges to the state highway system. While winter will bring a halt to highway construction, an expenditure of $30,000,000 for new roads and of $15,000,000 on contracts carried over from 1930 is planned for next year, beginning in early spring.

While the governor made no comment on the employment relief program proffered by the Association of Commerce, a spokesman for the association declared he had privately expressed approval.

In addition to the census taking, the program calls for enlistment of employers in a general agreement to curtail the working hours of their present forces and hire new men to share available jobs. The sponsors also ask that "a sincere effort be made to begin work upon major public improvements, for which funds have already been provided."

In connection with the city's projected public improvement, the new $14,000,000 postoffice, Patrick F. Sullivan, president of the Chicago Building Trades council, yesterday wrote to Postmaster General Brown at Washington, pleading that work on the structure be started immediately.

"Thousands of men now out of employment will be faced with one of the hardest winters in many years," Mr. Sullivan pointed out. "It is estimated that 5,000 men will be needed for the postoffice construction. If this number can be put to work at once it will not only materially aid in construction work, but indirectly will help thousands of others through whom these men will spend their earnings. Will you give this matter consideration so that thousands of laboring men may be put to work at once?"

80,000 Building Men Idle.

Eighty thousand of the 120,000 men affiliated with the building trades council are now trudging the streets in search of work, Mr. Sullivan said. Each is the wage earner for a family, and many of them, owning their own homes, will have to borrow to pay taxes and buy fuel for the winter.

An immediate start on the postoffice, for which congress appropriated the money several years ago, would produce a daily pay roll of $50,000 to the building trades alone, Mr. Sullivan said, adding: "I went to Washington four weeks ago to try to push the postoffice project and won a promise of cooperation from Secretary of Labor Davis, but got only vaguely polite expressions elsewhere."

Church Group to Help.

Religious organizations took a hand yesterday in grappling with the unemployment problem. James Mullenbach, chairman of the industrial relations committee of the Chicago Church federation, announced his committee was working on plans for cooperation with existing relief agencies and for independent action.

"Our principal concern will be with families of which the bread winner has lost his job," said Mr. Mullenbach. "These will be hardest hit, for many of them are too proud to seek aid through public charities. From the pulpits ministers can instruct their congregations to be alert in finding jobs for the unemployed and can urge wealthy parishioners to exercise a spirit of Christmas charity in giving to worthy charities."

The Rev. David Gibson, head of the Cathedral Shelter of the Episcopal church, where 80 homeless men are fed and sheltered nightly, proposed a day of prayer which, he said, would move those in easy circumstances to sympathy for the less fortunate.

"The unemployment problem is international and the whole word at this time needs more of the spirit of brotherly love," he said.

WOMAN WILL FEED 20 JOB HUNTERS AT HER CAFE EACH DAY

Mother Greenstein has her own plan for relief of the unemployed.

She made it known last night by announcing that, until prosperity returns, she will serve 40 free meals each day to jobless men seeking work.

Mother Greenstein hoped that every restaurant owner in Chicago, of whom she is one, would do the same thing, and asserted that if her plan was adopted generally Chicago and the unfortunate job hunter would be relieved of a serious problem.

Mother Greenstein is the proprietress of a small café at 704 South Wabash avenue. There, every morning at 8 o'clock, she is to provide a breakfast for 20 job hunters, to give them "an incentive to hunt work." And every evening at 5 o'clock she will serve dinner to the same 20 unless some of them find success during the day, in which event their places will be filled.

After 20 years in the restaurant business, Mother Greenstein said she would be able to tell the unfortunate job hunter from the professional bum.

SEPTEMBER DATA SHOW INCREASE IN EMPLOYMENT

Bureau of Labor Reports Statistics.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—An upward trend in employment was shown today in monthly figures of the bureau of labor statistics of the department of labor. Employment in September was 1 per cent greater than in August, while pay roll totals were 1.4 per cent greater.

The percentages were based on returns made by 40,775 establishments in thirteen major industrial groups which had in September 4,835,873 employés whose combined earnings in one week were $121,664,306.

Increased employment was shown in September in four of the thirteen industrial groups. Manufacturing industries, one of the thirteen groups, showed a decrease of 0.3 per cent in employment, but an increase of 0.4 per cent in pay roll totals.

The four groups which showed increases were canning and preserving, which reached what usually is the industry's peak, with an increase of 32.8 per cent; anthracite mining and bituminous coal mining, which showed the effect of autumn demands with increases of 17 per cent and 1.5 per cent respectively, and retail trade, which responded to the autumn season with an increase of 7.5 per cent.

Within the manufacturing group increased employment was shown in food, textile, chemical, and tobacco. Decreases which helped to make the aggregate falling off in the manufacturing group were reported in lumber, vehicles, and iron and steel.

GIRL IS SOUGHT AS WITNESS IN EMMETT KILLING

Assistant State's Attorney Nat Ruvell obtained two clews last night which may throw light upon the murder of Dave Emmett, southside gambler, who was shot to death late Monday while he was driving in front of 4728 Ingleside avenue. An inquest into his death yesterday was continued to Oct. 28 to allow the prosecutor's office and the police time to investigate.

Last night Mr. Ruvell said he had learned that at about 10 p. m. Monday Emmett was with a young woman entertainer from the Midnight Frolics, Twenty-second street night club. The girl's name was given as Lynn Dyce and she was said to have been riding along the south outer drive with Emmett until shortly after 10 o'clock. Ruvell said he would attempt to question her today.

A man whose name Ruvell refused to disclose also told the prosecutor that Emmett had recognized his assassin as a hoodlum who had tried to force him to pay a $1,000 hospital bill a short time ago. The assassin leaped on the gambler's car with an oath. Emmett replied in kind and tried to dodge, but the fatal bullet found its mark. Frank Emmett told the coroner's jury yesterday that his brother's receipts sometimes reached $1,000 per day.

REDS AND POLICE BATTLE OUTSIDE LABOR SESSIONS

Five Hour Day Decision Delayed for Year.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—A communist demonstration several hundred feet from the American Federation of Labor convention hall in the Hotel Bradford today resulted in the arrest of five women and nine men after what the police said was probably the worst riot that this city has seen since the I. W. W. riot of 1917.

In the melee, Police Captain Jeremiah Gallivan was cut on the hand, and his blackjack stolen, while other policemen were bitten, scratched and pummelled by the communists. The demonstrators were knocked down by clubs and blackjacks freely swung in the hands of policemen and detectives who responded to a riot call.

Police Reserves Called.

The trouble began shortly after a truck loaded with communists drew up across the street from the labor convention hall. Men and women began handing out placards and the driver of the truck ignored the police order to show his license. When a policeman jumped on the truck to push the driver into the street he was set upon and in a bad way for a few minutes until fellow policemen inside the convention hall rushed to his rescue and called for the reserves. The latter charged the crowd of 300 communists, dragging them singly into patrol wagons.

The communists darted in and out of the crowd shouting their slogans of "Work or Wages" and the crowd booed and jeered. Whenever a policeman seized one of the communists shrilling women would pounce on him and bite and kick. They continued hurling imprecations at the police and the American Federation of Labor even when they were thrown into the police vans. No attempt was made by the communists to enter the convention hall, from which some of them had been turned away last week.

Delay 5 Hour Day Decision.

Consideration of the five hour day was the principal business of the convention today. The resolution of the metal trades department, reported upon by the committee on shorter work day, reviewed the progress of industry in recent years and called for the establishment of the basic five hour day with provision for two or more five hour shifts where necessary for industries on continuous production.

The committee reported that the shorter work week was necessary but in view of the tremendous economic and social questions involved in its establishment proposed that the executive council give the matter its immediate consideration, "secure all available statistical information related to the problem," and then report to next year's convention on how short, in its opinion, the work day should be. Labor is already pledged to the five day week.

Point to Changed Production.

"While this shortening of the work day may seem a radical change, it fails to parallel the drastic change which has taken place in industry which has so enormously increased per capita production," the committee report stated.

The committee was of the opinion that it was no longer possible to consider the length of the work day from the same basis which the labor movement viewed the establishment of the ten hour day and later the nine and eight hour day.

Resolutions adopted today were concerned with age retirement of postoffice workers, modernization of battleships, the four hour day on Saturday for federal employés, restriction of employment in navy machine shops to civilian workers, and the passage of the Welch bill barring Filipino immigration to the United States.

TRIAL OF BELL IN CAFE MURDER CASE IS DELAYED

The case of Frank H. Bell, charged with the murder of Christ Patras, manager of the Cafe Villa Rica at 2572 North Clark street, was continued by Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday until Oct. 21. Bell has also made a confession in which he stated he took part in the murder of Alfred Lingle, and this confession is under investigation by the coroner's office.

In both murders Bell named Richard Sullivan one of his accomplices. The Patras murder was cleared up as a result of Bell's confessions, and Sullivan was apprehended and indicted with Bell for the crime.

Sullivan yesterday demanded a separate trial. His attorney announced that Sullivan repudiated Bell's confession. Judge Sabath said he would rule on Sullivan's motion when the case is called again on Oct. 21.

140,000 BERLIN WORKERS GO OUT ON STRIKE TODAY

Reject 6 Per Cent Cut in Wages.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—The metal workers union has ordered 140,000 of its men in plants in and near Berlin to strike tomorrow in protest against the decision of the government arbitrator, who ordered a 6 per cent cut in their wages. Six thousand of them, led by communists, started the strike today.

The labor minister today said he was still waiting for a reply from the employers' association to the decision of the arbitrator. After he receives it, he said, he will call in the labor union leaders in an endeavor to induce them to resume negotiations with the employers.

Although the labor union's order for th strike went out to all organizations, it is understood that the workers will join the strike only gradually t prevent the use of unemployed as strikebreakers.

Sentences ranging from three weeks to six months were imposed tonight on fourteen of those arrested during yesterday's orgy of window smashing and rioting, after a twelve hour trial. Three were freed. A total of twenty-three had been held for trial. Eighty-three others who had been arrested were not held because of lack of evidence.

All those arrested had insisted they were only taking a little stroll when the police seized them. Forty policemen and ten civilians, however, are ready to testify against them.

Fascist leaders here disclaim any connection with the window smashers, asserting that they were Red agents and agitators using Fascist slogans to incite the mob to systematically organized riots to discredit the Fascisti.

The presence of a Fascist minister from the state of Brunswick, Dr. Franzen, was noted by the police at the scene of the riots yesterday.

Potsdamerplatz and Leipzigerstrasse were packed with sightseers all day. Youthful rowdies repeatedly tried to start new riots, but they attempts were immediately quelled by police.

2 Fined for Killing Wild Geese with Army Plane

Leavenworth, Kas., Oct. 14.—(AP)—Two army officers charged with killing wild geese with an airplane pleaded guilty to violation of the federal game laws and were fined $25 each in federal court today. The officers, Capt. Reuben Kyle Jr. and Capt. Robin A. Day, pursued a flock of geese and killed several with the propeller of the plane while they were stationed at Fort Leavenworth last May.

REGULAR POSTAL STAFF NOT CUT, OFFICIAL SAYS

First Assistant Postmaster General Arch Coleman, who left Chicago Monday after studying the mail service since its reorganization, announced that, contrary to some reports, no regular employés have been or will be laid off. He defended the reduction of deliveries from five to three a day in business districts.

"We cannot discharge postal employés without some just cause," said Mr. Coleman. "The civil service takes care of that."

Mr. Coleman said that the reduction of deliveries was found necessary because of a falling off in the amount of mail received—about 10 per cent less than last year—and because there was virtually no mail to deliver on the fourth and fifth rounds.

Orders Maj. Owen's Son to Get Job or Go to Jail

Sherwood Owen, 21 year old son of Maj. Percy B. Owen, former prohibition director for the Illinois area, yesterday was ordered by Superior Judge John J. Sullivan to find a job by Oct. 24 or go to jail for his failure to pay alimony to his former wife, Mrs. Virginia Owen, 2544 Bennett avenue. Owen is said to be $425 in arrears in his alimony payments. His father appeared in court and declared his son is too ill to work. The Owens were divorced last April when Mrs. Owen testified her husband tied her to a bed and beat her. Owen lives at 6214 Winthrop avenue.

BONDS FOR PAIR ARE $100,000.

Frank Muccenski, 44 West 42d place, and Joseph Chapleck, 2214 West 47th place, were held to the grand jury and their total bonds were fixed at $100,000 yesterday when they were arraigned in the Boy's court on five charges of robbery. The pair were arrested on Friday.

RALPH CAPONE LISTS ERRORS IN TAX CONVICTION

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday approved a bill of exceptions and assignment of errors presented on behalf of Ralph J. Capone who plans an appeal from his conviction and sentence to three years in the penitentiary on charges of evading income taxes.

The bills comprise almost 1,000 typewritten pages and 187 assignments of error. Capone's appeal probably will be heard by the Appellate court in January.

Capone's attorneys, George N. Murdock and Dennis M. Kelleher, object chiefly to the admission of testimony by saloonkeepers that they wrote checks which found their way into the gangster's bank accounts.

HOODLUM CHIEFS SPEND UNHAPPY DAY IN COURTS

Barker, White, Maddox Go Back to Cells.

opinion that Barker ought to be in the penitentiary."

"At least put him in the county jail where he'll have a bed to sleep in and food to eat instead of having to sit up nights on a hard bench in the Lawndale station," asked Attorney Milton D. Smith.

"He can stand a few more days of that sort of hardship," answered the court. He postponed the hearing until tomorrow.

Two assistant state's attorneys will go to Peoria to examine the files in Judge Greene's court, it was announced.

The gun toting true bills against Barker and White were based upon their arrest Sunday as they sat armed with loaded revolvers in an automobile in Cicero. The two also await trials as vagrants before Judge Edgar A. Jonas.

Assistant State's Attorney Harry Ditchburne said he had what he regarded as a "perfect hanging case" against White as a result of new developments in ballistics evidence. White was once convicted of the murder of Patrolman Pflaume, but gained a reversal of the sentence in the Supreme court and the case was never brought to trial again.

Sammons in High Court.

Meanwhile, down at Springfield, James Fur Sammons, the fourth member of the quartet of gunmen, listened to attorneys argue before the Supreme court his plea for reduction of the $50,000 bond set by Judge Lyle in a vagrancy case.

Sammons' attorneys had asked for the bail reduction, asserting that Judge Lyle's action in the case was "a flagrant violation of the federal constitution and the law, no parallel of which can be found since the infamous Jeffreys disgraced the bench of England and trampled on the rights of Englishmen."

The reply of the state's attorney was that the state constitution is silent on the subject of excessive bail and that the federal constitution refers only to federal courts. He declarad that Sammons' criminal record, which includes a conviction for murder and many robberies, warrants the bail fixed by Judge Lyle.

"The condition of the public mind in Cook county," the prosecutor declared, "and the unusual criminal conditions existing there at this time are entirely brought about by the relator, Sammons, and a few bad criminals of his like, who live in utter disregard of all law and decency.

"These gangsters hope and expect that they may have the benefit of the most conservative and reactionary opinions and ideas whenever they run afoul of those charged with the keeping of the peace and order of society and trust that none will ever realize that times are changing and that this is a different day and age."

The Supreme court will decide on the petition this morning.

PROTESTS BAR'S FAILURE TO BACK LYLE FOR BENCH

F. W. Lietzow, a member of the September grand jury, yesterday addressed a letter to Attorney Francis X. Busch, who is a past president of the Chicago Bar association, protesting against the failure of the association to indorse Municipal Judge John H. Lyle for reelection. The letter, it was reported, was turned over to the board of governors.

"I just notice from the press reports that 'thumbs down' has been declared on Judge Lyle by the bar association," the letter says. "I also note from the reports that my old friend, Roger Sherman, was evidently chairman of the committee handing down this report.

"It just happens that I was privileged to be a member of the September grand jury. It also just happened that the only bright spot the September jury encountered in its conscientious effort to annihilate crime in this city was Judge Lyle."

REVEAL 'PARDON RACKET' PREYING ON CONVICTS' KIN

Board Told of Fees Paid on 'Fixing' Promises.

Methods used to collect money from relatives of convicts on the representation that influence could be brought to obtain early pardons or paroles were exposed to the Illinois board of pardons and paroles in Springfield yesterday. Chairman W. C. Jones of the board announced that proceedings would be started at once against "unscrupulous shysters" who indulge in this practice.

State's Attorney Swanson and the Chicago Bar association will be asked to discipline attorneys who take contingent fees by representing that they are able to influence the granting of pardons and paroles, it was announced by Mr. Jones. Evidence of such methods was given to the board yesterday in connection with two specific cases.

Tell of Prisoner's Case.

The first case called to the attention of the board is that involving Sarah Goldstein, who is serving a term in the Bridewell. Mrs. Mary Merner and Isadore Levy told the board members of their efforts to obtain the release of the prisoner.

They charged that they employed an attorney and also another man. It was agreed that $2,500 be placed in escrow, they testified, to effect the release of the prisoner. Mrs. Merner said she was told that $1,500 of the money was to go to Judge Harry B. Miller and the remainder to the pardon board.

"The story is preposterous," said Mr. Jones after hearing the testimony. "Any one who knows Judge Miller knows that even an intimation of the payment of money for such a thing would result in the person making the advance being sent to jail at once. Any one who approached members of this board with a bribe would also be arrested.

"We don't object to reputable attorneys appearing before this board and charging their clients a reasonable fee, but we are going to try to stop these shysters. Any one who is taking more than a fair fee on the ground that with it he can exert undue influence and fix the board, is deliberately lying."

The pardon in the case was not forthcoming nor was a promised $1,500 refund, Levy told the board.

Say They Paid $6,000.

In the second case called to the attention of the board between $6,000 and $8,000 was paid out, it was charged. In this case, it is alleged, the name of Mayor Thompson was used in order to give the impression that influence would be used to get a pardon.

Elmer Schuedter, who is serving a sentence for murder, is the man whose release was sought. He has been a convict since 1916. The convict's mother and his sister, Mrs. Elsie Williams, produced receipts to show that they have paid out between $6,000 and $8,000 to procure a pardon or a parole, neither of which has been granted. They said that one attorney asked for a $600 payment on account and another $1,500 in escrow. The victims said they were told that the latter sum was to be paid to persuade Mayor Thompson to exert his influence.

"The representations in this case are just as false as in the other," said Mr. Jones. "The relatives are so anxious to do something for the convicts that they believe most anything told to them by the unscrupulous lawyers and racketeers."

BULLET RIDDLED "LEGS" DIAMOND HAS A RELAPSE

New York, Oct. 14.—[Special.]—The tubercular and bullet pierced lungs of Racketeer Jack [Legs] Diamond suffered a collapse this afternoon and the surgeon's words issuing from the Polyclinic hospital tonight indicated the Sunday morning shooting in the Monticello hotel was about to become a murder.

"Patient's condition critical. There has been a pulmonary collapse," came the bulletin.

Meanwhile, the missing star witness, John M. Ginsburg, dapper little manager of the Monticello, who had laid the wounded gangster on his own bed and then vanished from the hotel almost as quickly as did the smoke from the assassins' pistols that shot Diamond four times, gave himself up to District Attorney Crain through his attorney, Hyman Bushel.

He, Too, Knows Little.

Mr. Ginsburg contributed a considerable share to the large supply of apparent ignorance already gleaned from the several persons who were at the scene immediately before and after the shooting.

Yet Ginsburg did contribute a new name to the inquiry, that of one Harry Drescher, who was staying at the hotel.

"Get Harry Drescher up here," Diamond told Ginsburg as he collapsed on the hotel manager's bed, and Ginsburg did.

"Who done it?" Drescher asked Diamond, but Ginsburg says he heard no answer. There Drescher fades out of the Ginsburg story, but he assumed immediate importance in the schedules of searching detectives.

Ginsburg denied having seen the gunmen, but admitted he had heard the eight or ten shots. He was arrested as a material witness and held in $25,000 bail.

Four Others Are Held.

Four other witnesses were held in $5,000 bail. They were Miss Marion Roberts, the Ziegfeld show girl who was with Diamond at the hotel on the day of the shooting, and three employés of the hotel—Joseph Goldie, assistant manager; Thomas Marshal, clerk, and John Hughes, bell boy. None had been able to furnish bail late tonight.

The police did not appear greatly excited by reports that Al Capone, the Chicago gangster, had been in New York last Saturday, a day prior to the shooting of Diamond. Capone and Diamond are rated as enemies, due to clashes in the Brooklyn beer running and slot machine rackets.

TEN HIGH SCHOOL R. O. T. C. CADETS WIN PROMOTION

Maj. F. L. Beals, in charge of R. O. T. C. training in Chicago high schools, yesterday announced ten promotions, the highest rank bestowed being that of cadet colonel on Ernest Martin, 6322 Wayne avenue, Senn High school senior. The others promoted are Edwin Merkel, Lindblom High school; Robert Spitzel, Calumet High school; Charles Morton, Hyde Park High school, and Fred Eisman, Schurz High school, lieutenant colonels; Stanley Weinberg, Lake View High school; William Ruscamp, Calumet High school; Oscar Reich, Lake View High school; Harold Goldstein, Englewood High school, and Jack Press, Lake View High school, cadet majors.

STATE IS READY FOR FRAUD TRIAL OF MATT FOLEY

Fake Lottery Case to Be Called Today.

Matt Foley, who is charged with operating a fake lottery on the Kentucky Derby while an assistant circulation manager on the Herald and Examiner, can have a trial today in Judge Sabath's Criminal court if he so desires.

Assistant State's Attorney Walker Butler, who is in charge of the prosecution, said he is ready to proceed to trial today when the case is scheduled to appear on call for the first time since Foley's arrest.

State Ready for Trial.

The prosecutor said that as far as he has been informed Foley has not retained an attorney. If such is the case, he said, Foley would be entitled to a short continuance if he makes a demand for one. Butler, however, said that he would object to any lengthy continuance.

"The state is ready to proceed at once," he said. "If Foley and his codefendants are ready we will be able to start the trial today, providing, of course, it is agreeable with the judge."

Indicted with Two Others.

Foley is indicted jointly with Hyman Goodman, at the time of the alleged lottery a driver for the Herald and Examiner, and Leo H. Schoemer, a former railroad employé. They are charged with conspiracy to obtain money by fraud through the operation of a fake lottery.

The state charges that Foley and his associates had a scheme to issue 50,000 tickets on a horse not expected to run in the Derby. The tickets announced that if the horse did not run the purchaser lost his money while if the horse did run a $50 prize was to be paid. The horse did run and it is charged that Foley failed to make good on the tickets, which were distributed, it is charged, through Examiner drivers.

FORCED TO OPEN SAFE, LOOT $300.

Forcing the manager, M. Gaylord McMurray, to open a safe in the drug store at 6736 Sheridan road, two armed bandits yesterday seized $300 and escaped after locking McMurray in a rear room.

$120,000 IS LEFT TO CHARITY BY M'CAMMON WILL

Bequests of $120,000 to charity are made in the will of George H. McCammon, railway supply dealer, which was admitted to probate yesterday by Edwin S. Scheffler, assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner. Mr. McCammon, a bachelor, died on Oct. 6 at the Illinois Athletic club, where he lived. His estate is valued at $1,000,000.

Eleven cousins are left $50,000. The charitable bequests are: United Charities, $25,000; Boy Scouts of America, $25,000; American Red Cross, $10,000; Young Men's Christian Association of Chicago, $10,000; Oak Haven Old People's home, $25,000; Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, $10,000; Jackson Park-La Rabida sanitarium, $10,000; the St. Anthony Park Congregational church of St. Paul, Minn., $5,000.

The remainder of the estate is left in trust for Mrs. E. C. Flagg of St. Paul, a cousin, and Mrs. M. A. James of the Pearson hotel, 190 East Pearson street. Upon their deaths, under the terms of the will, the income of the trust fund will go to the Chicago Memorial hospital.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

LOTTIE O'NEILL'S NAME IS PLACED 4TH ON BALLOT

Officials Amazed at List of Candidates.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, dry independent, was given fourth place among the candidates for United States senator on the Nov. 4 ballot. With the proposed income tax amendment occupying the first column, her name will head the fifth column.

This order was determined upon yesterday at a conference between County Clerk Sweitzer and the election commissioners, the former having control of the ballot in the country towns, the latter ordering the printing for the city and five of its suburbs. It had been agreed in advance that uniformity in the ballots throughout the county was desirable and the final decision as to the placement of columns was made jointly.

Mrs. O'Neill's Name Advanced.

In this way Mrs. O'Neill's name is well advanced on the ballot in comparison with where her name was certified by Secretary of State Stratton—seventh place. The secretary's list was based on the order in which the names were entered upon his records.

County Clerk Sweitzer and the commissioners, Chairman Fred V. Maguire, Harry A. Lipsky and Mrs. Mabel Gilmore Reinecke, declared themselves amazed by the size of the ballot as it was brought before them in proof form. It was estimated that in most of the senatorial districts within the city it will be approximately 38 by 40 inches in size.

But the officials' comment also was directed to the unusual miscellany of column headings. In some districts there will be 15 such headings. Following the captions "Democratic," "Republican," "Socialist," and "Independent," under the last of which will appear Mrs. O'Neill's name, there will be these labels: Liberty; Anti-League World Court, Anti-Foreign Entanglements; Peace and Prosperity; American National; Communist.

And in some districts, usually with only one candidate's name in the long column, will appear these additional headings:

Lower Taxes and More Efficient Government.

Protect Depositors, Abolish Bank Failures.

Square Deal!

Lower Taxes and Independent Representation.

In one senatorial district there will be two more "Independent" columns.

The conferees, it was said, agreed that the legislature next year will be asked to prevent a repetition of this situation in future elections.

First, they said, the requirements concerning the number of signatures for independent petitions are too lax. a citizen may file for even a state office upon 100 signatures. Second, they said, the larger counties, particularly Cook, should have been excluded from the provision of the 1927 primary law permitting a "convention caucus or meeting" to nominate one or more tickets. One complete ticket is said to have been the fruit of a meeting attended by only a handful of people.

Opens G. O. P. Headquarters.

Two Republican county headquarters openings were celebrated yesterday. There was a large reception for the county board and sanitary district tickets at Metropolitan block offices opened by two citizens' Republican committees. Among the leaders of the committees are Foster Nims, Willis O. Nance, Felix A. Norden, Harry Eugene Kelly, Howard W. Elmore, Rush C. Butler, Wallace G. Clark, and J. P. Griffin.

The Illinois Republican Service Men's league, a state organization, opened its headquarters at 100 North La Salle street.

Graham Taylor, head of Chicago Commons, made public an indorsement of the work of President Cermak of the county board, a candidate for reelection.

MRS. M'CORMICK'S EXPENSES ASSAILED BY MRS. O'NEILL

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, independent Republican candidate for United States senator from Illinois, spoke here at the county court house tonight. About 500 heard her.

Mrs. O'Neill touched on the campaign expenses of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick and said: "There is a great probability that she will not be seated if elected. The enormous sums she has expended are almost double the amount Senator Newberry of Michigan spent, he being charged with only $195,000, yet he was rejected by the senate.

"I am opposed to the domination of the rest of the state by Cook county.

"I think the course of the Cook county machine and Chicago on the tax revision and the capture of the state convention by the wets, and the course of Cook county in opposing Gov. Emmerson's tax reform efforts, a menace to the state.

"Mrs. McCormick in abandoning the principle of prohibition and surrendering to the city hall gang and corrupt elements of Cook county, has shown herself unworthy of the support of the people.

"Control of the state by Cook county does not mean well for southern Illinois and the efforts of Gov. Emmerson to secure reform of tax laws, and is a menace to the rights of the people."

E. C. Mullen Re-elected as Grand Master of Masons

Edward C. Mullen, 1033 Ontario street, Oak Park, was reelected grand master of the Masons of Illinois yesterday at the annual meeting of the grand lodge in the Masonic temple, 32 West Randolph street. Mr. Mullen has served a year in the office. Other officers elected were Dr. G. Haven Stephens of Danville, deputy grand master; William H. Zarley of Joliet, senior grand warden, and Grover C. Niemeyer of Chicago, junior grand warden. Gov. Emmerson, a former grand master, attended the meeting.

PLOT TO STEAL ELECTION FROM HIM, LEWIS SAYS

Tells De Kalb Leaders to Watch for Tricks.

De Kalb, Ill., Oct. 14.—(AP)—James Hamilton Lewis told Democratic workers of De Kalb county today there is a deliberate conspiracy afoot to steal votes for United States senator. The Democratic senatorial nominee said that, if an honest vote were cast today, he would receive a majority of 200,000.

Mr. Lewis urged his listeners to take particular caution in seeing that election judges who sit as Democrats are really Democrats who will see the ballots are counted fairly. He then named De Kalb county in particular as one of several in which, he said, an attempt would be made to get the Republican and Democratic poll watchers together, giving so-called Democrats petty favors in return. He listed 14 counties where he said the plot was afoot.

The Democratic standard bearer traced the history of the trade movement, which he said started in the last century. He asserted every one knew Tilden was "counted out" in the presidential election of 1876, and McKinley was not really elected President in 1896.

McKinley's election could be traced to the manipulation of 25,000 votes in three states, Mr. Lewis said. The same system is to be attempted this year, Mr. Lewis said, to try to cheat him out of Republican votes. He said there were certain counties, ordinarily Republican, listed as places where such trading can be done.

The method, he said, was to have selected as Democratic election judges persons who would wink at ballot changes and juggling of figures with the understanding they would be rewarded with such offices as deputy sheriff and coroner.

"In cheating the Democratic nominee of his just votes in such Republican communities," Mr. Lewis continued, "it is hoped to wipe out the majority piled up for me in counties which cannot be manipulated."

The Democratic candidate said Republicans throughout the state were turning against the administration and preparing to vote for him. Some, he declared, "because they are tired of the lepers who have made their political house unclean," and others because of the Democratic plank for home rule.

In addition, Lewis said, "there never was a time when the spirit of independence and democracy in the heart of free citizens was so aroused as it is now."

KNOWING MULES HELPS BYRNE GET ON IN POLITICS

Candidate Finds Lessons in Teamster Days.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

All's grist that comes to the wise man's mill, as Sancho observed, and Ald. Thomas F. Byrne learned his first lesson in the technique of politics as a mule skinner in a coal mine. Ald. Byrne, known as the philosopher-wit of the city council, is a Democratic candidate for sanitary district trustee.

He started his career at the age of 11 as a breaker boy at the mines at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and after a while worked as a mule driver in the pits, with a lamp in his cap.

"I drove a three mule team," Tom is fond of saying, "and sometimes they'd split into three different political factions and try to go in three different directions. One mule would try to go forward and another backward and the third would stand still, to status quo, as the saying is.

Arbitration for Mules.

"Then it was a matter of arbitrating the case and getting them all to pulling together. Patience and the proper kind of reasoning always did the trick. I maintain that anybody who has learned how to harmonize three mules with conflicting opinions has a training that often comes in handy in politics. Thus nothing good you learn in life is wasted."

To give point to Tom's reflections, he has been an alderman for fifteen years and never had an enemy in the council.

After ten years in the mines Mr. Byrne came to Chicago in 1895 and got a job as tow boy, not on the old canal, but at the south side street car barns. He swiftly advanced to the job of lighting fires and starting cars from the 77th street barns and got to be a conductor. He was elected secretary of Division 260 of the street car men's union for three years, and on resigning went into the plumbing business with his brother at 69th street and Ashland avenue.

Political Debut in 1914.

He launched himself into politics in 1914, and ran for state senator in the Englewood district against Percival G. Baldwin and came so close to winning that the election was tied up several months in a contest in the senate. After that he ran for alderman in 1918 in the old Twenty-ninth ward, now the Fifteenth, and has been elected seven times. His majorities have kept growing until last year he rolled up 13,635 votes in the February election, the largest vote given any candidate in any ward that day, and won by 9,600 plurality.

Byrne's Irish wit soon became known as a refreshing breeze in the council. One day he engaged in debate with a west side alderman and his arguments seemed to be over the head of his adversary. "I don't understand you," shouted the opponent. "Play out farther and jump for them," retorted Byrne. "I'm hitting them away out today."

Byrne put in the smoke abatement ordinance and pushed it through and was the first to introduce a measure for showers from the fire hydrants for children in the hot weather. As chairman of the police and fire committee, he regards as his greatest accomplishment the reformation of the police pension system.

Reputation as Humorist.

Without being a wise cracker, Byrne soon built up a reputation for humor and homely philosophy. For years he and his old pal, Ald. John Toman, had a friendly duel of wits that kept the council anterooms in a guffaw, and a daily diversion of the politicians was to listen to them lambast each other. Pompous aldermen given to resonant mouth filling phrases were meat to Byrne, who took them off, to the merriment of the galleries.

One day an obstructionist opposed one of Byrne's pet measures. "Some men are like my old mules in the coal mines," shouted Tom. "Turn them loose in a field of clover and they start eating the barbed wire fence."

On another occasion an alderman, a former librarian, in the heat of debate shouted that he was not interested in Byrne's arguments, that "I'm not curious to know any more."

"Ha," cried Byrne, "the gentleman worked 20 years in a library and never read a book. He was never curious enough to look inside a cover."

Another time somebody passed a jeer on the floor concerning Byrne's racial stock, the mule skinning and wheelbarrow pushing.

"Well," rejoined Tom, "after my ancestors invented the wheelbarrow the gentleman's ancestors came out of the trees and learned to walk upright pushing it. We made men of them, and now he reproaches us."

Gains Power in Council.

These sallies don't sound so hot in print, but they brought the laughs at the hall, and built up Byrne's reputation for swiftness in repartee. Sting and rancor were absent, no sores were left and Byrne developed into one of the influential members of the council, and the M. V. L. in 1927 said he was "constantly becoming a more valuable alderman."

During Byrne's fight against the smoke nuisance, an opponent once interjected: "Yeah, you're not so wise."

"To the blind all cats are gray," retorted Byrne. "It takes a wise man to know a wise man. The man down a well says there is no sun. Some men need fire escapes on their heads to let the ideas climb up."

One of the leading highbrows gave a banquet in honor of Byrne a few years back, and during the festivities Byrne was asked for his philosophy.

"The old philosophers said, 'Know thyself,'" said Tom, "but there's another two word axiom just as important, 'Be yourself.' The greatest type in humankind, I believe, is to be what you are. Good health and good sense are two of life's best blessings, and what really matters is not how long you live but how well. A joyous heart is better than solemnity, and you can give more service on a laugh than on a grouch."

DAUGHERTY TO FACE FRAUD CHARGES IN OHIO ON OCT. 30

Washington Court House, O., Oct. 14.—(AP)—Arraignment of Mal S. Daugherty, brother of former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, on charges of misapplication of bank funds, falsification of statements, and embezzlement, today was tentatively set for Oct. 30.

Daugherty, former president of the defunct Ohio State bank, to which he admitted indebtedness of $77,000, is at liberty under $40,000 bond signed by his brother and his 97 year old mother, Mrs. Jane Daugherty. He was indicted on 58 separate counts by the grand jury yesterday.

PLANT CHANGES FIRING SYSTEM AND ENDS SMOKE

Burn Powdered Coal Now at McCormick Works.

The campaign against Chicago's smoke evil scored a new victory yesterday when a newly adopted system of burning coal was put into operation at the McCormick works of the International Harvester company, Western avenue and Marshall boulevard.

At an expense of nearly a quarter of a million dollars the foundry has installed a new plant for burning pulverized coal and as a result the smoke stacks which formerly belched black clouds of smoke into the sky now send forth only a thin gaseous haze.

Although the plant has not yet been placed in full operation, its benefits are already apparent, according to H. B. Zimmermann, assistant superintendent of the works.

Result of City's Litigation.

The new plant was installed as a result of litigation started by the city, according to Frank A. Chambers, deputy inspector of the bureau of smoke inspection and abatement. The city cited the McCormick works for violation of the smoke ordinance and while the suit was pending the foundry started experiments in fueling processes, and finally installed the present system at an expense of $225,000, Mr. Chambers said.

Hand stoking is eliminated by this process. Instead, the fires are fed with pulverized coal. Through a central control plant the fires are mechanically regulated and the fuel burned in such a way as to provide complete combustion, eliminating both smoke and ashes, and resulting in great economy of fuel.

Coal is dropped from a car into a hopper, ground into small lumps and stored in a large bin, the capacity of which is 750 tons. From this bin the coal is conveyed to the pulverizer. As fuel is needed, the finely pulverized coal is forced through pipes to eight furnaces and two boilers, each equipped with a fuel storage tank.

Fuel Blown Through Nozzle.

From this tank the coal dust is blown into the furnace through a nozzle and the flame is fed in the same manner as in an oil or gas burning furnace.

SAYRE, SLAYER OF FATHER, IS FOUND INSANE

Sydney Sayre, 37 years old, shell shocked aviation lieutenant, who shot and killed his father, Rockwell Sayre, 86 years old, retired real estate operator, was found to be insane yesterday by a jury in Judge McGoorty's Criminal court. He was sent to the Chester asylum for the criminal insane.

It was agreed before the trial by alienists for both sides that Sayre was not responsible for his act because of uncontrollable impulses. The hearing was more or less of a formality because of the agreement of the alienists.

Sayre spurned the assistance of counsel and insisted on representing himself. He talked for more than one hour in asking for the electric chair rather than imprisonment. He shot his father while suffering from a delusion that the aged man was planning an elopement with a nurse who was taking care of his mother.

WIFE TO RECEIVE A DIVORCE FROM JAS. SIMPSON JR.

Superior Judge John J. Sullivan yesterday indicated he would grant a divorce decree to Mrs. Alicia Patterson Simpson of 209 Lake Shore drive, wife of James Simpson Jr., son of the chairman of the board of Marshall Field & Co. At the hearing yesterday Mrs. Simpson testified her husband deserted her on Sept. 29, 1928, one year after their marriage.

Her testimony was supported by her father J. M. Patterson, and by Mrs. Thomas Wheelock of 900 North Michigan avenue. Her attorney, Joseph Fleming of the firm of Kirkland, Fleming, Green & Martin, said a property settlement had been arranged. Mrs. Simpson asked permission to resume her maiden name, Alicia Patterson.

Mr. Simpson was not in court, but was represented by the firm of Wilson, McIlvaine, Hale & Templeton. The Simpsons were married Sept. 28, 1927, at the Patterson country home at Libertyville.

MRS. McCORMICK, GOVERNOR SPEAK TO G. O. P. TODAY

Officials Urge Women to Back Nominee.

Gov. Louis L. Emmerson and Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican nominee for United States senator, will provide the high spots in a women's Republican rally today in the Congress hotel. They will address the eighth annual convention of the Illinois Republican Women's clubs, which will adjourn late today after a two day session.

Mrs. McCormick will speak on "Party Politics in Illinois" at a 1 o'clock luncheon in the hotel. Gladys Pyle, secretary of state in South Dakota, will speak on "A Woman's Campaign for Governor," and Otis F. Glenn, United States senator from Illinois, will speak on "Republicanism in 1930." Gov. Emmerson is expected to speak extemporaneously at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, told representatives of the Republican Women's clubs yesterday that Mrs. McCormick was needed in the United States senate because she would look at conditions "with the eyes of a mother" and regard the country's problems as those of a "nation of homes."

Congressman Carl Chindblom told the women that the coming election would demonstrate the practical worth of women's suffrage.

David E. Shanahan, speaker of the Illinois house of representatives, also urged the support of Mrs. McCormick.

Calls on Women to Vote.

"Now that women have suffrage, there has been the moot question of whether they will avail themselves of it," he said. "As a practical politician, I can tell you that if you women don't elect your candidate, Mrs. McCormick, to the senate, after this men politicians will say, 'Why put a woman on the ticket? Women don't care. They're not interested.'

"The women of Illinois have an opportunity to elect the most experienced, the ablest, and the brainiest woman in politics in the United States."

Oscar De Priest, Negro member of the United States house of representatives, said that women voters could do a great deal to bring about respect for the law, because women "know more about right and wrong than men do."

He emphasized Mrs. McCormick's stand on the prohibition referendum and her willingness to abide by the majority vote on the wet and dry question, praising her impersonal judgment.

The only other discussion of the wet and dry issue came from Congressman Elliott W. Sproul, who said that he was a dry, which remark was received with hand clapping. Mr. Sproul predicted that Mrs. McCormick would win.

Other speakers were Congressmen Morton D. Hull and Fred A. Britten and Burnett Chiperfield, candidate for congress in the 15th district.

Officers Are Named.

Mrs. George R. Dean was reelected president of the Illinois Republican Women's clubs; Mrs. Mark Hirschl, corresponding secretary.

Vice presidents of congressional districts are: Miss Harriet McIntire, Mendota; Mrs. Devore Simonson, Rock Island; Mrs. H. Eugene Chubbuck, Peoria; Mrs. I. N. Cooley, Brocton Mrs. Rose Brooks, Pittsfield; Miss Martha Connole, East St. Louis, and Mrs. Robert M. Dale, McLeansboro.

Vice presidents of the state at large: Miss Hattie Glos, Wayne; Mrs. Florence F. Bohrer, Bloomington; Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, Chicago; Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Byron; Mrs. George T. Palmer, Springfield; Mrs. R. Maynard Reed, Chicago; Mrs. Silas H. Strawn, Chicago; Mrs. H. H. Cleaveland, Rock Island; Mrs. William R. Fringer, Rockford, and Mrs. Harry C. Holloway, Glencoe.

Young Woman Outwits and Escapes Kidnaper

Greenfield, Mo., Oct. 14.—While a posse searched the country for her, Mrs. Alma Wilson McKinley, daughter of Benton Wilson, wealthy oil man and farmer, stumbled through the gate of John Moore's farm near Filley, Mo., this afternoon, after having been released by a kidnaper who held her prisoner for twenty-one hours.

Rain soaked, disheveled and almost famished, the young wife and expectant mother told her story calmly, while her parents wept at the hardships she had undergone. She had walked nine miles through the rain on an outlying highway last night, her kidnaper beside her, sawedoff shotgun in one hand, a suitcase in the other, when she stumbled and fell with fatigue, her captor waited silently for her to arise and walk on. She had only house slippers, and her dress was a thin home casmere.

Talks Him into Freeing Her.

At 1:30 o'clock this morning the kidnaper camped in thick woods near Filley in the rain. She wrapped herself in a tarpaulin he carried, while he sat beside her, demanding $60,000 in ransom. Her father could not pay that, she told him. His money was tied up in land.

By this afternoon she had wheedled her captor down to $10,000 and had promised to have it delivered to him there in the woods if he released her. He did, threatening to kill her if she failed to keep faith. And she was willing to do so. When she was reunited at length with her husband, a young farmer, and her parents, she begged them to give the kidnaper his ransom. A large posse of armed citizens and a pack of bloodhounds from Springfield, Mo., went instead to pay the bill.

From his front porch tonight to a crowd of men gathered there her father announced, "I'll give $500 to the man who kills that fellow. I'll give $1,000 to the man who brings the fellow here for me to kill."

Surprises Women in Home.

At 7 o'clock last night Mrs. McKinley and her mother were sewing in an upstairs room of the Wilson farmhouse on the outskirts of Greenfield. All men in the family were away.

Mrs. McKinley started downstairs. At the stairway a man, a shotgun over his arm, confronted her. Mrs. McKinley screamed and ran to her daughter.

"Up with your hands," said the intruder. "Get your purse and open it."

The purse was empty. The bandit compelled mother and daughter to go downstairs. Still holding the shotgun with one hand, he bound Mrs. Wilson's hands and feet and gagged her. Then he bound the daughter.

"Is that your car at the side of the house?" he asked Mrs. McKinley.

She nodded.

"Can you drive it?"

Frightened, she nodded again.

"Then come on," he said.

Mrs. McKinley said no disrespect was offered by her kidnaper. She is expecting a baby in January.

USE RAILROAD'S TESTIMONY IN FIGHT ON TRACKS

Railroad witnesses admitted yesterday before the Illinois commerce commission that fewer trains are operated at the Dearborn station now than before the annex was built in 1914. Attorneys for the city seized upon this evidence in their opposition to the plea of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad for a commission order to continue service at the station annex. Such an order would nullify the city's notice to the road to remove its tracks in Plymouth court and Taylor street because the franchise has expired.

The city also served notice that it would ask dismissal of the proceedings at the next session on Nov. 7, on the ground that the commission lacks jurisdiction because the road did not appear before it when obtaining the franchise.

WETS' BOLT OF PINCHOT THREAT TO G. O. P. IN 1932

Die Hards Ready to Split Party Open.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Open support of the Democratic gubernatorial candidate in Pennsylvania by Republican wets is being accepted as notice to the Republican leaders in the nation of what may be expected if prohibition is the overshadowing issue in the 1932 Presidential contest.

Whether John M. Hemphill, Democratic-Liberal party candidate for governor against Gifford Pinchot, Republican nominee, wins or loses, the wets expect to roll up such a tremendous vote for him in this banner Republican state as to serve as a warning to those who are seeking to keep the Republican party bone dry in 1932.

The Pennsylvania wet leaders are in the mood to follow their bolt of Pinchot by a bolt of the Republican Presidential nominee in 1932 if the party platform is dry and that of the Democrats is wet.

Atterbury Bolt Economic.

Prohibition is believed to be a factor fully as important as the decision of W. W. Atterbury and other Pennsylvania Republicans to bolt Pinchot on account of his radicalism on public utility and other economic questions.

The policy being pursued by the wet Republican element in Pennsylvania is in line with that which was adopted in the primary fight in May. At that time the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment backed by Thomas W. Phillips for governor against Mr. Pinchot and Francis Shunk Brown, the Vare candidate, and also put Francis H. Bohlen in the field for the Republican senatorial nomination against James J. Davis, the Vare candidate, and Senator Joseph R. Grundy. Each of the wet candidates polled better than a quarter of a million votes.

If Phillips had not been in the field Brown probably would have won, but the latter was not wet enough to suit the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment; now the Vare forces are apparently sorry that they did not make a greater display of their known wetness in the primaries.

Wets Ready to Defeat G. O. P.

In the gubernatorial election contest the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment is perfectly willing to bring about the defeat of the Republicans if by so doing it will demonstrate the strength of wet sentiment within the Republican ranks.

If the Pennsylvania delegation to the Republican national convention in 1932 is actively for a plank in the platform for modification of prohibition laws, it will mean one of the biggest platform fights at any convention of the party for years. The New York delegation, on the basis of the recent declaration of the Republican state convention, will be wet, as will the delegations from several other eastern states, including New Jersey and probably Connecticut and Rhode Island. The wet vote in the recent Republican primaries in Massachusetts was so heavy as to make it possible that state also will send a wet delegation to the national convention.

Roper Deserts Pinchot.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Terming Gifford Pinchot "a fanatical dry," Councilman W. W. Roper, Princeton football coach and former Pinchot supporter, today added his name to the list of Republicans who have announced their support of John M. Hemphill, the Democratic and Liberal parties' candidate for governor.

SUFFRAGISTS URGE ELECTION OF WOMEN TO COUNTY BOARD

A rally of feminism, with such famous women's suffrage workers as Jane Addams, Mary McDowell and Emily Newell Blair taking a leading part, was held yesterday in the Palmer house in honor of the four women candidates for county commissioner on the Democratic ticket.

More than 700 women, representing various clubs, attended the luncheon, which was sponsored by the Women's Committee of All Parties, formed to support the women candidates.

The candidates are Miss Mary McEnerney, vice president of the Illinois Federation of Labor; Miss Amelia Sears, assistant general superintendent of the United Charities of Chicago; Mrs. Glenn E. Plumb, who worked with her late husband on social and legislative problems, and Mrs. Edward J. Fleming, Evanston, the candidate for the country towns.

"We are told now that women have a wide range of opportunities," Mrs. Blair said. "There are 11 million women that you know hold policy making positions? This vote that you women will cast for these four women candidates will be a vote for the widening of women's opportunities.

"Even those women who do not feel that it is more self-respecting to be economically independent than dependent, should realize that they may have granddaughters or great-granddaughters who may need to work."

Miss Addams emphasized the serious question of unemployment, "which overwhelms us all at the present time," and the need of able women on the county board to undertake adequate and scientifically managed county relief.

BOOST LICENSES FOR DRIVERS AT AUTO MEETINGS

The Motorists Association of Illinois held a meeting in the Medinah Athletic club last night in support of a drivers' license law. Dr. John Dill Robertson, former city health officer, presided as safety director of the motorists' association.

Si Mayer, president of the Automobile Club of Illinois, has called a second meeting to be held in the Edgewater Beach hotel tonight.

A statewide conference of civic organizations interested in licensing Illinois motorists will be held in Springfield on Nov. 24 and 25. Secretary of State William J. Stratton has indorsed a license bill.

DRY DOCK DEATH CALLED ACCIDENT.

A verdict of death by accident was returned yesterday at the inquest into the death of Joseph Slubik, 33 years old, who was killed Monday afternoon when he fell 50 feet at the dry dock of the Chicago Ship Building company at 101st street and the Calumet river. Slubik's home was at Carnegie, N. Y.

FOREIGN ROAD EXPERTS TOUR DRIVES OF CITY

One hundred foreign delegates to last week's session in Washington, D. C., of the international road congress spent yesterday as guests of the Chicago Association of Commerce, touring the city's boulevard system, inspecting the grade separations on the outer drives, and admiring major widening projects, such as La Salle street. The visitors represented twenty-one countries. The party of highway administrators and engineers will leave this morning for Wisconsin on a tour through the central west that will bring them back to Detroit for an inspection of the automobile plants.

At a banquet given to the visitors by the Association of Commerce in the Stevens hotel last night Dr. Rudolf Fuchs, director of highways in Baden, Germany, stated that he was particularly impressed with the requirements for safety in Chicago's traffic regulations. He commended the motorists' apparent willingness to adjust themselves to these requirements.

BANDITS ROB WOMAN OF $1,282.

Two bandits obtained $1,282 yesterday when they held up Mrs. Imogene Weidbusch 2407 Orchard street, near the West Side National bank, 1601 West Roosevelt road. Mrs. Wiedbusch is secretary of the Lee Schuenemann company, chain billiard and bowling operators, and the money belonged to her employers.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 14.—The recently deposed Yrigoyen government left a deficit of $251,280,000, according to a report compiled by Minister of Finance Enrique Perez, in connection with drafting the forthcoming budget.

Mass Production now reduces the price

GULISTAN

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

RUG

made in America by Karagheusian

The Gulistan Rug at $150 produced a sweeping nation-wide success—the value was so amazing!

This enormous volume of national demand enables the House of Karagheusian to take advantage of the economies of mass production, which are now passed on to the public.

Therefore the price today is $125 for the 9x12 foot size (other sizes in proportion).

This means that new thousands of families in every city now find Gulistan Rugs within their reach . . . . . Gulistan, the dream of every woman's heart, which reproduces Oriental rug luxury, with its characteristic sheen, in a RELIABLE American product.

BUREAUCRACY STOPS THE WORKS.

The administration at Washington indicates its will to relieve unemployment, stimulate enterprise, and encourage confidence, but that seemingly cannot penetrate bureaucracy itself. Thus the federal government appears to be hampering the things it proposes.

This is shown strikingly to Chicago and Illinois. In the city and in the state there are federal projects demanding immediate attention, irrespective of any emergency economic requirements, but nothing in the importance of the projects themselves or in the exigent circumstances can stimulate the bureaucracy charged with responsibility.

The immediate requirements of the section as regards employment and the future good of the region as regards transportation urge the undertaking of the federal construction in the Illinois waterway at once. It could have been started by now. It could be carried on during the winter, but the obstacles which presented themselves have been allowed to be insurmountable. The war department has been unable to find a way satisfactory to it of getting around the failure of congress to make appropriations immediately available. The department looked at the difficulties and, instead of getting over them, curled up.

Again in the case of the Chicago postoffice a situation is presented in which exigent circumstances and normal needs join in crying for administrative energy and decision which have been lacking for years as to this improvement. The Chicago postoffice offers a complete record of bureaucratic faults so striking as to be illustrative of a system. Even now the faults are apparently in complete control. The department won't snap out of it. It rests under the dead hand of inaction and indecision while the men who could be at work are idle and while the city suffers from the inadequacy, constantly becoming worse, of its mail facilities.

The theory that slack can be taken up by public works and that relief can be had from this reservoir can't survive experience with bureaucracy as revealed here. The personnel of bureaucracy at Washington is untouched by any of the hardships common to other communities. The government pay roll, outside the army and navy, is secure. The bureaucrats pursue the routine of their indifference and incompetence unmoved by appeal. The machinery of government turns and turns, getting nowhere and doing nothing. Emergency stops the bureaucratic mind. Exigency paralyzes its functions. It dies in its ruts.

Relief could as well be expected from a glacier.

EMPLOYERS INDICTED AS RACKETEERS.

The grand jury investigating racketeering has brought indictment against nine men alleged to have coerced employers in the sheet metal trade into joining an association. The members were required, it is said, to pay no less than 5 per cent of their yearly revenue into the association. Six of the nine men indicted were employers and officers of an employers' association; the other three were union agents. The state charges that employers who hesitated to join the association were threatened with strikes to be called by the union business agents.

This turn in the racketeering inquiry is unmistakable evidence that the prosecution is not going to concern itself only with the practices of organized labor. The grand jury is charged with the task of investigating racketeering—i. e.: the use of threats and violence to coerce action and levy tribute; and it is hearing evidence and voting indictments against any men it believes engaged in these practices.

Any one who has studied the growth of racketeering in Chicago can hardly escape the conclusion that union labor has suffered from it, but racketeering is by no means confined there. The grand jury has given plain evidence that neither the prosecuting staff nor the members of the jury have been misled by anti-union propaganda. The inquiry is not aimed at organized labor or any other economic class, but at a type of crime which has victimized the public as well as employers and union workmen.

DEVIL'S LAKE.

Work of blasting a trail through the west cliff of the glacial formations which impounded the beautiful Devil's lake, near Baraboo, Wis., stopped last spring, has been ordered resumed. The region is included in a state park and the decision has been made by the conservation commission. There is, however, a protest which regards the decision of the commission as unwise and unnecessary. The question is one of public policy. Shall a state guard exceptional regions with a view to preservation or shall much be sacrificed to make the residue more available to larger numbers?

It would seem only common prudence to order such sacrifice reluctantly and upon a well proved case. What is at stake is destructible but not restorable. A mistake in judgment is final. Dynamite can make the remaining quartzite cliffs of Devil's lake more easily overrun by sightseers and may irreparably injure what they go to see. That is not conservation, even if done in the name of it. Wisconsin has a geological and scenic treasure of exceptional value in this gift from early ages, and good public policy would be loath to turn the dynamite upon it merely that the approach to it may require a little less effort. A trusteeship is involved which would be a heavy responsibility upon the judgment of authority in any one generation.

CHARITY AND A FOOTBALL GAME.

The presidents of the Catholic and Jewish charities and the general superintendent of the United Charities have joined in asking that the football game between Northwestern and Notre Dame, Nov. 22, be played at Soldiers' field instead of Dyche stadium in Evanston, charity to receive the money which would be taken because of the larger place.

The Evanston stands allow the sale of something less than 50,000 seats. At Soldiers' field over 100,000 seats are available. It is proposed that the two universities accept the maximum which could be taken for the game in Evanston and that the remainder go to charity for its formidable task of the winter. The appeal of the cause added to the appeal of one of the season's great games might easily fill the stands at Soldiers' field. The ticket price for the Evanston game is three dollars. If fifty thousand more tickets were sold by using the larger stadium, at the Evanston price, this one event would put $150,000 in the war chest for the campaign against cold, sickness and hunger this winter. Responsible men in both universities already have found that argument persuasive and there is no fear that the game itself would be injured by transfer to the larger field, to greater crowds more easily assembled and to even greater enthusiasm. Soldiers' field has seen several brilliant football games and offers competent management for them. The field is more accessible for a great gathering than any other and crowds reach it and go from it without confusion.

The great profit the charity work of the city may obtain is fairly certain. The game is almost sure to be a sellout. The universities would not be asked to try for a larger show, for the show itself, but here is a public benefit which may be obtained without loss to the game but with an addition to its interest.

ALFALFA BILL ON OKLAHOMA PROHIBITION.

Alfalfa Bill Murray, Democratic candidate for governor of Oklahoma, is a natural genius in the affairs of a free people where freedom means going a little loco once in a while and the people are frequently and intimately known as the people. Bill, a man of lean face, notable mustaches, galluses, and the Oklahoma slouch, has had his ups and downs, but he knows the political show business. He is a man of open opinions and answered Arthur Henning's questions freely. One related to prohibition. Oklahoma is one of the dry states which has suffered from the jake leg, the paralysis caused by drinking the jake ginger, a cheap and poisonous intoxicant which has had legal sale in the dry belts.

Mr. Murray admitted that nothing was unreasonably dry in the state, and that the dry citizenship could get its drinks, but said that the situation was regarded as one of grace, aside from the prevalence of the hitch leg. Bill said that when he was asked how he could call prohibition a success he replied because any one who wanted a drink could get it, and any one who didn't want one didn't have to see the other fellow getting it. Consequently everybody was satisfied and the matter was settled.

This is probably as good an explanation of the western and southern rural and small town dry attitude as has been made. Virtue is satisfied if it can make a pretense and if it can keep its peccadillos clandestine. A show of furtiveness is a front of righteousness. A community can acquire a relish for secretive enjoyment of publicly reprimanded habits. If it does not seem to be a wholly desirable idea of law and conduct it has the advantage of not depriving its addicts of what they want and at the same time of not taking from them the morality of denouncing it.

There is, also, something not wholly hypocritical about it. It indicates that many people were fumbling about for some way of getting rid of something they didn't like, and they rashly assumed they had found an undeniable way of doing it. They didn't like the public exhibitions of a business which seemed to exist merely to make its patrons the worse for their contact with it. They didn't like the saloon and its habitues, the makers of intoxicants, their sales methods or their conduct in public affairs. All they saw of the use of intoxicating beverages was what they regarded as the abuse of them, and they thought it was a simple matter to close what they didn't like. They have made a bad job of it, but they satisfy themselves, as Alfalfa Bill says, if they don't see it.

Other states might establish more wholesome, honest, and desirable conditions if they were permitted to take advantage of experience and return to the question for further consideration. Furtiveness hasn't a value in itself in many states in which it is believed that the use of intoxicating beverages can be controlled intelligently without relying chiefly on secretiveness.

Editorial of the Day

THE NEW GOLF BALL.

[New York Tribune.]

If the larger, lighter golf ball which will become the standard one in the United States on Jan. 1, 1931, cuts many yards from the drive of the average golfer he will surely rebel, long suffering though he is. But he is expected to accept the arms limitation, which the stars say is all right, and to like it. The American golf ball producers have already stopped manufacturing the heavier type in conformity with the Volstead act of the United States Golf association. The change, however, is moderate enough. The officially outlawed ball is 1.62 ounces in weight and 1.62 inches in diameter. The new standard sphere weighs 1.55 ounces and its diameter is 1.63 inches.

The duffer is told that the lighter ball will lose no distance for the light hitter and that it will help him in approaching, rising more quickly after leaving the clubhead than the bullet species. Still, he fears the scratch men bearing gifts and is a little disturbed at the talk of bringing back the finer shadings of the game, restoring the brassie and spoon to their rightful place, and all that, as if golf were not difficult enough as it is. He has certainly overheard somebody saying that the lighter ball accentuates frightfully the hated slice.

The high handicap man may not demand a referendum on this innovation. It has its ominous aspect for them in spite of the soothing words of the golf moguls and even of Bobby Jones' Delphic remark about the puffed-up orb: "If it is hit like a golf ball it will act like a golf ball."

INFANTILE EYE DEFECTS.

MANY of the mental and physical defects of children are the result of nurture rather than nature, or, to put it differently, of bad food and poor food and disease rather than bad inheritance. The following illustrations are taken from "East Texas Sketches," appearing in the Texas Monthly:

"For years after Eva's birth every one was convinced that she was an idiot. She never talked so that any one but her fond mother could understand her. She could scarcely walk about alone. Her mother insisted she was a bright child withal. She insisted so much that a visit to the eye doctor was arranged. Eyeglasses were prescribed and they proved a remedy. Eva straightway walked to some purpose, learned to talk with some sense, and became belatedly like other little girls."

Eva was nearsighted and perhaps somewhat retarded apart from her defect of vision. She was not a congenital idiot. In time, with proper treatment, she became normal, which does not happen in idiocy. Her trouble was one of nurture and not inheritance.

Another story related to a humpbacked boy 15 years of age. The crook in the boy's back was due to occupation or work rather than tuberculosis. He had been working as a field hand since childhood and his back humped by his work and became set in the deformed position.

Another story related to the effects of malaria. "They complained of the chills and fever with which some half dozen members of the tribe were constantly at war. A closer scrutiny served to show up the ravages of the chills and fever. The eyes of the victims were large, red rimmed, and feverishly bright, with dark hollows beneath. The skin was pale, greenish, yellow, and one would have sworn it was inches thick. Their bodies, showing through their scanty clothing, were emaciated and unbathed. Their appetites were capricious. I learned that each year during the season the epidemic descended and fortunate indeed was the individual—young or old—who escaped its debilitating clutches. The mother said: 'Seems like the kids jes' will sneak off and fill up on hot watermelons in the fields. Then they go playing around in the pond and then they come down with the ague. Seems like we ain't done nothing lately but tank 'em up on chill tonic and whisky bitters.'"

The pen pictures of these children follow the lines of similar pictures of the Jukes. More than one such family has been written up as an illustration of bad inheritance and need of a sterilization law. So far as this family was concerned, what was needed was more medical service, better use of quinine and plasmochin compound, more mosquito control, better food, and less chill tonics and bitters. Proposals for sterilization should stand aside until preventive and curative medicine has had its chance.

TRAIN YOURSELF TO SLEEP.

M. C. W. writes: Can a person train herself at will?

REPLY.

Some can. Every person who suffers from insomnia should try it. It is much the best treatment for insomnia.

KIDNEY STONES.

E. F. writes: I was very much interested in your recent reply regarding stones in the kidneys. In an examination of my kidney a stone was noticed which caused a pus condition, but has since cleared up. What are the foods and beverages known to cause stones?

REPLY.

You cannot change the stone now present by diet. Different kinds of foods cause different kinds of stone. Oxalate stones are caused by diet rich in rhubarb, pepper, spices, cocoa, chocolate, and tea. Urate stones by one rich in certain meats such as sweetbreads, kidney, roe, liver, beef tea, ery yellow, and in vegetable cells such as yeast.

ONE LOST SUBSCRIPTION.

Gary, Ind., Oct. 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Late in the year of 1929 I took subscription for a magazine which I could pay for in installments. On March 31, 1930, I sent the publishers a check for $2 as a payment. On Sept. 29, 1930, I received a letter from the publishers saying that my check had come back to them stamped "Bank closed." The bank this check was drawn on did close their doors on Aug. 15, 1930. In view of the fact of the length of time between the date of the check, March 31, 1930, and the closing of the bank, Aug. 15, 1930, will I have to make this check good? G. McC.

No; the loss due to their unreasonable delay falls on them.

NATURALIZATION PRIOR TO ELECTION.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—[Friend of the People.]—About four months ago I passed the examination at the federal building for my naturalization papers. How long will I have to wait now before I will get them? I have written them but get no reply. E. A. C.

If the writer will furnish this office the number of his petition appearing on the small card given him by the clerk of the court he will be advised as to the probable date on which his petition will be called for final hearing. No person may be naturalized between now and the general election on Nov. 4, 1930.

LANDLORD'S ORAL AGREEMENT.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Legal Friend of the People.]—Upon the expiration of our lease July 1 our landlord agreed verbally to reduce rental to us during summer months rather than have apartment vacant. We have paid this amount agreed upon.

Now he has given us a five day notice to vacate apartment or pay what he states is delinquent. Can he garnishee my husband's wages or cause us any trouble? Are we obliged to pay this last month's rent? These are the true facts concerning everything.

MRS. W. A. P.

1. He can try. If he takes such steps you should employ a lawyer.
2. The Illinois cases are in conflict as to the effect of an oral agreement purporting to alter a lease under seal.

Hey! Wait! Here's Another Job for the Whale!

O gosh! We've thought up another job for the captive whale that's being exhibited under our window on the vacant soap lot. Yesterday we thought it might be a fine idea to run him for mayor, but we withdraw the nomination. We've got a lot better job for him than that. The lawyers don't like Judge Lyle because they say that while he's honest and energetic and brave and everything, he lacks the judicial temperament. Now, we've never seen the whale (not that we're hinting, but complimentary passes could be mailed us at this address), but from what we've heard we believe the whale would suit the lawyers. He is big and fat and so full of repose and dignity that he must be just oozing with judicial temperament. We respectfully ask the Bar association to indorse our movement to elect the whale for judge in Chicago. Of course, the whale is stuffed, but that's all the better; gosh, that just adds to his dignity.

ON A CITY STREET.

This city street, where restless millions throng,
Pulses with poems; here are aisles of song.
Visions and dreams—that time may not fulfill,
Strange mystic chords the tumult cannot kill,
Lyrics and sonnets, burst from vibrant hearts—
Stirrings of song that shame the poet's arts.

Heed not the roar of traffic, blatant, bold;
List to the music, old as time is old,
Fresh as the spring and jubilant as youth,
Deathless as life, eternal as the truth.

Beauty and love and aspiration meet,
Haunting each soul that threads the city street.

THOMAS CURTIS CLARK.

OLD CHRIS COLUMBUS still seems to be holding his own against Leif Ericson as the discoverer of America. Leif's followers point to the old mill at Newport as living proof that Leif landed over here three or four centuries before Columbus was weaned, but there doesn't seem to be any kick in the mill argument. What Leif's partisans should do is to stop calling that round tower that Leif built a mill. Let 'em prove that it was a still that old Leif built and Columbus will be toppled right off his throne backwards.

Tha Duke Tells a Certin Guy Where He Gets Off At.

Oct. 13, 1960.

Snowshoe Al,
Dirt Editor,

My dear sur—Through tha courtesy of tha surface lines or tha L, I have been a constant reader of yer paper since 1930. This morning I gets repaid fer bein so loyal by a dirty article against me. You are putting me in a helova light with my dear public an radio audiences (both here and abroad) on acc't you claim tha B. an C. started a divorce suit today. In our peaceful little home there's always two sides to a story, her side an her side. In tha first place, if you don't quit yer printin' dirt I'm libel to sue you fer libel. I got in mind suing fer 50 grand, then if they was willing to settle for $120 we cood each take 60 bucks providin you let yer job go to hell an be my witness. Enyway there's no truth in tha story. Only last week was tha Mama's birthday an' I gave her a brand new scrubbing brush an also a broom. She was so delighted she jus through her arms around my neck missing my nose by a inch. Yer article also states that she's gonna go out an find a heman, this is also wrong 'cause you infer she's going out alone where as I have insisted that I go along an help. I want you shood know that in all tha years we been married we've only had one fight an tha end of it aint in sight yet. Our love for each other is beautiful. Even if there was a "rift in tha loot" (thems language), I'm pretty sure it cood be settled peacably on acc't there wood be no argument as to tha custody of tha kids, all I wood want wood be tha two that go to work next spring. Also, I don't like where you say I'm affeminate, just 'cause I smoke ciggarrettes an drink gin. I hope her relations don't see your article 'cause they all said back in 1899 that her marriage with a bum like me woodn' last a week an now it wood appear that there gonna get their wish. In conclusion I wanna say that you better give me about 2 columns in tha "Beg Your Pardon" section tomorrow. If you want my picture to go in tha article send over your staff photographer but call me up before he comes so's I can get my hair cut. Again I gotta call you a dirty liar fer sayin tha B. and C. started suit for divorce today. Yrs. trewlie, DUKE BAKRAK.

P. S.—It was yesterday.

MRS. ELLA BOOLE, president of the W. C. T. U. girls, was reported to have said that if the Republicans and Democrats put a plank in their 1932 platforms calling for repeal of the sacred Eighteenth that a third party would be established. And just when the two old parties were hastily asking her if that was a threat or a promise, Ella declares she never said it.

CHEZ VOUS.

Kiss me good-by, girl,
Good-by with a smile,
I will come back again
After a while.

I'd love to stay with you,
You know it, dear,
Still, in my dreaming
You are so near.

Kiss me good-by, girl,
And never forget
I will come back again . . .
Loving you yet!

LAGNIAPPE.

THIS IS GRAND OPERA week and we're supposed to get grand opera conscious. Well, personally we're already grand opera conscious, but we're also conscious of the fact that the old pocketbook ain't what it used to be. It looks like an elephant or a steam roller or something had been sitting on it.

REMORSELESSLY the days march on. And on—and on. And then comes November—and up jumps election day, and—we shall see what we shall see. Which is certainly playing it safe politically. We dislike to predict because we are always wrong when we make predictions, and we fear if we made one this time it might turn out right and break a proud record. R. H. L.

THE GREAT AMERICAN DRIVE

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 15, 1914.

FLUSHING.—Bruges has fallen into the hands of the Germans. The occupation began at 1 o'clock today when 250 German cyclists entered the city.

OSTEND.—Ostend's fate hangs in the balance. The government has left; King Albert and the main military quarters left Tuesday, and 60,000 panic stricken people await the action of the Germans, who are known to be within twenty miles of the city. The inhabitants are fleeing as fast as ships can be provided to carry them to England. Hospitals were emptied and the docks were lined with injured soldiers awaiting ships.

PARIS.—The exact positions of the bulk of the allied armies are being kept strictly secret, but it is believed that the forces in France and Belgium have joined hands since the fall of Antwerp. While it is conceded by the allies that the Germans probably will reach Ostend, they will meet with stubborn resistance in their attempt to extend the right of their main army through Pas de Calais to the northern French seaports.

LONDON.—News from the eastern theater of war, where the main Russian army and the Austro-German forces are approaching a great combat, is conflicting. A Hague dispatch says that the Austrian legation there announced that the Russians evacuated Lemberg after a fierce fight.

VIENNA.—Gavrilo Princep, who killed Archduke Francis Ferdinand; heir to the Austrian throne, and his wife at Sarajevo on June 28 and started the world war, went on trial with 22 others at Sarajevo today. Princep and two accomplices, Grabes and Cabrinovic, pleaded guilty to high treason.

OCTOBER 15, 1900.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Bicycle suits are barred in the Supreme court of the United States. This was discovered when a western newspaper correspondent was refused admittance to the court until he had gone home and changed his clothes.

LONDON.—The prospect of civil war in southern China is now added to the complications with which the powers have to deal in the far east. The gravity of the situation around Canton, where Sun Yat Sen, leader of the rebellion against the present Manchu dynasty, is gathering a large army, is recognized by all officials close to the foreign office. Four distinct elements in various parts of the empire are seeking for mastery or reform.

ROME.—A Taku dispatch says the expedition to Pao Ting Fu is to assure in addition to the chastisement of the Boxer chiefs the exploitation of the railways.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 15, 1880.

CHICAGO.—Secretary Sherman spoke before an immense audience at McCormick hall in behalf of the Garfield and Arthur ticket. The turnout of the marching clubs in connection with the meeting was a success beyond the expectations of the most sanguine. More than 5,000 persons marched in the blazing procession. It is more than 13 years since Chicago has seen such a large torchlight parade. Among those on the platform were N. K. Fairbank, chairman; John Wentworth, Wirt Dexter, S. B. Cobb, Judge Clisbee, Paul Cornell, George M. How, P. D. Armour, M. A. Farwell, Franklin MacVeagh, J. H. Dwight, Gen. Torrence, Lyman J. Gage, C. B. Blair, C. T. Wheeler, John De Koven, George L. Otis, P. Schuttler, J. D. Harvey, Albert Keep, C. M. Henderson, Julian S. Rumsey, H. W. King, Murry Nelson, Thomas A. Nichol, H. P. Stanley, Lyman Blair, G. H. Sidwell, M. H. Foss, E. C. Larned, R. T. Crane, M. D. Wells, E. M. Nickerson, H. H. Nash, J. V. Farwell, Charles Cloyes, John B. Drake, W. T. Baker, Herman Raster, William Penn Nixon, Sheriff Hoffman, and Frank Gilbert.

CHICAGO.—The Rev. Arthur Mitchell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who has accepted a call to the First Presbyterian church at Cleveland, O., was given a farewell party in the spacious church parlors by the congregation.

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

MISPLACED ECONOMY.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Please call the President's attention to the fact that a few months ago he called a meeting of the governors of the states, heads of public utilities, railroads, etc., to urge them to increase their building programs, but the government has not as yet started the building of the proposed Chicago and other postoffices, and we are now informed that for the sake of economy navy yards are going to reduce their personnel and discharge a lot of skilled men. The only appropriations that are readily spent now are those for the enforcement of prohibition.

It is a beautiful theory that economy is a virtue, but the ultimate result of this government economy will be the reduction of the income tax rate, which affects only the rich man. In the meantime tens of thousands of men, women, and children are starving. But what does that matter as long as our Mr. Mellon is warm and comfortable and able to report a surplus at the end of the fiscal year? F. H. LOCHNER.

MAIL COLLECTIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Now will Mr. Hoover please employ another of his committees to discover who is making the mail man who delivers mail also empty the mail boxes?

Imagine such absurd economy by the richest government in the world in the midst of a terrible depression.

ERNEST MALTER.

GLOOMY PROPHECY.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Although President Hoover insists on the retention of a high living standard for the American people, the fact remains that living standards have slipped markedly in this country during the last year. The present tendency will continue for another year, when the severity of the depression should lessen, but the improvement will not be as great after then as in the period following the years of 1920-'21. America's margin of prosperity is now the 12 per cent of her business which is carried on with foreign countries, and that trade will dwindle under high foreign tariffs, which in turn are fostering industries made possible by American loans.

Other countries in adopting our system of high tariffs and low cost production will raise their own living standards for a time just as we have done. In time their inability to consume all they produce will place them in our position. During their golden years America will be struggling with large scale unemployment and a constant acceleration of the decline in the birth rate. Such social unrest will produce changes in our isolation policy of the last fifty years. Within another generation America can again lead the world to better living conditions by advocating free interchange of commodities produced at low cost and by well paid workers all over the world. Until America can see that she is not contained within herself, however, there will be trying times in this country. ROBERT W. SHOEMAKER.

OVER 70 AND UNAFRAID.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—In your issue of even date I note with much interest the statement of a man of 40 years who complains of being unable, even with the aid of several thousand dollars, which he has saved up, to secure employment. I fear he has become wholly the victim of so-called humano-machine drill; that is, just an ordinary everyday wage earning dependent, utterly deficient in initiative, utterly unable to devise any method of making a living unless subject to the direction of others and then only along the lines with which he is familiar—with pay day as an incentive.

The writer is over 70 years of age. Without the aid of a single dollar in reserve, or otherwise, I can earn a fair competence. I can secure employment without great difficulty and not as a supplicant for charity. I can do work of every kind, other than operate a telegraph instrument or take dictation shorthand. I refer now to ordinary employment. Were I the possessor of a few thousand dollars at this time I could establish a dependable and very pleasant and interesting business.

True it is that men over 40, over 50 and 60, up to 70 years of age, experience difficulty in securing employment, but mere age, or years, is not the deciding factor. Employers are influenced by other considerations—the absence of necessary qualifications, of active life, of intellectual vigor, self-confidence, initiative, and the fact that many men at 40 are as old as some men of 75, even older. HENRY HUTCHINS.

BILLBOARD NUISANCE.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—I was pleased to see THE TRIBUNE attack the billboard desecration of our highways in a recent editorial and I hope it will continue the good work and include our city residential districts.

I am told it is unlawful to place billboards or other advertising matter on our public parkways, yet our street is lined with them — also canopies and benches—making the street less desirable to live in and lowering the value of our property. J. G. P.

JENNER'S COLTS.

Homewood, Ill., Oct. 13.—By what right does your sporting editor call the Northwestern Purple football team the "Wildcats"? That name was preempted by the boys of the Kansas State Agricultural college fully twenty years ago, taking the name of a little stream that flows close by that college. It would be as fair for me to call myself Calvin Coolidge. C. H. MACAULAY.

DISPENSING WITH MACHINES.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—While the different state and city governments are spending millions of dollars on public work to relieve unemployment, much more could be done in creating jobs without extra expense to the community by laying off the machines and using man power until the suffering and want are relieved and the depression is over, which we all hope will be soon. TAX AMENDMENT FRAUD ON VOTER, FYFFE CHARGES

Attacks the Description Prepared for Ballot.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Colin C. H. Fyffe, attorney for the Illinois Manufacturers' association, issued a vigorous criticism yesterday of the proposed amendment to the revenue article of the state constitution, commonly known as the income tax amendment, which will be voted on Nov. 4.

His objections relate to the method of presenting the tax amendment on the ballot and to the phrasing of the "brief explanation" of the amendment put out by a committee of the general assembly.

"The form in which the proposed amendment is treated in the 'brief explanation' required by statute is inexcusably bad," reads Mr. Fyffe's statement. "It gives a false view of the amendment itself. It describes the amendment in a way which amounts to a collection of what it would be unfair to call half truths."

Calls Description a Fraud.

Concerning the title, Mr. Fyffe says: "The committee appointed under the joint resolution headed the column on the ballot in heavy black type: 'Tax Relief Amendment to the Constitution of Illinois.' This is followed in small type by seven lines giving a laudatory statement of what is supposed to be a description of the amendment. This is filled with the almost half truths spoken of. This may be rightly called an inexcusable fraud upon the voter."

"As everybody knows," Mr. Fyffe continues, "the new amendment grants to the general assembly the power to enact practically every kind of taxation, except classification of real estate. That was left out by the proponents of the amendment in order to prevent the small home owner being put in a class by himself and not in the same class as the gambler in speculative real estate or the owner of real estate used for high commercial and income bearing purposes."

"Not a Tax Relief Amendment."

Some of Mr. Fyffe's comments on the amendment are: "There is no tax relief in the proposed amendment. It is just the opposite of that. A tax relief means, particularly in such times of depression, a reduction in taxation. This amendment was introduced in the general assembly in order that it might be given further power to add income taxes and other taxes to an already overburdened public.

"But what the voter will see will be something that tells him that this amendment is a reduction of his taxes, which it is not, in any way whatever."

Mr. Fyffe charges that the committee appointed to prepare the brief explanation did not do its work while the legislature was in session, and that therefore the explanation was not prepared in accordance with the law. Mr. Fyffe's information is that the committee did its work after the final adjournment of the 1930 session.

He adds: "If so, it was absolutely a worthless performance."

The executive committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce gave its indorsement yesterday to the proposed bond issue of $2,350,000 for a new home for the county hospital nurses.

URGES 870 MILES OF PAVED ROAD INTO CHICAGO BEFORE FAIR

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Completion before the world's fair of 870 miles of 40 foot pavement leaving Chicago in 11 arteries was today advocated by James E. Bulger, director of publicity for the Chicago Motor club, in an address before members of the state legislature from the Peoria district and Optimist club here this noon.

Mr. Bulger cited the congestion, delay, and danger resulting from the heavily trafficked roads in the state and contended that Sunday afternoon and holiday pleasure driving in the state was becomig a thing of the past.

A $23,000,000 appropriation out of the road fund from revenue derived under the provisions of the motor fuel tax law is necessary to carry this project to completion.

CALL MISSOURI SOLDIERS IN NEW RACE RIOT PERIL

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 15 [Wednesday].—(AP)—Gov. Caulfield early today ordered National Guardsmen to Ste. Genevieve, Mo., for a second time this week after Sheriff Ziegler had requested aid to prevent rioting resulting from the slaying of two men Sunday by three Negroes.

Troops were ordered to Ste. Genevieve from Festus and De Soto. Troops from those towns left for home today after it had appeared that danger of racial disturbances had passed.

Tonight, Sheriff Ziegler reported to the governor, a mob went to the home of Louis Ribeau, a mail carrier, one of the few Negroes at Ste. Genevieve who had not heeded a warning to leave town. Six of the men were arrested, the sheriff said, and he feared an effort would be made to release them from jail.

BRAZIL ASKS U. S. ARMY FOR GUNS TO FIGHT REBELS

Seeks to Buy Military Airplane Parts.

The War in Brazil

Communiques by federal and rebel forces are diametrically opposed. A series of engagements along a 200 mile front at the southern border of the state of Sao Paulo have drawn the opposing armies into lines for what may be a decisive battle.

Federal claimed victories at Sengee bridgehead with 15 rebels shot to death and at the Igarapava bridgehead, which opens the way for advancement into Uberaba, most important city of western Minas Geraes. They also claim recovery of the railway system in southern Minas Geraes.

On the other hand, insurrectionists announced gains along the Sao Paulo-Parana front in engagements near Carlopolis at Quatigo, and Gatinga. The rebels claimed gains in Matto Grosso and the federals in Para.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—State department approval of the purchase of a shipment of American government military airplane equipment for use against rebel forces has been asked by the Brazilian government, it was learned tonight. It is understood the war department, which would furnish the airplane parts requested, is prepared to approve the sale of the munitions if no objections are raised by the state department.

Secretary of State Stimson has thus far raised no objection to the sale of private airplanes by American manufacturers to the federal government in Brazil, and it is not believed he will object to the shipment of government airplane parts to Brazil. In 1929 the state department approved the sale of munitions to the government in power in Mexico when an insurrection broke out in that republic. Similar shipments were withheld from the rebel forces.

Seek Machine Guns.

No embargo has been clamped down on shipments of arms or planes to either faction in Brazil, so far as has been made known at the state department. No details were divulged regarding the nature of the airplane parts desired by Brazil, but it is assumed machine guns and machine gun racks and other miltary fittings for planes were requested. S. Gurgel do Amaral, the Brazilian ambassador, conferred with Secretary Stimson at the state department today. The Brazilian government, has ordered ten bombing planes from the Curtiss-Wright export corporation.

Report 15 Rebels Slain.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Oct. 14.—A battle at the Senge bridgehead in northern Parana yesterday resulted in the death of 15 rebels with about 30 wounded. The federals are reported to have only five wounded.

Surrender! City Warned.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIO GRAND DO SUL, Brazil, Oct. 14.—Insurrection leaders today announced that yesterday's report of the capture of the city of Florianopolis in the state of Santa Catherina was premature and that the city will be bombed tomorrow "unless it surrenders tonight."

Rebels Forced to Yield.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

URUGUAYANA, Brazil, Oct. 14.—Insurrectionists have withdrawn from the vicinity of Bello Horizonte, capital of the state of Minas Geraes, it is reported here. Rebel leaders minimize the importance of this setback, claiming their troops are penetrating the Sao Paulo territory.

Deny Leader Was Killed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 14.—Dispatches received here from Porto Alegere tonight state that the rumor that the revolutionary leader, Miguel Dacosta, was killed in action is absolutely false.

Fight Along 200 Mile Front.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 14.—(AP)—The Brazilian federal government today claimed victories over the revolutionists to the south, the west and the north, and declared that the rebels were becoming discouraged by their reverses.

The principal victories were listed as being along the 200 mile Sao Paulo-Parana front and in the southwestern region of the state of Minas Geraes.

The main battle in northern Parana occurred at Senges bridgehead, with 15 rebels found dead on the field after the fight. Federal sources said that many insurrectos were wounded.

Recover Railway System.

With the capture of this place the government troops asserted that they had driven the rebels out of the triangular western portion of Minas Geraes.

An important federal accomplishment lay in the recovery of the railway system through southern Minas Geraes. This was done through the capture of a tunnel at Mantiqueira and another at Passa Quatro, leading to Soledade.

Rebel Victory Claims.

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Victories along the Sao Paulo-Parana front and a extension of their campaign into the westerly state of Matto Grosso were the principal gains reported by Brazilian revolutionary leaders here today.

Following yesterday's battle near Carlopolis, an engagement was fought at Quatigua. Revolutionary soldiers routed a force of Sao Paulo state police and captured a number of prisoners.

A third battle in the same section was at Gatinga, with the revolutionaries capturing 35 prisoners, two machine guns and other arms.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Oct. 14.—Eleven new bishops of the Catholic church swore fealty to King Victor Emmanuel in the throne room at the Quirinal palace today. This ceremony was the first of its kind since the signing of the concordat between Italy and the holy see, which ended the conflict resulting from the Italian occupation of Rome in 1870 and the consequent fall of the temporal power of the popes.

A platoon of king's guards, in full regalia, rendered honors when the eleven bishops entered. The ceremony of taking oath followed and the formula was pronounced, as set down by article 20 of the concordat.

ASK 4½ MONTHS' EXTENSION FOR CAR FRANCHISE

Council to Take Action on New Time Limit.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The consolidation of the surface and elevated lines into one transportation system for Chicago is now assured, in the opinion of bankers concerned. Representatives of every class of security except one have agreed to the merger plan. The one exception is the representatives of the capital stock of the Chicago Railways company, the west and north side surface lines.

But the consolidation cannot be effected in the period remaining between now and Oct. 31, which is the date set in the franchise ordinance for the acceptance of the franchise by the merged company. Therefore it is proposed to grant the companies an extension to a date between March 10 and 15. For this purpose a special meeting of the city council will be held on Oct. 22. The extension will be discussed at a meeting of the council local transportation committee next Monday.

Calls Extension Necessary.

These matters were brought out at a transportation meeting held yesterday afternoon in the office of Attorney Walter L. Fisher, chief counsel for the local transportation committee.

"The extension of time is necessary, and I shall so advise the aldermen if they ask my opinion," said Mr. Fisher. The same view was expressed by James Simpson, chairman of the citizens traction committee, and by Ald. Joseph B. McDonough, chairman of the council transit committee.

The chief reason advanced for an extension of the period in which the new company may accept the franchise relates to court procedure. All of the surface lines are in the hands of receivers appointed by Federal Judge Wilkerson. It is explained that when the final plan of consolidation is decided upon after an agreement is reached with the representatives of the stock of the Chicago Railways company, about 100 days will be required for the various formalities, including the deposit of securities and the sale of transit properties under receivership.

Too Close to Election.

These requirements would bring the date close to the aldermanic election and the mayoralty primaries. So the proposed extension date was shoved forward to March 10 to 15 as more acceptable to persons interested in the aldermanic election and mayoralty primaries. The longer extension would also provide for unexpected legal delays or obstacles.

Yesterday's meeting brought together the largest number of principals in the history of the present transit settlement negotiations.

AID YOUR JOBLESS BY MAKING PERFUME! VIRGIN ISLES TOLD

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Island, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Prof. Albert Rossio, Italian horticulturist, who is visiting the Virgin islands, today offered a solution for unemployment.

"Transform your islands into a great flower garden," he says. "Soil and climate are similar to that of the famous 'blue coast,' from which the perfume manufacturers of France obtain their flowers. Erect a perfume plant and then, having free trade with the United States, you may successfully compete with French perfume, against which a high tariff is placed."

The idea is novel to St. Thomas land owners, the greater portion of their holdings being at present grazing land for cattle. Formerly this land produced sugar, coffee, and indigo, but agriculture was practically abandoned when St. Thomas became a great distributing point for European and American merchandise.

GUNMAN POSES AS MECHANIC; ROBS 2 WOMEN

A bandit who posed as a mechanic and offered to start a stalled car robbed two women of $125 and jewels valued at $9,000 last evening. He was helped by an accomplice.

The victims were Mrs. Luella Bourque, 6720 Paxton avenue, wife of Dr. N. Odeon Bourque, and her sister, Mrs. Jessie Peacock of 4438 Drexel boulevard. They had been at the Hawthorne race track and left an Illinois Central train at Archer avenue and Halsted street, where they had parked their automobile. When the car refused to start a man in overalls appeared, replaced a wire which he is believed to have removed in planning the holdup, and started the motor. He then suggested that he drive to a nearby garage to complete the repair.

A block away he stopped the car as another man stepped from an alley. Both then produced guns and took the money and the gems.

PORTERS' UNION WOULD ENJOIN PULLMAN CO.

A petition for an injunction restraining the Pullman company from further operation of the employes' representation plan, charging that it interfered with conduct of business of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and affiliated organizations, was filed yesterday in the United States District court.

The petition represents 8,000 members of the porters' organization and 3,000 sleeping car maids. The bill alleges that the company has interfered in transaction of the business of the porters and maids' organizations. A hearing will be held this morning.

WARNS 200,000 FAMILIES IN U. S. FACING HUNGER

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—More than 200,000 families will be living under famine circumstances in the United States this winter, James Fieser of Washington, D. C., vice chairman of the American National Red Cross, told a regional conference of the New Jersey chapter held in the Madison hotel here today. The session lasted throughout the day.

Continuing, Mr. Fieser said:

"They would have been infinitely better off had they been swept by fire or wind than by the slow, insidious method of too much sun and not enough rain. It takes a spectacular sweeping from the skies to capture our imagination."

WHEN PAIN COMES···

Two hours after eating

WHAT many call "indigestion" is very often nothing but excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. The best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard anti-acid with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this more pleasant way. A small bottle is sufficient to show its merit.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for more than 50 years in correcting excess acid. 25c and 50c a bottle; any drugstore. Complete directions for its many uses, are enclosed with every bottle.

HEAD OF GRAIN DEALERS URGES RETURN OF BEER

Sees Added Market for 100,000,000 Bushels.

BY PAUL POTTER.

An added market for 100,000,000 bushels of small grains would be created annually by modification of the Volstead act legalizing the manufacture and sale of beer, B. T. Dow of Davenport, Ia., declared yesterday.

His statement, as president of the Grain and Feed Dealers' National association, in annual session in Chicago, was an aftermath of the announcement on Monday of Fred Pabst Sr., head of the Milwaukee brewing concern of that name, that his company is expending nearly $1,000,000 on new equipment in anticipation of a possible modification of the dry law.

Would Help Grain Growers.

"Grain men generally would welcome modification, if and when it comes, to permit the manufacture of real beer legitimately," said Mr. Dow. "It will be an important factor in solving one of the grain men's most difficult problems—that of finding markets for farmers' crops at satisfactory prices. The 100,000,000 bushels needed yearly if American breweries were in full production would help eliminate surplus supply and steady prices.

"Mr. Pabst's estimate of 58,000,000 bushels being used in the brewing industry annually before prohibition is probably too conservative. I believe the figure was much larger. In any event, if the return of beer is legalized I am convinced the 100,000,000 mark will be reached. I hope the business judgment of Mr. Pabst proves correct, and I am sure that the majority of grain men share my views."

Others who commented favorably on the Pabst declaration were William H. Mitchell, president of a Chicago brokerage house and treasurer of the Chicago Crusaders, an organization of men fighting prohibition, and J. Russell Forgan, executive commander of the Chicago Crusaders.

Raps Farm Marketing Act.

In the grain men's convention yesterday F. Dumont Smith, chairman of the American Bar association's citizenship committee, said the federal agricultural marketing act had been proved futile in the light of slumping farm commodity prices in 1930.

"This utterly unconstitutional and revolutionary enactment went through congress without a single objection on that ground," Mr. Smith declared. "If it is the duty of the federal government to place agricultural industries on an economic equality with all other industries, then it is equally the duty of the government under constitutional theory to place each branch of agriculture on a parity with every other branch.

"Likewise, it is the business of the government to place other industries on a parity with each other—coal with automobiles.

Says Legge Admits Failure.

In urging farmers to reduce their production to domestic requirements, Smith said Chairman Alexander Legge of the farm board made "a complete and abject confession that the whole scheme and purpose of the farm relief act had utterly failed."

"The purpose of the act," he went on, "however veiled and concealed by camouflage, was to raise the price of agricultural products. There was no other excuse for it. Mr. Legge admits that the farm board cannot do it, that the farmers must do it themselves by reducing their production to the needs of the home market. Since then the members of the farm board have been sitting dazedly watching agricultural products slump in price, at $1,000 each and expenses."

GETS 30 DAYS ON DRY CHARGE.

Jacob Paslanski, 3311 Lime street, was sentenced to the Bridewell for 30 days and fined $100 and costs in the Stockyards court yesterday on a charge of violating the prohibition law.

LOCKPORT-UTICA WATERWAY LINK IN 1932 BUDGET

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Funds for beginning construction work on the Illinois waterway between Lockport and Utica are included in the 1932 budget now nearing completion, it was learned today. It is probable at least $2,000,000 of the $7,500,000 approved for the work as a federal project by the last congress will be provided for government work during the next fiscal year. It is highly possible construction with federal funds will begin by next March.

Federal authorities still hope the state of Illinois will find a way to finance some of the construction work during the latter months of this year. Such work, however, would have to be financed by the state, as the war department takes the position that federal funds voted for river and harbor work last year cannot be expended on the Illinois waterway, as the bill approving this item was not passed until after the appropriation bill became law.

On Aug. 14 Gov. Louis L. Emmerson of Illinois and Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley conferred here on expediting the waterway project. It was agreed that Gov. Emmerson would have an independent audit made of funds remaining in the state waterway fund of $20,000,000 voted in 1907. In case the audit showed that any cash was available, after funds had been reserved for bridges, Gov. Emmerson agreed to notify Secretary Hurley and arrange to expend this surplus at once under federal supervision. To date no word has been received here from Gov. Emmerson.

Mrs. Mildred Archibald Weds Clothing Merchant

Mrs. Mildred King Archibald was married on Sept. 27 at Woodstock to Willis Orville Hyde, a Chicago clothing merchant, it was learned yesterday. Mrs. Archibald was granted a divorce in June from H. Teller Archibald, who had previously won a divorce decree from Mrs. Archibald in Miami, Fla. A month ago Mrs. Archibald lost her petition to have her former husband's divorce set aside. Mr. and Mrs. Hyde are residing at 854 Castlewood terrace.

Harry Warren, 38 years old, 4008 North St. Louis avenue, injured in a fall from the third story of a building at 3113 Eastwood avenue on Sept. 29, died last night at the Wallen Park hospital.

MARKET MASTER AND MERCHANTS SETTLE DISPUTE

Settlement of the controversy which involved merchants of the State street market, 71st and State streets, and Market Master J. F. Timmis was reached last night at a meeting of 150 merchants at State Street hall, 69th and State streets.

Charges against Dr. Timmis of soliciting city hall campaign funds were withdrawn and an apology made. Similar action was taken in regard to Robert Rohn, merchant, who was accused of being fund collector. The trouble originated over Timmis' refusal to permit merchants to transact business on the outer sidewalks in front of their stores.

According to the peace settlement, in which the merchants were represented by Attorneys W. John Granata and Andrew A. Buzzino, Dr. Timmis will grant sidewalk permits under stipulations, a number of court cases against merchants will be disposed of with minor fines or by dismissal, and injunction proceedings by the merchants against Dr. Timmis and police will be withdrawn.

Tried Everything, Without Results—New Prescription, ACIDINE, Ends Trouble

"I am 60 years of age and had been bothered with acid indigestion, fermentation and gas in stomach and bowels for many years," writes Mr. M. Funk of Riverton, N. J. "Tried everything without result until I heard of ACIDINE. It gave me relief at once. Now feel great."

Just one of thousands who have been astonished and delighted at the way this new prescription, ACIDINE, succeeds where other remedies fail. The reason is that it is entirely different from other known medicines. Contains the marvelous digestant called Japtase. In laboratory experiments Japtase has been tested on certain starchy foods which cause so much stomach distress. It digested 800 times its weight of such foods in 30 minutes.

Five other ingredients in ACIDINE neutralize burning acid, soothe irritated stomach lining, stop gas and headache from acidity. No other known remedy contains this scientific combination to end acid stomach trouble. Pain goes like a flash.

In the space of one year thousands of people have bought ACIDINE at drug stores everywhere and are enthusiastic users. Physicians are prescribing ACIDINE and thousands of people have found it the only relief from acid indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, pain, heartburn, coated tongue, bad taste, heavy feeling, short breath, dizziness, nervousness, fullness, from acid stomach trouble.

Don't take chances of getting serious and more painful troubles. Get ACIDINE at any Walgreen or Economical drug store today. Costs only a few cents. Watch how quick pain, gas, end. THE MAN WITH THE "HAIR-TRIGGER" TEMPER

He was irritable at the office, and grouchy at home. His enemies increased, his friends became fewer. Then one day his doctor told him the truth. He had been handicapped by constipation for years. It had brought headaches and constantly irritating ills to make him "touchy." It had stolen his energy and good nature.

His doctor suggested eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. And in a few days he was a changed man, cheery, ambitious—and on the road to success and happiness.

Constipation is so unnecessary it can be overcome by eating delicious Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This delightful, ready-to-eat cereal has been improved in both texture and taste.

Two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily are guaranteed to prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. Use this natural method and avoid the dangers of habit-forming pills and drugs.

Serve ALL-BRAN with milk or cream, with fruits or honey added. Use in cooking too. Sold by all grocers in the familiar red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"TUMS became popular overnight"

say Chicago druggists

Thousands of people have gone into drug stores in the past week and asked for this new relief for acid stomach. "Tums fill a long-felt want. There are three big reasons why they are so popular," druggists say.

First of all—Tums bring quick relief from stomach distress. If you suffer from acid indigestion, sour stomach, gas, heartburn, or that distressing fullness that follows heavy or hurried eating of foods that disagree—Tums will bring you prompt relief by neutralizing the trouble-making acid. They are fine, too, when you smoke too much and when you have difficulty in falling asleep due to an unsettled, acid stomach.

Second—Tums come in handy, foil rolls. They look like candy and taste like candy. You can carry a roll in your pocket or purse and eat them whenever you want. There's no embarrassment. Everybody thinks you are eating candy.

Third—Tums are delicious. They have a refreshing, mint flavor which makes them as pleasant as after-dinner mints. Tums are absolutely safe. Eat them as often as you like, to keep your stomach sweet and settled. You'll like them—everybody does.

Look for the carton of Tums on the drug store counter. Buy a roll and see how pleasant and effective they are.

FLORENCE LEENEY IS ACQUITTED IN HUSBAND KILLING

Jurors Return Verdict After 15 Hours.

CRIMINAL COURT.

John Jackson and John Earnach, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life each in the penitentiary by Judge Harry M. Fisher.

James Murphy, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge E. I. Frankhauser.

Edward Chrisan, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary by Judge Peter Schwaba.

Mrs. Florence Leeney was acquitted yesterday of a murder charge in the killing of her husband by a jury in Judge Joseph Sabath's court. The jurors had debated for approximately fifteen hours before a verdict of acquittal was reached about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Leeney shot and killed her husband following a New Year's party in their then home at 5336 Drexel avenue. The state charged that she shot the husband, Maurice, a teaming contractor, while he was sleeping on a couch in the parlor. The defense, however, said that Mrs. Leeney shot in self-defense when her husband attacked her.

Thanks Jurors and Attorneys.

The defendant was not in court when the jurors arrived at a verdict, and it was more than thirty minutes later when she appeared and Edward Ciseki, the court clerk, read the verdict. Mrs. Leeney, although informed of the report that the verdict was not guilty by her attorneys, Samuel Hoffman and Charles Dougherty, was obviously nervous as she took the seat she had occupied for two weeks during the trial.

Mrs. Leeney smiled as the verdict was read, and she was beaming as she thanked her attorneys, the jurors, and the judge.

"I just knew it couldn't be anything else," she said. "I am going back home and start life all over again."

Miss Florence Leeney, the daughter, a brother, Buster, and the youngest child, Kewpie, hurried to the side of their mother as soon as the judge left the bench. He had issued a warning that no demonstration was to occur while court was in session.

"Old Story," Say Prosecutors.

"We have no complaint to make," said Assistant State's Attorneys George Lavin and Ross Lee Laird, who prosecuted the case. "It is just the same old story. It is almost impossible to convict a woman for killing her husband. This jury, however, deliberated much longer than is usual for juries in such cases."

The jurors, it was reported, took more than 10 ballots before the verdict was reached. Soon after the jury retired at 7 o'clock Monday evening it was reported that a deadlock of 6 to 6 existed. Although ordered to bed at 11 o'clock, the jurors debated until 4 o'clock in the morning before retiring for a three hour rest.

FABULOUSLY RICH SULTAN TO WED A BRITISH WIDOW

He's a Two Fisted Big Game Hunter.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 14.—One of the wealthiest potentates in the orient will take a western bride soon. This was revealed at the London registry office today by the declaration of the intention of Sultan Ibrahim of the state and territory of Johore, to wed Mrs. Helen Wilson, 40 year old English widow. She is listed simply as the former wife of William Breckie Wilson.

The sultan is 57 and is one of the most extraordinary characters in the eastern world. He has a fabulous fortune and governs one of the richest states in the Malay peninsula.

A Two-Fisted Hunter.

But, instead of living a sumptuous life, like most oriental nabobs, he is a two-fisted big game hunter, horse breeder and racing car driver. He stalks elephants and tigers on foot in his own jungles. He is known as an excellent polo player and has an imposing palace in Johore, where he has entertained princes and envoys from most of the countries of the world.

Known for his unassuming and democratic manner this strapping sultan, standing more than six feet tall, has collected a weird assortment of experiences in recent years. He has traveled incognito all over the continent and the orient. He holds the reputation in Europe of being a sporstman. He drove his own car in the Gordon Bennett race in Belgium in 1903.

Friend of Allies.

He was a strong friend of the allies during the war and gave the British government fourteen fighting planes costing $150,000.

Two years ago several islands in the Straits seas around Singapore, which have been in the possession of the British crown for 100 years, were returned to the Johore ruler.

Both the prospective bride and groom give a London hotel as their residence.

THOUSANDS of DOCTORS CAN'T BE WRONG

FOR more than fifty years doctors have been prescribing Pluto, America's laxative mineral water.

The doctors whose words of endorsement appear on this page are but a few of thousands whose expressions of approval have come to us. The originals of these endorsements and photographs are in our files at French Lick Springs. However, out of respect to long-standing custom in the medical profession—and because medical societies prefer that doctor-members refrain from lending their names to printed advertisements—we have, in fairness to these doctors, omitted their names and made their photographs unrecognizable.

Pluto Water is not a patent medicine — not a harmful drug. It works with nature in bringing sure, safe and quick relief from bowel congestion.

Pluto Water cannot injure the most delicate tissues. It really water-washes the tract—flushes out the intestines in from 30 minutes to two hours after taking. It never gripes or causes discomfort.

When you need a physic, why gamble with uncertain measures? Follow the knowledge and judgment of these competent medical advisors. On this page alone, thirty seven doctors tell you TAKE PLUTO WATER! And thousands of others every day give the self-same sound advice.

GIGANTIC POWER GROUP MONTANA POLITICS FACTOR

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Helena, Mont. Oct. 14.—[Special.]—In Washington and in the country at large Senator Thomas J. Walsh [Dem., Mont.], who is seeking election to a fourth term in the senate, is known as the arch foe of the water power trust and the initiator of the investigation which revealed water power trust control of certain newspapers.

In Montana the senator is known as the friend of the Montana branch of the water power trust, the owners of which control nine of the eleven newspapers in the largest cities of the state.

The most powerful single economic and political influence in Montana is the gigantic aggregation of capital consisting of the Anaconda Copper company, the American Light and Power company, the Montana Power company, and the Rocky Mountain Power company. All these interests are bound together by interlocking stock ownership and interlocking directorates.

Anaconda's Hand Denied.

The Anaconda Copper company either owns outright or controls through financial relationship the nine newspapers which in their news and editorial columns render invaluable service to the copper and power companies in the favorable molding of public opinion.

Moreover, the charge is made that a newspaper in which Senator Walsh owns a large block of stock, the Helena Independent, is under the domination of this group of interests by virtue of financial assistance given and that the Anaconda Copper company sends its auditor once a month to check up the newspaper's accounts. This charge is denied by William Campbell, editor of the Independent.

"The Anaconda Copper company has no hold on us," he said. "We have not borrowed any money from the Anaconda. We have borrowed only from the Metals bank, the president of which is a friend of mine. Senator Walsh has a stock holding in this newspaper which combined with mine gives us control."

Senator Walsh Praised.

The Anaconda Press is extolling Senator Walsh for a signal service he recently rendered the Montana branch of the water power trust. He overcame formidable opposition to the granting of a federal permit to the Rocky Mountain Power company to develop power in the Flathead river at Polson, Mont. This project is to cost $10,000,000. A large part of the power developed is to be consumed by the Anaconda Copper company.

The Anaconda has the reputation of being the political dictator of Montana, the maker and unmaker of senators, governors and other officials. This is probably an exaggeration today, although its influence is so powerful that the attitude of "the company," as the Anaconda is known throughout the state, is an important consideration in the counsels of both parties.

The governorship is what "the company" is chiefly interested in controlling. An unfriendly governor could play havoc with the Anaconda and its affiliated power interests by unfriendly administration and the signing of restrictive legislation. The control of a senatorship is important to "the company," but not so important as the governorship.

The 1928 election furnishes an illustration. Joseph M. Dixon was the Republican candidate for senator against Senator Burton K. Wheeler, redical Democrat. Gov. J. E. Erickson, Democrat, was a candidate for reelection against Wellington Rankin, radical Republican. The company wanted Erickson reelected. It also wanted Dixon elected over Wheeler. But Wheeler served notice on the company that if it gave any aid to Dixon he [Wheeler] would line his radical Democratic followers up for Rankin and beat Erickson. So the company officials, who shuddered at the thought of Rankin in the governor's chair, dropped Dixon like a hot brick. Erickson was reelected and Dixon was beaten.

In the present senatorship contest between Albert Galen, who is still an associate justice of the Montana Supreme court and does not intend resigning unless elected senator, and Senator Walsh, who just got an invaluable permit for Anaconda's water power department, "the company" is preserving a discreet neutrality. The Anaconda's Republican papers are supporting Justice Galen and its Democratic newspapers are supporting Senator Walsh.

A Socialist Asks La Follette.

Another senator who is noted for blistering the water power trust and its control of newspapers is coming to Montana to take a hand in the senatorship fight. It is none other than Senator Robert M. La Follette [Rep., Wis.], who is going to make speeches the latter part of this month in support of his Democratic confrere, Senator Walsh.

This announcement caused John F. McKay, Socialist candidate for senator, to address a letter to young Bob demanding among other things how under the sun he could say a kind word for Senator Walsh who cast one of the two votes for the expulsion of young Bob's father from the senate in the postwar hysteria. Senator Walsh in his speeches refers to young Bob as "filling ably the place occupied by his illustrious and revered sire."

Imperial Wizard Errs.

An issue that is likely to play an important part in determining the result in Montana is that of the world court. Senator Walsh voted for our adherence to the court and advocates acceptance of the pending modification of our reservations. Justice Galen says of the court that "in actual practice I doubt its feasibility and the desirability of the United States entering into such an alliance."

Much mystery surrounds a visit made to Montana by Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, and a speech he made against the world court. He is said to have been paid $1,000 for the speech and is supposed to have been imported by an unofficial group of Republicans, who calculated that his opposition to the court would tend to take the Klan curse off Justice Galen, who is a Roman Catholic but against the court, and to fasten it more firmly upon Senator Walsh, who is also a Roman Catholic but in favor of the court. The Klan was once strong in eastern Montana.

If, however, this was a Republican plot the result was somewhat of a boomerang, for Evans in the course of his speech said that the reason Senator Walsh is more "dangerous" than Justice Galen is that Mr. Walsh is abler.

Senator Walsh devotes most of his speeches to attacks on the Smoot-Hawley tariff. He voted for high duties on wheat, manganese, wool rags, and hides which compete with Montana products, but he voted against the bill on final passage. He condemns the new law on two grounds. One is that "the sum total that Montana gets out of the act is pitiably small, even insignificant." The other is calculation that if the act increases the cost of protected commodities one billion dollars "Montana will contribute $5,000,000 annually."

$2 Invested in Vogue

Will Save You $200

The gown you buy and seldom wear is the really expensive gown. Gloves, shoes, hats, that miss being exactly what you want, are the ones that cost you more than you can afford.

Why take chances again this year when by simply sending in the coupon below you can insure the correctness and economy of a whole season's wardrobe?

Vogue suggests that before you spend a single penny on new clothes, before you even plan your season's wardrobe, you consult its great Winter and Spring Fashion numbers:

©The Conde' Nast Publications, Inc.

Here are two coats that are excellent investments this year. Note the use of flat instead of fluffy furs, and the slightly fitted lines. Just two of many fashions shown in Vogue.

Waterman's Lady Patricia

—the fountain pen for the woman of today

It's new, it's completely feminine, and it's utterly unlike the old fashioned "scaled-down" men's pens. Waterman's Lady Patricia has:

A SMART FEMININE CLASP, INSTEAD OF A CLIP—for today's woman carries her pen in her handbag, and this clasp fastens it securely in place where she finds it instantly without searching.

SEVEN PEN POINTS TO CHOOSE FROM—for today's woman instinctively demands a penpoint that really suits her own style of handwriting—and here she gets it.

A SLENDER, GRACEFUL SHAPE; YET HOLDS PLENTY OF INK—for today's woman insists that all her belongings be as practical as they are beautiful.

A CHOICE OF THREE CHARMING, MODERN COLORS—for today's woman is impatient with yesterday's drabness. So we offer her the Lady Patricia in Persian, glowing like a black opal; Jet, night-black with gleaming trim; and Onyx, ivory, shot through with tawny streamers.

A SENSIBLE PRICE, IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES—$5 for the pen; $3 for the pencil. Both, in a beautiful gift box, $8.

Try this new pen at your local Waterman's dealer. You will be delighted by it's smart, feminine appearance—and doubly delighted by the way it writes. By the way, be sure to ask your dealer to fill it with Waterman's Ink—the ink that's made for fountain pens. Then, for the sake of your men-folk, take a look at the Patrician—Waterman's finest man's pen. Choice of five jewel colors, seven pen points. A beautiful gift when you want to give the best. Pen, $10; pencil, $5. Other Waterman's in wide variety to suit every purse and every taste.

Every Waterman's is guaranteed forever against defects. Service Stations are maintained at the addresses below for the purpose of making good our guarantee and for servicing our pens as required.

How's This? Corns Lift Out With Fingers—No Pain!

Thanks to a new discovery made from a Japanese product your foot troubles can be quickly ended.

Ice-Mint as this new preparation is called is said to shrivel up hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes so that they can be lifted out easily with the fingers. It's wonderful. Think of it, only a touch or two of Ice-Mint and real foot-joy is yours.

There is not one bit of pain or soreness when applying it or afterwards and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

If your feet are inclined to swell or puff, or if you have cracked or bleeding toes, it will draw the inflammation right out and quickly heal the sore and tender places. It is the real Japanese secret of fine, healthy little feet and is greatly appreciated by women who wear high heel shoes and by men who have to stand on their feet all day. Try it. Just ask in any Drug Store, for Ice-Mint and learn for yourself what solid foot comfort really is. There is nothing better.

Relax...

Tense "NERVES"

Tense "NERVES" upset your normal poise and self control. Tense "NERVES" menace your business or social success. Tense "NERVES" interfere with your daily work and curb your power to get things done. Tense "NERVES" keep you awake at night and rob you of your rest.

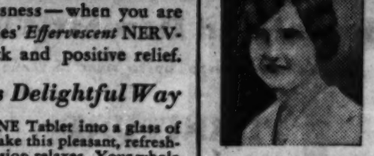
Few people are free from these frequent attacks of "NERVES." Every day countless thousands of busy men, harassed housewives and high-strung young folks put an excess strain on their nervous systems. Then, when their keyed-up, tense "NERVES" refuse to relax—they turn to this pleasant, harmless Effervescent drink to get quick and effective relief.

Now, when your "NERVES" are tense and jumpy—when over-strained "NERVES" cause Headaches or Sleeplessness—when you are irritable, blue, and all up-set—try a Dr. Miles' Effervescent NERVINE Tablet in a glass of water for quick and positive relief.

Quiet Your "NERVES" this Delightful Way

The moment you drop an Effervescent NERVINE Tablet into a glass of water, it goes into swift bubbling action. Then take this pleasant, refreshing effervescent drink and soon your nervous tension relaxes. Your whole overwrought nervous system is soothed and calmed, and a welcome feeling of refreshing relief comes over you.

Dr. Miles' NERVINE is made in both Effervescent Tablets and Liquid form. For 50 years Dr. Miles' NERVINE (in liquid form) has brought grateful relief to thousands of nervous people. Now this same time-tested formula is also offered in handy Effervescent Tablets. In the tablets the NERVINE formula is combined with bicarbonate of soda and citric acid—which tend to correct hyper-acidity—a frequent cause of nervousness.



"I suffered a great deal with nervous Headaches until I started to use Effervescent NERVINE Tablets. I keep a package always on hand and whenever I get nervous I take them." Miss Cathleen Call, San Antonio, Texas

JAKE FLEAGLE, LAMAR BANDITS' LEADER, CAUGHT

Wounded When He Tries to Resist Officers.

Branson, Mo., Oct. 14.—(AP)—Jake Fleagle, object of a nationwide search after he led a band of ruthless killers in the robbery of the First National bank of Lamar, Colo., in May 1928, was wounded and captured here today.

Fleagle was confronted unexpectedly by five officers with drawn pistols on a Missouri Pacific passenger train which he boarded here to travel to Hollister, a nearby town. The officers ordered Fleagle to put up his hands. Instead, he reached for his pistol.

One shot was fired and the bandit leader fell with a bullet in his abdomen. After a brief struggle, his weapon was wrested from him. None of the officers would reveal who fired the shot.

The prisoner was taken to Springfield, Mo., late today to undergo an operation. If he recovers, he will be returned to Colorado to face trial for murder.

Three of Gang Executed.

Four men were killed by the Lamar robbers and three members of the gang already have paid with their lives on the gallows.

Those executed were Ralph Fleagle, brother of Jake; George J. Abshier and Howard Royston.

In the holdup, A. N. Parrish, president of the bank, and his son, John, cashier, were shot and killed. E. A. Roesinger, a teller, was taken as a hostage by the bandits and later slain.

Dr. William Wineinger of Dighton, Kas., was lured from his home to treat one of the wounded robbers. Then he was killed, the gang believing he might identify the Fleagles.

Fleagle was tracked to the Ozark country through letters he had mailed. It was discovered after his capture that he had a gunshot wound in the wrist, indicating he may have had a recent brush with the law.

Captured by Chance.

Postal inspectors and other officers had been combing the Ozark country for several weeks, hunting Fleagle. The capture today, however, was a chance one. On the train which Fleagle boarded were officers who were en route to press the search farther south. They recognized the fugitive as he stood on the station platform and were waiting for him when he stepped board.

Cassius Poust Promoted to Lieutenant Colonel

The promotion of Cassius Poust, first assistant United States attorney, from major to lieutenant colonel in the 129th infantry, Illinois National Guard, was announced yesterday. The promotion is part of a general advancement of officers following the resignation of Brig. Gen. Abel Davis.

RAID 2 OFFICES IN RACKET DRIVE; 2 MORE INDICTED

Bare "Lowest Form of Racketeering."

Action was begun yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney Donald Thompson against three men whom he termed the lowest sort of racketeres, alleged business agents who take 25 cents a day from men earning $2.75 a day. He caused the raiding of the offices of the Circulators and Distributors' union, local 57, at 1010 West Madison street. Then he explained, as follows:

"James Rooney, as business agent, and Bob Witcher and Johnny Cook, who is known as Sleepy, muscled into this union, forcing out its organizers whose names were McCauley and Levin and who obtained a charter from the Billposters and Billers' union. The men who peddle bills around the city, from door to door, up and down stairways, have to pay them 25 cents a day.

"Men not belonging to their union and known as 'permit men' must pay them 50 cents a day for the privilege of working. Foremen of distributors, who make $3.50 a day, also have to pay."

Raid Attorneys as Racketeers.

Assistant State's Attorneys Charles J. Mueller and Charles E. Lounsbury, in charge of the racketeer investigation of the state's attorney's office, sent policemen to raid the offices of the Slavic Union Alliance of America, at 1853 West 21st street. Complaints received were that Attorneys Thomas V. Novotny and William Micon were using the agency as a racket and sending out stationery intended to be accepted as Municipal court writs, which bore the name of Micon as "clerk"—presumably of the Municipal court.

Novotny at present is under charges of larceny by bailee and operating a confidence game. Micon filed suit for $100,000 against Prosecutor Mueller a year ago. The fake court forms were used by Micon as a threat on which to collect bills, the prosecutors said.

Two More Are Indicted.

Assistant State's Attorney Edward C. Duffey appeared before the grand jury with additional evidence and witnesses against those involved in the operations of the Sheet Metal Employers' association. Last week indictments were voted against six officers of the association and three union business agents accused of being in collusion with them, the charge being conspiracy to extort.

Yesterday two additional union officials were included in the indictment. They are Edward Rooney, assistant business agent of the Sheet Metal Workers' union, and David Braid, chairman of the agreement committee of the Roofers' union.

2 Employes Mark Total of 72 Years on Car Line

August Berg, 5512 West Adams street, and Daniel Powers, 4707 Gladys avenue, this week are celebrating the completion of a total of 72 years of service with the Chicago and West Towns Railway company. Berg, a motorman, is estimated to have traveled 1,250,000 miles during his 39 years of service, while Powers, a conductor, is believed to have covered 1,500,000 miles in 33 years.

ATTACK POLICE CASE IN HOLDUP OF MAYOR'S WIFE

Court to Call Alcock on Identifying Suspect.

The good faith of Policeman Peter H. O'Malley, chauffeur for Mayor Thompson's wife, in identifying Sam Battaglia as one of the bandits who robbed him and Mrs. Thompson, was challenged in Judge Lyle's court yesterday. O'Malley said in court he was positive Battaglia was one of the robbers, but the defendant's lawyer said the policeman had been reported as saying he was not positive.

"This is a hot case thrown in Police Commissioner Alcock's lap," Attorney Julius Reznik, counsel for Battaglia, protested to Judge Lyle. "He is trying to solve it by Policeman O'Malley's perjured testimony. If the court will be satisfied with Alcock's stand I will be satisfied but I would not make these charges unless I could prove them."

Alcock to Testify.

The attorney then said he would bring six alibi witnesses into court in Battaglia's behalf. Judge Lyle said he thought Acting Police Commissioner Alcock should answer the accusation and he directed that Alcock be subpoenaed for today.

Assistant State's Attorney Frank Mast replied to Reznik's charge by asking O'Malley if he would admit being influenced in his identification, if such were the truth. O'Malley said he would tell the truth.

Attorney Reznik then asked the chauffeur-policeman if he hadn't changed his original statement as to the make of automobile used by the robbers and O'Malley said this was so. His statement in court was that he learned later the bandits used a car of the kind owned by Battaglia. Judge Lyle turned to O'Malley, saying:

"I appreciate your position. I don't want you to get in any trouble. I don't want you to identify any one for your chief in order that he can clean up a robbery."

The witness protested that he was not doing that and Judge Lyle asked him how he came to be assigned to act as chauffeur for Mrs. Thompson.

"I was assigned by Mr. Kelly, secretary to the mayor," O'Malley answered.

Criticism from the Bench.

"He has a lot of authority," Judge Lyle commented. "I tried to get a policeman through the police commissioner but wasn't able to get one. I am inclined to believe that if the committee would put those five captains out on the street instead of around a musty old office he would be better off.

"We are in the midst of an effort to clean up Chicago. I think it is carried on with very little assistance from the police commissioner. If Alcock substantiates O'Malley's testimony I will have to hold Battaglia over to the grand jury. But from testimony presented it should be investigated to see if the commissioner is merely trying to clean up a case."

4 GUNMEN ROB BAKERY DRIVER.

Four gunmen yesterday forced a car driven by Michael Schmidt, an employe of the Home Baking company, to the curb and robbed him of $600 and $400 in checks at North Springfield and Wrightwood avenues. Schmidt lives at 2230 West Division street.

INTO A DITCH!

"My wheels struck a culvert, and I crashed into the ditch. Of course, I thought my insurance covered me, but I found out that the insurance company did not consider sliding into a ditch a collision, and, as a matter of fact, that the policy expressly excluded such accidents."

A complaint such as this will never be uttered by the member of the Chicago Motor Club who has placed his insurance with the Inter-Insurance Exchange. The policy issued by the "exchange" considers sliding into a ditch a collision and the claims department handles it as such.

Another feature of the policy issued by the "exchange" is that it is the valued form which, in the event of total loss, pays the face value of the policy.

Did your child have Sore Throat this month?

A half-sick, run-down child is ill-equipped to face winter's dangers. With strength at a low ebb, even an ordinary sore throat may be serious.

Now is the time to build up health and vigor. Father John's Medicine is a simple food medicine that contains no drugs, no alcohol. Children thrive on it amazingly. Where there is vitamin deficiency in the diet, results are literally surprising. Pale cheeks glow with health and color. Appetite becomes keen and sharp. Pounds are added. Colds are few and far between.

Because of its combination of cod liver oil with other valuable ingredients Father John's Medicine brings all the benefits of cod liver oil in the form it will do the most good. Each tiny globule of oil is so finely broken up that it is easily and quickly assimilated by even the most delicate stomach. And it actually tastes good!

Just ask your druggist for Father John's Medicine. It is used regularly by over 184 hospitals and institutions. Give it regularly. You may be amazed and delighted at the results. Sometimes it is the one missing element that makes a vital difference in a child's health and vigor.

Foundation Garments

All-in-One $15

Lace of the most charming delicacy, with a dainty medallion pattern, fashions the brassiere top, and there is a lace ruffle around the bottom to match. The foundation is batiste, entirely boneless, for the more slender, tall figure.

Third Floor, Wabash.

Duosette, $10

Step-in Girdle, $20

LINE STAR IS FORCED OUT BY 3 YEAR RULE

Wildcats Wonder What's Next.

Misfortune struck again at Northwestern's football team yesterday when Harry Kent, regular right guard, was declared ineligible for violation of the three year playing rule.

Kent's case was considered by Northwestern's eligibility committee, which concluded that the veteran Wildcat star was no longer eligible. Kent, who was a transfer from Central Teachers college of Oklahoma, previously had been declared eligible for one more year of competition by Prof. T. E. French of Ohio State, chairman of the Big Ten committee on eligibility.

Information concerning the case which previously had not been known by either the conference committee or by Northwestern university was produced Monday, resulting in the adverse decision.

Played Two Years at N. U.

Kent, a dental student, has had two years of competition at Northwestern and it was ruled that the year he played at the Oklahoma school should also be counted. Previously it had been accepted that competition at Central college did not count.

Loss of Kent, in addition to all the other ill luck which has shadowed the team during the last few days has served to cast considerable gloom in the Wildcat's camp. Preparations for the Illinois game Saturday reached a new low yesterday. With scrimmage abandoned because of vaccination and three regulars, Bruder, Russell and Kent lost, the Purple did not consider their prospects bright.

Running signals on several new plays and brushing up on those already in their repertory constituted yesterday's workout. Each player has been equipped with a leather pad to wear over his vaccination. Jimmy Evans, captain of the city championship Schurz High school team of 1927, ran signals at right guard in place of Kent.

5,000 Fans to Cheer Purple.

The Wildcats will not lack for a cheering section Saturday. Over 5,000 Purple rooters will make the trip to Champaign for the annual game between the two teams. Practically the entire student body will descend on Urbana either by auto or train.

Coach Hanley will not take his team to Champaign until Saturday morning. The squad will be quartered at a south side hotel Friday night and will board a special train Saturday morning for the three hour ride to the Illini stronghold.

Dwindling lines of applicants for vaccination yesterday indicated that Northwestern's smallpox scare was practically at an end. About 100 students were inoculated during the day and less than half that number were expected to present themselves today.

Among those to be vaccinated today, however, is Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president of the university. Dr. Scott said that he had had no contact with Bruder, but as he had not been vaccinated for a number of years, he believed it advisable to have it done.

ILLINI GIVEN SCRIMMAGE.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—The University of Illinois football team today began work on its assignment of winning the homecoming day battle with Northwestern here Saturday. Despite the heat, Coach Zuppke sent his team through a long scrimmage against a freshman team which used Purple plays.

Starting the scrimmage for the varsity were Swanson and Owen, ends; Hillis and Bodman, tackles; Jensen and Overman, guards; Bauer center; Chatquarter back; Berry and Yanushalf backs, and Capt. Robinson, full back.

Stagg, Injured by Player, Directs Team from Car

Any one who doubts that the Maroon linemen hit hard has only to ask Coach A. A. Stagg. Last Friday the coach was illustrating a blocking lecture for Carl Gabel, a sophomore end, and during the session he inadvertently came in sharp contact with some player's knee. His back was still paining him after remaining in bed yesterday up until time for practice, so he had Mrs. Stagg take the helm of his old electric automobile and drive him up and down the Chicago practice field while he lolled back yelling instructions to his pupils through a megaphone.

Nor did Stagg's observations from his carriage cause him much joy. Capt. Van Nice is out for at least three weeks and possibly will not be available again this season. That alone practically eliminates the effectiveness of the Maroon offense. On top of that an examination by physicians revealed that Ed Stackler, sophomore fullback, broke a bone in his ankle in the Wisconsin game and will not be seen in action again this year.

Florida comes to the Midway Saturday for the first of three intersectional contests. Mississippi and Princeton will appear on Stagg field Oct. 25 and Nov. 1 respectively.

Red Grange, Professional, Talks About Football

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The general public which keeps in touch with what's going on in the world by taking an occasional glance at the headlines is beginning to think of Red Grange as a certain legendary character who flashed across the front page in 1924. They remember him as the ice man who made good, the fellow who turned a numeral into a byword until the mention of "77" called up the image of a twisting, dodging, fleetfooted half back known as the Galloping Ghost.

Football fans still know him as the young man who goes out to Wrigley field every morning to run through practice with the Chicago Bears. They know him as the half back who will be in there next Sunday playing for all he's worth in the first game of football's city series against the Cardinals.

Jones Says He's Greater.

But the general public thinks of him as the college player who turned pro and merged his individuality with all the other fellows who are out there on the gridiron working for a living. They don't know how he's been developing in big time company—how he's been adding to his skill and experience game after game until now Coach Jones pronounces the Red Grange of 1930 a greater football player than the Red Grange of 1924 and 1925.

"Pro football?" people will say. "No kick in that. Those fellows haven't the old college spirit—the desire to win at all costs. They don't care what the score is as long as they get their pay check at the end of each week."

But maybe it would be well to get an opinion on this matter from one of the players themselves. Maybe the people who acquire their knowledge of professional football from the radio announcer or a casual glance through the newspapers don't quite understand how a fellow feels out there on the field. But Red's been there. He knows.

RED GRANGE.

Talks About Pro Game.

He was found yesterday morning after practice stretched out on a table in the locker room at Wrigley field, under the care of Andy Lotshaw, the fellow whose business it is to take a man out of a wheel chair and put him on a football field or a baseball diamond. Not that there was anything the matter with Red—but Andy be-

McCARTHY SIGNS FOR 2 YEARS AS YANKEE MANAGER

New York, Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Joseph Vincent McCarthy, for the last five seasons manager of the Chicago Cubs, today signed a two year contract to manage the New York Yankees. The financial terms of the document were not made public, but McCarthy stated without hesitation that "it is the best contract I have ever received in baseball."

JOE McCARTHY.

After the actual contract signing the event was dramatized in the Yankee offices with Col. Ruppert and the new manager exchanging felicitations and a fountain pen with which each in turn autographed some sheets of yellow paper which doubled in the rôle of the agreement which appointed McCarthy as successor to Bob Shawkey, manager of the Yanks for the current year.

Praises Outgoing Manager.

Movietone cameras and sound machines, still cameras and a gathering of newspapermen viewed the ceremony. Col. Ruppert took the opportunity to record on the movietone record a eulogy of Bob Shawkey, the outgoing manager.

"I have the highest regard for Shawkey," he said. "He was one of the first players we purchased after I became interested in the club. I think he did very well this year. He was in a tough spot and I doubt if any manager could have done better.

"McCarthy will be absolute boss of the Yankees. Everything is up to him. All we ask is that he give us a winner, bring New York back into

Fans Cool to Big Boxers' Fickleness

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 14.—The heavyweight pugilists are indulging in much talk, listing those who for various reasons do not deserve to be fought by them. Altogether, the situation is cluttered with so many social, political, and professional aversions that just now there are no two prize fighters among the so-called leaders of the set who find one another compatible and eligible.

The customers, strangely enough and for the first time in years, appear to be unanimously agreed that if none of them ever fights again it will be a thousand years too soon, and the heavyweight class is dying of inactivity, apathy, larceny, and wealth.

There will be no flowers at the funeral, but for lack of any other more fitting disposal of the Tunney-Muldoon tombstone which now obstructs the lobby of the new Garden, the trophy of a fraudulent trade, it might be a good idea to cart it off to some dump and mount it there amid the rest of the rubbish as a monument to the moribund heavyweight division.

This is no opportune time for the pugilists to be naming those whom they do not wish to fight, for every such list has been greeted with a resounding silence from the patrons, indicating that it will be quite O. K. with them if none of them ever enters a ring again.

William Stribling will not fight Sharkey nor Carnera. Sharkey will not fight Carnera nor Stribling. Max Schmeling seems determined not to fight any one, and Carnera, in his first fight in this country against a pugilist above the grade of the common stumble-bum, lost a decision to James Maloney, who is flattered when he is called a third rater, indicating that even if Primo should want to fight, he couldn't.

This decline of the heavyweight business has been steady. Since the demise of Tex Rickard and while the regrettable depression in the market holdings of the millionaire devotees

BRAVES TRADE SMITH TO CUBS FOR M'AFEE, CASH

Deal Took 'Lot' of Money, Says Veeck.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Robert E. Smith, actually a skilled pitcher but never able to prove it because of attachment to a team of lowly estate, yesterday became a Cub in good standing. His escape from the Boston Braves was engineered by the Chicago club by use of money and the services of a couple of athletes who meant nothing in Rogers Hornsby's 1931 plans.

All that President William Veeck would say in connection with the money angle was that "It was a lot." This was taken to mean something in the neighborhood of $35,000.

In order that the transfer of Smith wouldn't look like too much of a move in the interests of the Braves' treasury and of the Cubs' flag chances for next season, the Chicago club included Pitcher Bill McAfee. McAfee is the former University of Michigan performer who was taken on the training trip last spring and recalled this fall after seasoning with the Reading International league team.

Help in Angels Deal.

Another thing the Cubs had to do before the Braves would consent to Smith's departure was to arrange for the purchase by Boston of Wes Schulmerick, an ex-collegian who has been playing in the outfield for the Los Angeles team for several years.

The Braves endeavored to buy the youngster outright from Los Angeles, but the latter club being the property of William Wrigley, also owner of the Cubs, refused to sell him, unless the Chicago outfit was agreeable. The idea was that the Cubs might want Schulmerick for themselves, possibly in another year.

The amount paid for Schulmerick was not divulged. In addition to money the Braves turned over to the Angels Outfielder Jimmy Welsh, who five years ago was purchased from Seattle for $50,000.

Smith, who seldom is an easy man to score against, served at Boston long enough to be entitled to promotion to a better team. The Braves have had him since 1923, prior to which he was with New Orleans and Washington. At that time he was an infielder and remained such until 1925. Even now he is a pretty handy man at shortstop. It was he who in 1927 pitched the famous 22 inning game against the Cubs. Another thing that will make him of value is his ability as a rescuer.

Winns 11 Games.

During the last season Smith was in 38 ball games, winning 11 and losing 14. He is a curve ball pitcher and usually has excellent control. He was born at Rogersville, Tenn., April 22, 1898.

The purchase of Smith and Sweetland completes the Cub activities for the present. President Veeck is leaving tomorrow for a vacation at Virginia Hot Springs and Manager Hornsby is about to motor from his present home at St. Louis to his old home in Texas. Both will be back in Chicago the first part of next month.

ROBINS GET O'DOUL

New York, Oct. 14.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Robins today obtained two Philadelphia stars, Outfielder Frank [Lefty] O'Doul, 1929 National league batting king, and Second Baseman Fresco Thompson, in exchange for two pitchers, one rookie outfielder, and a good sized check.

The Robins, in fortifying for 1931 two of the positions in which they were weak this year, outbid two other National league clubs, including the Chicago Cubs, in the scramble for Phillie talent.

ROCKNE JUGGLES IRISH LINEUP FOR CARNEGIE GAME

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—With scrimmage against Carnegie Tech plays promised for tomorrow, Coach Rockne sent his first three teams through another drill on fundamentals this afternoon. Rockne juggled his first three team lineups until it was hard to tell which team was which.

With Frank Leahy, who was injured shortly before the season opened, still out of uniform, Al Culver was at left tackle on the varsity, with Kurth in Donoghue's place at right tackle. Donoghue worked out this afternoon with the second string. McManman was on the third team at this position.

Mullins, who was injured against Southern Methodist two weeks ago, worked with the third team at full back, while Joe Savoldi, Carideo, Schwartz, and Brill composed the varsity back field. The rest of the first string was intact. On the second squad Jashwhich, Koken, and O'Connor retained their places in the back field, with Christman, Bernie Lahy, and Kaplan on the third string, but the line saw a severe shakeup.

GEORGE LOTT, STAR OF TENNIS COURT, MARRIES

Elkton, Md., Oct. 14.—(AP)—George Martin Lott, international tennis star and Davis cup player, and Miss Abigail Stapleford Allen were married here today. Lott gave his age as 23 and his address Chicago. The license said Miss Allen was 21 and lived at Abington, Pa.

Miss Allen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clayton Allen of Abington, a fashionable suburb of Philadelphia. She made her debut Dec. 15, 1928, at a dance given by her parents in a Philadelphia hotel.

Lott was said to have met Miss Allen while he was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fitz Eugene Dixon in Highland Park, Pa., with other members of the Davis cup team.

KING LEVINSKY STEALS SHOW; STOPS KIRBY

Barney Ross Halts Binder in 2d.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

His majesty, Al Singer, king of the lightweights, favored nine thousand Chicagoans with his first appearance in the city last night at the Stadium. While the champion defeated Eddie Mack in ten rounds, undoubtedly many of the crowd went away puzzled how Singer won the title from Sammy Mandell with a one round knockout.

The New Yorker has assumed all the prerogatives of his rank. Mack apparently was awed by Singer's reputation, and particularly by the champion's left hook, the blow which toppled Mandell from the throne. Mack was so impressed with Singer's appearance that he fought the major portion of the ten rounds in retreat. Infrequently he stood his ground, and then only momentarily, ever ready to clinch.

The bout was not for the title, both men weighing more than 135 pounds.

Although Singer was unable to land effectively with his left hook, he used it a score of times. From a crouch the champion leaped forward, both feet off the canvas, but Mack's agility and ability to travel backward never permitted receipt of the full force of the blow.

Singer's best exhibition came in the sixth round. Four lefts and a right to the jaw encouraged the crowd to believe the champion would win by a knockout. Mack weathered the attack and thereafter Singer was content to coast to the finish assured of a favorable decision.

Mack Opens Singer's Eye.

Mack butted Singer in the second round and opened a deep gash over the champion's left eye and then repeated the foul in the ninth. The New Yorker also had poor marksmanship and was warned three times for low blows. Singer arrogantly declined Mack's apology after the ninth round foul and for the remaining minutes it seemed as if he was determined to exact toll for the presumption on his good nature. But his charging runs were unavailing.

The champion had at least an edge in every round except the second and fifth, when by his own feinting and shadow boxing he permitted Mack to break even.

Stadium officials announced the paid attendance as 9,524. The receipts were $29,197.62.

Levinsky Stops Kirby.

While the crowd was curiously interested in Singer, it came to cheer King Levinsky. And Levinsky rewarded it by knocking out Tom Kirby of Boston in the second round. Again the King demonstrated a complete lack of boxing skill, which was immaterial in that he crowded in close to his wary opponent early in the second session and landed a mighty right to the back of Kirby's head. Tom went down like a felled ox, his face pressed to the dirty brown canvas. This grotesque position was maintained while Referee Norm McGarrity counted ten.

Then the King assisted in the difficult task of unkinking Kirby's paralyzed legs and dragging him to his corner. Here Kirby lolled unconscious while his seconds slapped and massaged until he opened his eyes.

Kirby Wins First Round.

Until the knockout blow Kirby had threatened to teach his young opponent lessons in weaving and dodging an assortment of left and right swings. At least a dozen or more such missed in the first round, missed so badly the crowd laughed. But the King pushed ahead determinedly until within striking distance and the knockout was accomplished.

Kid Francis, European bantamweight, defeated Harry Fierro in ten rounds, repeating a former victory in the same ring. Fierro started at such a pace it seemed impossible he could maintain it for thirty minutes. Francis fought a defensive battle for two rounds, conserving his strength. Despite this handicap, Francis opened up to pile up the winning points.

Hitting from any position, and always a bit quicker than Fierro, he traded blow for blow and slipped in enough extra slaps to the face and body punches to earn the decision. The bout was easily the best of the card.

Ross Stops Binder.

Barney Ross, a graduate of the Golden Gloves intercity competition, stopped Sammy Binder of New York in two rounds. Barney waged one of the best fights of his career. He crashed through his taller opponent's defense in the second round and had him helpless and reeling unprotected in the center of the ring. Just as Referee Johnny Behr stopped the bout the bell rang.

Dick Sisk won a six round slugging match from Jack Philips in the opening bout.

Bruder's Car Not Stolen; Friend Just Took It Home

The automobile of Hank Bruder, Northwestern University football star who is now in the Chicago isolation hospital, ill of smallpox, was not stolen as had been reported to the Evanston police Monday. One of Bruder's fraternity brothers told the police last night that Miss Omega Gilbert, 1633 Ridge avenue, Evanston, a friend, had taken the car to her home for safe keeping.

FANS SAY HORSE WITH BAD LIVER CAN'T WIN, BUT—

Cheers and His Ailment Are First Under Wire.

BY FRENCH LANE.

"If Lieutenant Russell, the ex-selling plater, beats Golden Prince we'll know that he is a great horse."

That was the comment among horsemen at Hawthorne yesterday shortly before the running of the Artists and Models purse at a mile and seventy yards for 3 year olds and upwards.

But just when the crowd settled back to see Lieutenant Russell and Golden Prince fight it out, something happened; something is always happening at Hawthorne.

As these two old tigers of the turf got ready to stage a ding-dong struggle in the stretch they didn't seem to notice that there was a horse called Cheers running along smoothly some two lengths in front of them. If they did realize Cheers was out there they didn't consider him seriously for wasn't Cheers noted strictly as a sprinter and after he was beaten in his last race, a dash at six furlongs, didn't the judges announce that Cheers was suffering from plethora of the liver?

Fans Diagnose Trouble.

When you start talking about plethora of the liver you will soon discover that it is considered a very serious ailment by race horses as well as racegoers. Neither Lieutenant Russell nor Golden Prince gave Cheers any consideration and the race players dropped him as they would a hot coal.

After Cheers came on home a length and a half in front of Lieutenant Russell and old Chicago had nipped Golden Prince for the show by a lip, the arguments came thick and fast. One group on the lawn was going deep into that plethoria of the liver stuff and the next group was discussing whether Lieutenant Russell is a great horse because he beat Golden Prince.

"How can he be a great race horse even if he trimmed Golden Prince when a horse with plethora of the liver can hand him a length and a half trouncing?" asked one regular, and the argument continued until the bugle sounded for the next race.

Cheers, despite his liver trouble, ran the mile and seventy yards in 1:42 4-5, which was just a little more than a second off the track record. In the mutuel betting he paid $20.14 to win, $6.48 to place and $5.06 to show. Many horsemen last night were wishing that some of their steeds would suffer an attack of plethora of the liver.

Johns Rides 3 Victors.

Jockey Johns was the star of the afternoon when he rushed home on three winners. He started in the second race when he got the 7 to 1 shot, Kelly's Pride, up in time to nip Red Cross Princess. He came back in the third race and kicked old Jack Alexander to victory. Jack paid $7.66 in the betting. He wound up his string of triumphs on Royal Son, the favorite in the sixth race, when he beat Battle Ax by two lengths.

Cog Air, under a brilliant ride by Buddy Hanford, brought cheer to the favorite players in the Phil Baker purse when he got up in the last strides to beat Stuyvesant Peabody's long shot, T. S. Jordan, by a neck. Hanford's ride on Cog Air was the best of the day. He headed into the stretch far behind. Then he picked a careful path to get up into contention and took a desperate chance a sixteenth from home to go in next to the rail and score the verdict.

Cog Air was heavily backed, but so were Poppyfield and Best Man. Cog Air paid $7.00. He ran the six furlongs in the good time of 1:12.

PURDUE BUILDS ATTACK TO WIN FROM HAWKEYES

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Seeking a sustained drive that will enable the Purdue offense to click from start to finish occupied Boilermaker football coaches this afternoon as they started whipping the squad into shape for its tilt with Iowa at Iowa City Saturday.

Howard Kissell, half back, and Roy Horstman, full back, who showed to advantage against the Wolverines, were given a lot of attention by the coaches and may start against the Hawkeyes.

IOWA SMASHES FROSH.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Freshman opposition was smashed by the University of Iowa varsity running attack today as the Hawks tried out new formations for Saturday's game with Purdue.

Leo Jensvold, who was moved from quarter back to half for the pentenary game last week, continued to lead the Iowa ground gainers with slashing drives off the tackles. He also did most of the forward passing. Kriz was used in place of Jensen at full back most of the afternoon.

HANSEN REJOINS HOOSIERS.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Jack Hansen, River Forest, Ill., varsity end last year, returned to the Indiana football squad today following an operation for appendicitis several weeks ago. Dauer, Saluski, and Edmonds, back field men who were kept out of the Oklahoma game last Saturday with leg injuries, also rejoined the team.

The Hoosiers spent the afternoon in working on a new defense for the flanker pass attack Minnesota is expected to uncover Saturday. Fritz Crisler, Gopher coach, learned the formation from A. A. Stagg while an assistant coach at Chicago.

Ficucello Gets 10 Round Decision Over Sandwina

Joe M'Carthy Signs to Pilot Yanks 2 Years the world's series and the world's championship. I hope next time it will be a five year contract he signs with us."

McCarthy Speaks His Piece.

McCarthy, in his acceptance speech, said he was very happy to take this position and to come into the American league under such fine conditions.

McCarthy announced that he "expected" to have Jimmie Burke, who has been his assistant for the last few years, as one of his coaches on the New York team adding, however: "But I have not yet spoken to him about it."

Today's official announcement of McCarthy's appointment fulfilled the anticipation of baseball men who have considered McCarthy in line for the position ever since he resigned the Chicago managership in favor of Rogers Hornsby in the closing week of the National league season.

The new Yankee chief enjoys the distinction of having become one of baseball's most highly esteemed managers without ever having attained major league rank during his playing days. A short term with the Brooklyn team of the short-lived Federal league in 1915 was the closest he ever came to attaining organized baseball's upper strata.

When the Federal league disbanded McCarthy joined the Louisville team of the American association and stayed ten years, first as second baseman. In 1919 he became player-manager, and in 1920 gave up the playing side of the game to devote all his efforts to managing. He managed the Colonels to two pennants.

With the Cubs, after taking charge in the fall of 1925, he built up the team by judicious selection of minor league players. The winning of the 1929 pennant climaxed his Chicago career.

EDITH QUIER IS BEATEN, 2 UP, BY SAN JOSE GOLFER

Other Favorites Win 1st Round Matches.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 14.—(AP)—Led by the defending champion, Glenna, Collett, and the imperturbable Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, medalist, favorites with one exception, stroked their way to victories today in first round matches of the 1930 women's national amateur golf championship. The unexpected upset saw Miss Edith Quier, Reading, Pa., member of this year's international cup team, defeated by Mrs. Brent Potter, San Jose, Cal., 2 up.

Mrs. Potter, a veteran campaigner, never has engaged in a major tournament before, but among her golfing souvenirs is a northern California title and this year she reached the runner-up station in the state championship. She outsteadied her younger opponent throughout and was 2 up at the turn. Mrs. Potter had 41 for the first nine to 43 for Miss Quier.

Miss Collett, seeking her third successive title and fifth all time championship, set an unbeatable pace to eliminate Mrs. Harry Grossman, Los Angeles, 6 and 4. The New York star, seasoned by long competition, snatched the first four holes before her rival could gain her bearings.

Miss Collett Out in 40

She was four up at the turn, posting a medal of 40, one over par, to 45 for Mrs. Grossman. She won the tenth with a birdie 4, lost the eleventh 5 to 4, and the twelfth was halved in fives. Miss Collett clinched the match with a par 5 on the 13th and a birdie 5 on the 14th.

Medalist yesterday and national semi-finalist last year, Mrs. Hill advanced to the second round with a 4 and 3 victory over Miss Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis. The outgoing stretch was a nip and tuck affair, Mrs. Hill finishing 1 up. Each posted 42s. The Kansas City player kept straight down the course on the incoming holes while Miss Wall started pressing from the tee. Mrs. Hill won the tenth with a birdie 4, the next two holes were halved in 4 and 5, respectively, and the former won the 13th and 14th with pars of 5 and 6 to go 4 up. Par 3s halved the 15th where the match was clinched.

Two former champions, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, Philadelphia, and Miss Marion Hollins, Santa Cruz, Cal., moved into the second round without difficulty. Mrs. Hurd, who won the first of her three national crowns in 1909, eliminated Mrs. Russell Fowles, Long Beach, Cal., 6 and 4.

Mrs. Taylor Beaten.

Miss Hollins, 1921 champion, showed she still retains her game by defeating Mrs. John Taylor, Evanston, 3 and 2. Neither Mrs. Hurd nor Miss Hollins turned in sensational golf but their opposition were weak.

The best golf of the day was played by two girls in their teens. Miss Helen Hicks, 19 year old player from Inwood, N. Y., defeated Lucille De Long, 18 year old girl from Coronado, Cal., 3 and 1. Miss Hicks shot the first nine in 38, one under par, and she finished in a sub-par flurry that won her the match on the seventeenth. Had she played out the round a par five on the eighteenth would have netted her a 77, four under par.

Mrs. Leona Pressler, San Gabriel, last year's runner up, and Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, and Miss Maureen Orcutt, Haworth, N. J., lived up to expectations with easy conquests.

Tomorrow's second round pairings, 18 holes:

Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, vs. Mrs. Brent Potter, San Jose, Cal.
Miss Maureen Orcutt, Haworth, N. J., vs. Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, Philadelphia.
Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, vs. Miss Marion Hollins, Santa Cruz, Cal.
Mrs. Gregg Lifur, Los Angeles, vs. Mrs. Roy Green, Culver City, Cal.
Miss Helen Hicks, Inwood, N. Y., vs. Miss Barbara Lee, Oakland, Cal.
Mrs. Leona Pressler, San Gabriel, Cal., vs. Miss Hermione Wocker, Burlingame, Cal.
Miss Glenna Collett, New York City, vs. Miss Helen Hawkson, Los Angeles.
Mrs. Harley Higbie, Detroit, vs. Miss Peggy Waities, Buffalo, N. Y.

Hard to Beat

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Following are the cards of the match between Miss Helen Hicks and Miss Lucille De Long which the former won, 3 and 1, to reach the second round of the women's national amateur golf tournament:

Miss Hicks—out	544	454	449—38
Miss De Long—out	556	354	453—40
Miss Hicks—in	443	373	55
Miss De Long—in	535	563	58

SMALLPOX SCARE SCARES NOBODY AT OHIO STATE

Won't Vaccinate Players Who Faced N. U.

Columbus, O., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—The Ohio State football team will not be vaccinated because of its being exposed to the smallpox scare in the Northwestern game Saturday, Dr. Miller Luffee, team physician, announced today. The players, he said, were not in contact with Bruder, and unless some of the Northwestern players actually met by the Buckeyes in the game develop the disease the Ohioans will not have to be vaccinated.

The Ohio State freshmen led the varsity through a regular torment this evening with one forward pass after another.

Allen Holman, frosh coach and former varsity star, played with the yearlings. They were garbed in a Michigan type uniform. Holman's scheme resulted in three touchdowns.

SELLOUT AT MADISON.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Wisconsin's 34-0 defeat of Chicago put the town and student body solidly behind their team for the homecoming game with Pennsylvania here Saturday. Ticket sales this week suggest a sellout, and 42,000 are expected to see the game. The last seat between the goal lines was sold Monday.

After a severe drill on blocking two freshman teams took the ball and for an hour hurled against the varsity and second elevens the Pennsylvania plays taught them by the scouts. Lubrovich and Smith, varsity tackles, solved the attack and tossed it back repeatedly. The guards, Kabat and Pollerski, also did good work.

MOON MULLINS—THE IRON HAND

FORTUNATELY THE PATIENT IS OKAY EXCEPT FOR A SLIGHT FLESH WOUND AND A BLACK EYE, OFFICER. AND IN THE FUTURE I SHOULD ADVISE YOU TO ACT WITH LESS HASTE.
I HOLLERED FOR HIM TO HALT AND WHEN HE DIDN'T I THOUGHT HE WAS A GUY NAMED GRUNTMORE I WAS WATCHIN' FOR AND SHOT, DOCTOR—BUT I DIDN'T HIT HIM, HIS WIFE MUSTA DONE THAT.
I DID NOT! ON MY WORD OF HONOR, OFFICER. I NEVER EVEN TOUCHED HIM.
I DID GET A LITTLE CROSS ON ACCOUNT OF HIS COMIN' IN AT THAT HOUR. BUT ALL I DONE WAS STAND LIKE THIS, JUST LIKE I AM NOW, I HAD MY HAND UP LIKE THE STATUE OF LIBERTY—AND WHAT DOES WILLIAM DO?—HE GETS PANICKY AND JUMPS RIGHT OUT THAT WINDOW.
WHAT'D YOU HAVE IN YOUR HAND?
A SKILLET.

Fans Cool to Heavyweight Boxers' Whims

probably has had something to do with the condition, I have an idea that Mr. Will Carey, Rickard's successor in the Garden firm, has been largely responsible.

Some persons, including the depressed millionaires and the heavyweights, might feel inclined to blame Mr. Carey for this, but there are others who will think he has performed a public service and render him gratitude accordingly. It is my belief that Mr. Carey has been too honest for his responsibilities and if I were one of the depressed millionaires, owing shares of stock in the Garden which, at my last inspection, were just barely quotable, I should advocate his removal from office and the substitution of Jack Kearns, a gentleman with the correct temperament.

Also, I would listen attentively to a proposal to depose Mr. Frank Bruen, the business manager of the firm, and appoint some energetic conniver with schooling in the prize fight industry, which is blood kin of the hi-jacking industry, of whom I could nominate several.

Higher Form of Larceny.

Mr. Bruen is of the race track, and while the horse business is not and never has been without its larcenists, the prize fight business represents larceny in the post-graduate sense. A trainer or owner who fakes a horse race and is found out is barred from the tracks even as a spectator, but in prize fighting the commissions, which are political bodies, and always mindful of the interests of their friends and their friends' friends, never bar permanently any one who has any friends.

Mr. Carey and Mr. Bruen have been several guesses behind their problems from the time they took office and their most grevious failure was the recent Sharkey-Campolo promotion, a fight without an excuse, which did not come off. For the first time, the Garden firm was unable to go through with a production, and the fact that the bout was booked only to thwart Michael Malloy's Sharkey-Carnera undertaking in Chicago aroused some indignation in the trade.

The Garden concern, since Carey's accession, had made some pretense of sportsmanship, but in this case, when a small dealer seemed likely to make some money, the big store enforced its monopoly. Unable to produce this bout himself, Mr. Carey and his firm were not willing to let a man produce it who could. In the end there was no bout at all and the Garden suffered a loss of prestige worse than any since the firm was organized.

Campolo's Refusal Odd.

Incidentally, it was odd to hear that Mr. Campolo refused to consent to the transfer of the Sharkey bout indoors on the ground that his share of the gate would be reduced, considering that one week before the date originally set for this production he, Campolo, described himself as a wealthy Argentine patriot, fighting for the glory of his country and without the slightest thought of any earnings that might accrue.

The pugilists themselves will hardly know what to make of the customers' unconcern now that they have all discovered strong reasons why nobody deserves to be fought by them. Always hitherto there was a tendency to scold them for evading logical opponents or appeal to their loyalty to the public, but in the present case their determination to avoid one another is meeting with enthusiastic assent.

Judging by past performances, I should say that the only time the customer can be fairly sure of a square deal from the current heavyweight class is when he stays at home and keeps his money.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

DIRECTORS AND COACHES.

HERBERT O. [FRITZ] CRISLER, athletic director and head football coach at the University of Minnesota, will not retain his gridiron mentorship permanently. Whether he will retire at the end of this season or later remains to be determined, but he already has discovered that in his dual rôle he has not time for all the duties which he must perform.

A. A. Stagg at Chicago and Crisler are the only athletic directors in the Big Ten also serving as head football coach. George Huff at Illinois was the first to recognize that the building up of an athletic department and physical education for all students was enough work for one man. Later, Yost at Michigan came to the same conclusion, although he never will be quite able to resist the temptation to assist his coach when things are breaking badly. George Little at Wisconsin had the same experience.

At Chicago, conditions are somewhat different. Chicago has not the large undergraduate body of the state universities. There is too much work for Stagg, but "The Old Man" loves football, and we honestly believe he would rather coach, facing the impossible handicaps at the Midway, than occupy a berth less exacting on the nerves. To the writer, and also in public, he has stated he expects to direct Maroon football for many years to come.

Crisler stepped into what was regarded as a tough spot at Minnesota, a position he had declined five years ago. There was the Gopher element who wished to retain Dr. Spears, whose insistence on unlimited authority in his own field did not set well with all faculty members. There also was an element who wished to see Bernie Bierman, Tulane coach and once a Gopher, installed.

Crisler's personality apparently stilled factionalism. If Stanford, following the Vanderbilt defeat, had repeated the debacle, there might have been rumblings. It was before that game we talked with Fritz, however, and he already had made up his mind what was best for Minnesota.

"Minnesota always has been strong in football. Other sports have not been as prominent. We have a large body of undergraduates. We feel intramural sports should be built up. One man cannot do that effectively and give so much time to football."

"Will you wait until you have a successful gridiron season?" we inquired, for Minnesota then was only a forlorn hope against Stanford.

In his slow spoken manner, Fritz replied, "I have no obstinate pride on that score. I would prefer it, of course, but it's not essential. The point is, we play Stanford out there next year on Oct. 10. It hardly would be fair to a new coach to ask him to assume such a burden." That is Chisler's type.

That's the Minnesota situation.

Jockey Club Stakes.

The Kentucky Jockey Club stakes, to be contested at Louisville tomorrow, never has been won by a "no account" colt. This late fall test for 2 year olds over a mile route, with first money around $30,000, is supposed to give a good line on 3 year old prospects. While Jamestown is not carded to start, Equipoise of the Whitney stable will supply the test for the opposing field.

Previous winners have been Tryster, Startle, Enchantment, Wise Counsellor, Master Charlie, Cantor, Valorous, Reigh Count, Clyde Van Dusen and Desert Light. Seven of these ten subsequently were future book favorites for the Kentucky Derby. Reigh Count and Clyde Van Dusen won the Kentucky Derby.

Home Town Folk Get All Ready to Say "Hello, Hack"

Martinsburg, W. Va., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—The citizens of Martinsburg, home town of Hack Wilson, named by baseball writers, the National league's most valuable player, as well as its all time home run champion, today completed arrangements to honor the Chicago star upon his return to this city some time next week.

Plans call for a street parade, escorting Wilson to the public square, and the presentation by Mayor Chris H. Dailey of a loving cup.

Becker Finds His Second Salamander

BY BOB BECKER.

If this fall you encounter a small, lizard like creature under an old log, under a plank, under moist leaves or in the bottom of your nearly dry rain barrel take a good look at him, because he's one of the most interesting forms of wild life found in the central states. This lizard like, shy, inoffensive creature is a salamander, an amphibian, a scaleless amphibian. Frogs and toads are his near relatives.

The second specimen of a salamander that we have ever seen in Chicagoland was brought to our house Sunday by Pete Jenkisson, a neighbor's boy. He found the specimen in a rain barrel. The other salamander that we examined some nine years ago was found (also in October) under a plank in a yard.

Fishermen ought to be acquainted with the mud puppy, one of the wholly equatic and very large salamanders in this country, because worm fishermen are apt to snag one of 'em while fishing in the streams in the central states. You can find 'em in the Des Plaines river close to Chicago, in the lagoons in Chicago parks, and in Lake Michigan.

The mud puppy looks something like a plump lizard with a stout body, short legs, and a large head, with velvety red gills on the side of the neck. The color is dark brown or grayish brown, with small black dots on occasional specimens. This harmless mud puppy must have water in order to live. In other words, it spends its whole life in lakes or streams.

The salamander which we examined Sunday was undoubtedly the spotted salamander, because it had two rows of yellow spots on its back. They were regularly placed. Karl P. Schmidt, assistant curator of reptiles and amphibians of the Field museum, who has just written an interesting little pamphlet on the "Salamanders of the Chicago Area," says that the museum has specimens of this particular salamander from the vicinity of Highland Park, north of Chicago. They sometimes are found under logs on the hard wood ridges northwest of Chicago.

We put this spotted fellow in a pool in the yard after handling him to examine him carefully. The morning after Mr. Salamander had crawled out. We have a hunch that he is hibernating under one of the rocks in the rock garden, or has crawled into the woods nearby to find a soft log for his winter sleep.

So while the trainer puttered about with those devices that seem so mysterious to the layman, Red talked about the things a fellow is up against when he steps out on the gridiron against eleven players who wouldn't be there unless they were all stars.

"One of the things I can't understand," he said, "is why any one should say that pros don't care whether they win or lose. There's nothing that makes a fellow feel worse than getting licked. It's in your blood—the desire to win, and you can't get away from it.

Money Angle Forgotten.

"Of course, there's the money angle of it. When you have a winning team the people like to come and see you play. But you don't think about that when you swing around end with the ball under your arm and suddenly see a chance to get loose. Then you forget everything except the desire to slam your way through everybody who's trying to stop you.

"It's a lot tougher to get loose against professionals because they know the game too well to be fooled. In college your mates can box a tackle or pull an end out of position, but these fellows are too wise.

"The spectators probably think the pros don't give a darn because they don't jump up after ever play, dash into position and keep hopping up and down like some college teams do. Those antics are supposed to be a sign of pep. As a matter of fact, they're just lost motion. They tire a fellow out without doing a bit of good. The pros know when to conserve their strength and when to let go with everything they've got.

Give Money's Worth.

"The mere fact that a salesman or bookkeeper is getting paid for his work isn't taken as a sign that he's not giving his best. We get paid for playing football. Is that any reason why we shouldn't try to play well?"

Red was asked how long he figured on continuing in the game.

"O, I'll keep at it for a few more seasons, probably. After that I don't know. You see, we can't go in for coaching college teams because professionals are barred.

"That's another thing I never could understand. College baseball teams are coached by professional baseball players, boxing and wrestling teams by professional boxers and wrestlers, but professional football players are looked upon as undesirables.

Cites Zuppke's Lament.

"While I was in college I was spending at least three hours a day on football. Now that I'm out, why should I let all that go to waste? I just scratched the surface of the game while I was in school. Bob Zuppke used to say, 'I work my head off to teach a fellow something about football and as soon as he begins to learn a little, he graduates.'

"When I got through I knew how to play half back, but not a thing about end or tackle or guard. If I hadn't turned pro I might have landed a coaching job like so many college athletes have. And what would I have known about it? After three years of play what do any of them know about it except how to play their own positions?

"I don't know how far football will carry me, but I'm in it. By the time my legs get stiff and my bones soft, I'll have something else figured out. But that will be some little time yet."

LOYOLA SENDS 24 PLAYERS TO NEW ORLEANS

Squad Leaves Today for Game in South.

Twenty-four Loyola university football players, plus coaches and trainers, will leave for New Orleans this afternoon to meet Loyola of the south Friday night.

The Ramblers' hopes for victory over their traditional foe have been considerably dimmed because of the absence of Ted Connelly at quarter, and the outcome of the battle will depend on how successfully Steve Furchess and Micky McClellan can fill the veteran's shoes.

Hold Last Scrimmage.

Last evening Coach Norton ran his charges through their last scrimmage session preparatory to the game Friday night, and Furchess and McClellan made fairly good showings.

The Loyola defense, which showed a marked improvement in the Duquesne game last week, functioned well last night and the freshmen, interpreting Loyola of the south's plays, were unable to penetrate the varsity's defense.

Friday night's combat will be the fifth annual meeting of the two schools. The score stands to date at two wins for the southern school, against one for Loyola of Chicago, and one tie.

Short Workout Today.

A short signal drill will be held early this afternoon before embarking for the southland, and another is scheduled under the lights at Loyola of New Orleans' stadium Thursday night immediately upon the Ramblers' arrival in the southern city.

The players making the trip are:

ENDS—Walsh, McNeil, Schuhman, Norton and Weimer. TACKLES—Lutzenkirchen, Gottschalk, Clancy and Fors. GUARDS—Capt. Poppelreiter and Nolan. CENTERS—Waesco and O'Brian. QUARTER BACKS—Furchess and McClellan. HALF BACKS—Capt. Molloy, Stadler, Murphy, Durkin, Plopkart and Howland. FULL BACKS—Casey, Drugay and Smith.

NEW COMMON AND PFD. FOR GENERAL THEATERS, PLAN

Clarke Gives Details of Stock Exchange.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

An outline of the plan for reclassification of the capital stock of General Theaters Equipment, Inc., was given yesterday by President Harley L. Clarke. The company is an important factor in the motion picture industry and owns a controlling interest in the Fox properties.

New convertible preferred stock and new common will be issued in exchange for the present capital stock, which is represented now by voting trust certificates. The exchange will be made on the basis of one share of new convertible preferred and two shares of common for every three certificates now outstanding.

The new preferred will be placed immediately on a $3 yearly dividend basis and is cumulative. The issue will be subject to redemption at $52.50 a share and will be convertible into common in the ratio of four shares of common for each five shares of preferred held.

Upon completion of the exchange on the basis of the terms announced there will be outstanding 1,898,636 shares of common stock and $49,319 shares of preferred stock.

Shares Close Higher.

Under heavy pressure in the early trading on the Chicago exchange General Theaters shares sagged to 17½ and then snapped back to finish with a net gain of 3⅛ points as the news of the company's plans began to leak out. Definite announcement of the proposed capital changes came after the close of the market.

The trend of the general market was irregular here yesterday. Weakness in the early trading gave way to a recovery movement which carried prices well above their lows and many active favorites above the level of last week's final quotations. Volume increased as the rally progressed, rolling up the day's transactions to 220,000 shares.

Shares of the companies directly involved in the Insull melon cutting plans were inclined to be easier, selling off moderately in each case. Stock of Insull Utility Investments, which holds large blocks of stocks of the companies planning the melons, ranged fractionally higher in the latter part of the session.

Commonwealth Edison rights were actively traded in on the curb exchange on a when issued basis. The final price was 14¼ and the high was 15. Peoples Gas rights were dealt in between 9⅞ and 10¼, the last sale being made at the latter price.

Serve Papers in Suit.

Grigsby Grunow and Majestic shares enjoyed a fairly heavy turnover, but showed little price change. The papers in the Grigsby Grunow company's suit against the Radio-Westinghouse interests were served yesterday in Harrison, N. J., according to dispatches. The complaint was served on the officials of the RCA Radiotron company, charging unlawful combination through "cross licenses."

The Chicago radio firm alleges actual damages of $10,000,000, but on the basis of the anti-trust laws claims $30,000,000. The complaint says that the defendants control more than 4,000 radio patents.

Stewart Rose, president of the Loudon Packing company, said yesterday that current earnings of the company indicate that the usual dividend will be paid Jan. 1, 1931. Noblitt Sparks Industries announced that earnings for the first nine months of the current year cover the full year's dividend requirements by a substantial margin. Net after charges for the period amounted to $402,721, equivalent to $5.14 a share on the 78,326 shares of capital stock now outstanding. In the corresponding months last year the company earned $489,673 net profit, which was equivalent to $6.25 a share. The company's stock is now on a $3 annual dividend basis.

STILL ANOTHER MELON IS DISHED UP BY INSULL

$14,600,000 Rights for Public Service.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The third of Samuel Insull's big public utility companies in the Chicago district came through with still another melon yesterday. Right on the heels of stocks purchase rights worth more than $29,000,000 to stockholders of the Commonwealth Edison and Peoples Gas Light and Coke companies, the Public Service company of Northern Illinois announced similar rights worth nearly $14,600,000.

Public Service stockholders of all classes of record Dec. 15 will be given the right to buy one new share of no par common stock at $100 for each 10 shares held. The directors paved the way for the melon by voting to ask the Illinois commerce commission for authority to issue additional common stock to the extent of 18 2-3 per cent of all stock now outstanding.

Worth $22 a Share.

Public Service common stock closed yesterday at 255, at which price the right to purchase additional stock would be worth about $22 a share on the present common stock. As there are 486,551 common shares outstanding, the value of these rights would total nearly $11,000,000. Based on authority to issue additional common stock should sell around 233 after the rights are exercised, affording a profit of about $133 a share over the purchase price.

This profit will also be afforded to holders of Public Service 6 and 7 per cent preferred stocks. The holders of 1 per cent preferred, with 100,000 shares outstanding, will derive a profit of $1,314,000 and the holders of the 5,870 shares of 7 per cent preferred will gain about $1,410,000. The offerings will require issuance of approximately 116,000 additional no par common shares.

Stockholders may make payment for the shares in full or in quarterly or six monthly payments, with the last payment on or before Feb. 2, 1931.

Car Loadings Gain.

And there was plenty of other cheerful news from trade and industry yesterday. The first week of October witnessed some pickup in general business, as evidenced by the movement of commodities by the railroads. Loading of revenue freight for the week ended Oct. 4 totaled 873,602 cars, an increase of 22,111 cars over the preceding week. Compared with a year ago, however, the current total shows a decrease of 207,540 cars and it also fell 214,540 cars below the same week in 1928.

Improvement in earnings of the Chicago and North Western railroad was predicted by President Fred W. Sargent. He estimated September net operating income around $3,000,000, making the best month this year and comparing with $2,621,000 in August and $1,353,595 in September, 1929. He stated that net income this month will approximate $3,200,000 and that in November and December it will run somewhat ahead of those months last year. Freight loadings of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific thus far this month have been about 10 per cent above the corresponding period in September, according to Vice President H. G. Clark.

A. T. & T. Income Rises.

Earnings of some of the great industrial companies also are not turning out so badly. The American Telephone and Telegraph company, greatest of corporations, yesterday reported third quarter net earnings of $41,725,-[illegible], or $2.55 a share on 16,323,854 shares, compared with $41,231,992 in the second quarter, or $2.77 a share on 14,847,826 shares, and $40,868,268 in the third quarter of 1929, or $3.10 a share on 13,184,129 shares. Net earnings for the nine months this year totaled $123,490,796, or $8.13 a share, compared with $120,970,806, or $9.25 a share, on the smaller number of shares then outstanding.

"Each month this year has shown an increase in the business done over the same month last year," President Walter S. Gifford said. "For the nine months this year the increase was 3 per cent over the same nine months last year. The net gain in telephones for the nine months was 120,000. The number of shareholders has increased 8,000 since the first of the year. The total at the end of September was 470,000."

General Electric Profit.

The General Electric company in the first nine months of this year had a profit available for common stock dividends of $42,518,708, or $1.47 a share, compared with $47,965,831, or $1.66 a share, for the corresponding period in 1929. Sales billed this year totaled $287,386,541, compared with $301,312,808 last year.

Another decline in petroleum production occurred last week, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum institute. Daily gross crude oil output was placed at 2,366,800 barrels, a decrease of 20,150 barrels a day from the previous week. Large declines in Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Wyoming more than offset increases in California and some of the Texas fields. Refineries operated at 66.5 per cent of capacity, compared with 67.2 per cent in the previous week. Gasoline stock increased slightly to 37,125,000 barrels.

Tells Bankers the Payment of Debts Is Prosperity Key

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New Orleans, La., Oct. 14.—To pay off our individual debts, even at the price of a lowering of living standards temporarily, is more important as a step toward the return of prosperity than expressions of confidence that it is already returning. This homely message was given to the convention of the Investment Bankers Association of America here today by Eugene R. Black, governor of the federal reserve bank of Atlanta.

"I don't believe in platitudes," said Mr. Black. "I do not agree with those who in their optimism are declaring that prosperity is just around the corner. I do not agree with those men who say that in America there must be no retrogression from the present high standard of living.

"I believe that we must be just and that we have to pay our debts. To do that I know that we have to economize. We have been living in an automobile, a Frigidaire, a radio era, and have been sitting in the atmosphere of a corona-corona. We cannot pay our debts and continue in that atmosphere. Let us not fool ourselves. We cannot have any permanent prosperity when there is a load of debt around our necks.

Would Be No Farm Problem.

"A mortgage on the home destroys the peace of the fireside. If the mortgages on our farms in America were paid there would be no farm problem. If American business had a secondary reserve, as banks have, there would be very little business problem.

"In America, I believe, we have got to assert our character. It is not confidence we need; it is certainty. It is the knowledge that business in America has an impregnable courage. Confidence bespeaks timidity and there is not so much timidity as fear in America."

This philosophy of the Atlanta banker, which has been so much in the background for the last five or six years that it might almost be said to look new as it came to light, was applauded politely by the investment bankers. It could hardly be said that the sentiments, however, were popular; so widely were they at variance with the talk of expansion and "prosperity just around the corner," that has marked most business gatherings in the last few months.

Traces South's Progress.

Mr. Black, who was introduced by Rudolph S. Hecht, New Orleans banker, had traced the industrial progress of the south since 1880, when the carpet bagger days ended, to the present. The problems at the start, he said, were what to do with the freed Negroes and how to reestablish the pre-civil war industry and agriculture.

Now the south has definitely turned into an industrial region, with only one state—Mississippi—producing annually more wealth by agriculture than by industry. As a section the manufacturing wealth produced is ten billions a year, the agriculture only half as much.

Aside from the speech of Mr. Black, the important events of the day at the convention included reports on municipal financing, public service securities, and railroads.

The situation in regard to defaulted Florida bonds was referred to as "the most difficult which has confronted the committee during the last year." No simple formula could be found to solve it, it was stated, and that recovery of municipal credit in that state depends upon the attitude and the action of responsible citizens of Florida itself.

Utility, Rail Outlook.

The successful operation and expansion of public utilities, particularly electric power and gas interests, was commented on. Progress of electric railroads toward better operating methods was outlined, although many such lines are still having a rough time. The railroad securities committee, speaking of the steam roads, said that "if the railroads are to continue to offer an attractive field for investment, and be able to raise sufficient new capital, the constant drain on their net operating income from declining rates and increased taxation must be checked."

Great Lakes Pipe Line Asks Illinois C. C. Permit

Permission is sought by the Great Lakes Pipe Line company, owned by the Barnsdall corporation, the Continental Oil company, and other companies, from the Illinois commerce commission to construct and operate a six inch steel pipe line to transport petroleum and its products as a common carrier from the Mississippi river to Chicago and to construct and operate a bulk storage terminal in Melrose Park.

BEARS FINDING IT DIFFICULT TO BORROW STOCKS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 14.—The greatest shortage of stock for lending purposes in New York financial history was disclosed today near the close of the session on the New York Stock exchange. The significance of this, which was not generally realized, lay in the fact that it had become exceedingly difficult for bears to borrow stocks, a necessary operation in the process of short selling.

The shortage of stocks for lending purposes, it is understood, has been brought about through a calling of loaned stocks by brokers and a marked reluctance to lend any more. In this was seen a result of the stock exchange's recent campaign against bear raiding, which has undermined the price structure several times in recent weeks.

Great Northern Railroad Orders 10,000 Tons of Rail

The Great Northern railroad has placed a preliminary order for 10,000 tons of rail, allocating 4,000 tons to the Illinois Steel company, 4,000 tons to Chicago and to construct and operate a bulk storage terminal in Melrose Park. to the Bethlehem Steel corporation and 2,000 tons to Inland Steel.

REFORM SOUGHT FOR STATE'S MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE LAWS

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Financiers, attorneys, and executives of organizations interested in real estate met at the Union League club last night to devise a way to reform what they called the antiquated Illinois laws covering mortgage foreclosures—a goal which, they said, would help improve the present unsatisfactory situation of real estate and realty securities. The meeting was called by Louis K. Boysen, president of the Chicago Mortgage Bankers' association and vice president of the First Union Trust and Savings bank.

Following warm discussion as to the best methods of procedure, the assembly appointed a committee consisting of leaders in real estate activity throughout the state to start immediate action to secure reform through the Illinois legislature.

Gen. Nathan William MacChesney, counsel for the National Association of Real Estate Boards, opened the discussion by suggesting consideration of the uniform mortgage law now in effect in Michigan and Minnesota and several other states. This law, he said, has the approval of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, the American Bar association, and other organizations.

Herbert Becker, vice president of the Chicago Title and Trust company, suggested amendment of existing laws rather than the passage of a new code because he felt it would be easier in this way to get legislative action.

The reason reform is desired is because of the time now required to foreclose and because of the high cost of foreclosure proceedings. It now requires about three years to foreclose on property in Illinois and the cost is heavy. Modernized procedure would reduce the cost of making loans because the lender must now bear in mind the high cost of possible foreclosure.

City's Building Permits Show $1,795,000 Decline

Building permits issued in Chicago from Oct. 1 to 11, inclusive, amounted to $2,281,000, a decrease of $1,795,000 over a corresponding period of 1929, E. M. Craig, executive secretary of the Building Construction Employers' association, announced last night.

N. American Buying Averts World Wheat Price Crash

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Demoralization in the world wheat market was only averted by North American speculators yesterday, a rush of buying by shorts and commission houses sweeping the Chicago market up 3@3¾c after all deliveries had dropped to a new low for the season and to the lowest price since 1906.

The December touched 75¼c at the start, when buyers were engulfed by a wave of selling, induced by one of the most drastic declines in years in the Liverpool market. The latter closed 3⅞@6¼c lower, with general liquidation under way, and it was claimed that Argentina was offering new crop grain at the lowest figures since 1901.

Weakness in foreign wheat markets, with keen competition to make sales abroad by Canada and Russia, as well as reports that the Canadian pool had lowered its initial advance payment to its members to 55c for No. 1 northern delivered at Fort William, or 5c less than was paid heretofore, had some effect on the American markets early. Opening prices were off around 2c, with buying by holders of bids and by commission houses with eastern connections checking the decline.

Confusion in Wheat Pit.

Closing wheat prices were well toward the top in North American markets. Chicago finished ¼@⅞c higher, with old style December at 78¼@78½c, March 82⅛@82⅛c, May 84⅝@84½c, and July 84⅝@84¾c. There was considerable confusion at the opening and again at the close, owing to the inauguration of trading in new and old style deliveries, incident to the change in the contract grades. New style deliveries on the active months were about ⅜c premium as compared with the old the greater part of the day.

Winnipeg wheat rallied 4¼c from the early low and closed ⅛@1⅜c higher, while Buenos Aires was off 2⅞@3c for the day, with the November delivery closing at 67⅛c. A break of 1½c in the exchange rate had considerable influence on the Argentine market.

Part of the buying of wheat futures which assisted in making the upturn from the low point was attributed in pit gossip to the further removal of hedges against cash grain by Russia. This was the third day buying has been attributed to that country.

The trade was disappointed over the showing made in the domestic visible supply of wheat, which increased 79,000 bu for the week. The total is 203,072,000 bu, against 192,567,000 bu last year. The bureau of agricultural economics' weekly report, however, showed a reduction of 2,581,000 bu for the week.

Millions of bushels of wheat in parts of northern Alberta and Saskatchewan will never be threshed, according to reports from Winnipeg during the day. A severe rain and snow storm which swept over the northern areas make it problematical whether threshing can be completed in that section this fall. The report had some effect on the Winnipeg market.

Corn in Strong Rally.

Corn dropped 2@2¾c at the opening in Chicago on Tuesday, in sympathy with wheat and on liquidation by longs, but the market reversed its action later and advanced 2¼@2½c from the low point and finished ¼@1⅛c higher, with local bulls aggressive buyers on the way up. Old style December was 80⅛@80¾c, March 80⅞@81¼c, May 83¼@83⅝c to 83½c, and July 83⅞@84c at the last.

Movement of new grain is steadily increasing, with 26 cars received here yesterday, making 55 cars since Sept. 22. Last year the first car of new corn was received on Oct. 7.

New Low on Oats Futures.

All deliveries of oats sold at a new low on the crop early with other grains, but there was no material pressure later when shorts and commission houses started to buy. The finish was ¼@⅜c higher, with old style December 36⅝@36¾c, March 38⅜c, and May 39¾@39⅞c. There was buying of December and selling of May around 3c difference.

Rye broke with wheat early and rallied with that grain later and closed ¾@1¼c higher, with December 49c and May 55c. Nothing was heard regarding export demand.

ELECT DE BILLE HEAD OF UTILITY BOND AND SHARE

Waldemar De Bille, La Salle street banker, has been elected president of the Utility Bond and Share company, 141 South La Salle street, it was announced yesterday. The company was formed recently through the consolidation of a number of security houses. Utility Bond and Share has branches located in fourteen cities, with headquarters in Chicago. Mr. de Bille announced that it is the immediate intention of the company to double the number of its branches within the next few months. He will remain as president of the banking house which bears his name.

Chevrolet Makes Purchase of Martin-Parry Corp.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 14.—Purchase of the Indianapolis plant of the Martin-Parry corporation by the Chevrolet Motor company, a member of the General Motors corporation, for production of Chevrolet commercial bodies was anounced tonight by W. S. Knuder, president and general manager of the Chevrolet company. The General Motors company will take over the Indianapolis industry Wednesday and soon afterward will begin active operations leading to employment at capacity of 600 workmen.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 14.—"First aid" buying by big time financial interests with the bull cause at heart once more turned the course of stock market prices toward higher levels today after a fresh wave of each liquidation had sunk 150 or more separate issues to new lows for the year.

There was nothing on the surface of things to show that the buyers were acting in concert or that their operations were conducted primarily with view of bolstering prices. The effect, however, was the same, and Wall street was generally inclined to set the sudden improvement of conditions down once more to "bankers' support." It has been reported for several days that strong financial institutions were buying heavily in the market in its "crisis," which means that prices had been battered down to such new low prices as to make them look attractive to the investment eye.

"Resistance Points."

Whatever might have been going on behind the scenes, however, the turn about today was an impressive affair and set a lot of the wise ones to observing that the low levels reached by the market last week may be regarded for the time being, at least, as "resistance points."

As usual, here of late, the news cut little figure in the market's gyrations either way. The budget was sufficiently mixed to give both sides a break and included a satisfactory earnings statement by the American Telephone and Telegraph company for the third quarter and the nine months, a sharp reduction in member bank loans against security collateral, a reduction in crude oil by a midcontinent independent, and a further cut in scrap steel prices at Chicago.

The rally not only wiped out a majority of the losses sustained on the early decline but hoisted a long line of the more active issues anywhere from 1 to 3 points above their closing levels of Saturday. Thus American Can, down at one time for about 4 points, came back with such momentum as to register a net gain on

A Farsighted Policy for Investors

IN recent months it has been a matter of common knowledge that our great investing institutions—insurance companies, banks, and others—have been quietly buying bonds.

These purchases have been made for excellent reasons. Among these reasons is the fact that the general world-wide trend of money rates and commodity prices is such as to create a favorable situation for the bond buyer.

The example set by these well-managed and well-informed institutions is an excellent one for the individual investor to follow. Many of the reasons which today make sound bonds an attractive purchase for insurance companies and banks, operate also to make them attractive to the individual bond buyer.

As the public comes to a realization of the opportunities that exist today in the bond field, it appears inevitable that present interest rates will not long be available.

Now, therefore, is the time for the farsighted investor to make sure of receiving—for many years to come—the liberal return that is now available in sound bonds.

If you are in a position to take advantage of this opportunity, the services of our Research Department are available to aid you in making your selection.

A Money Saving Plan For Your Estate

Property bequeathed by a husband to his wife, and later bequeathed by her to the children, may be subject to two inheritance tax levies and also two payments of Federal Estate Tax. By means of a trust under your will, you save your family the payment of one inheritance tax and possibly one Federal Estate tax, as well as all the expense of one estate administration. Under this plan, your wife during her lifetime will continue to enjoy the use of the property you leave and, upon her death, it is distributed to the children as you have specifically directed. Our Trust Department will be glad to explain the details of this money saving plan

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 10,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs, and 18,000 sheep.

Hogs recovered more of the recent sharp losses on short supplies yesterday, but are still unevenly 15c to 60c below the high point of last week. The top reached the $10.00 line, being 35c above the close of last week, while the general average at $9.45 was 25c above last Saturday's average.

Small packers, city butchers, and shippers were the principal buyers at the upturn. Larger houses refused to follow the advance. However, most of the 5,000 head left at the close were being held off the market on the strength of the light supply estimated for today. Five western markets expect 39,500 today, against 50,200 the previous Wednesday.

Today's Hogs Bid $10.00.

Hogs averaging 210@260 lbs for today's delivery were bid $10.00 on the "to arrive" market yesterday, but there were no sellers at this figure, the extreme top of yesterday's cash trade. Hogs averaging 260@310 lbs for today's delivery were bid $9.75 and light weight packing sows carried bids of $8.75. Heavy packing sows were bid $8.50.

October, December and January contracts were steady to 15c higher. December light sold at $8.75 and January contracts at $8.80. October mediums were bought at $9.50.

Bulk of cattle sales showed very little change yesterday, but there were instances of as much as 15@25c declines on inbetween and cheaper grades of steers in midseason and later, in face of a comparatively small mid-week supply. Only 10,000 cattle are estimated for today, against 12,706 last Wednesday and 13,892 a year ago.

A load of "classy" 912 lb yearlings sold at $13.35, equaling the highest price of the season. Nearly 90 yearlings averaging 992@1,009 lbs sold at $13.15, and 1,356 lb beeves reached $12.40. These were the feature sales of the day.

Lambs Near Low Point.

Another break of 25c in fat lambs yesterday brought prices near the year's bottom. Prices were only 15@25c above the lowest spot since before the world war, but a better undertone was noted at the extreme close when reports came on the market that the supplies will be held down the remainder of the week.

In spite of Monday's immense receipts the three day total will be about the same as a week ago. Closely sorted ewe and wether native lambs sold to packers and city butchers at $7.75@8.00, while a range of $7.25@7.80 bought most of the "tops" from the westerns. Aged sheep and yearlings sold weak to 25c lower. Feeding lambs were steady to 25c lower at $6.00@7.00 for medium to best.

BUTTER AND EGGS

Selling at the close broke egg futures sharply on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, all deliveries losing ground heavily. Unfavorable statistical news contributed to the drop, storage movement over the week-end being bearish. Butter futures likewise lost ground, nervousness appearing despite favorable storage movements. November eggs closed at 20¾@20¼c, off 1¼@1½c, and December at 21¼c, off 1¼c. November butter ended at 33½c, off ¾c, and December at 33¾c, off ¾c.

Egg futures opened fractionally lower and dipped to 21c within the first few minutes. Good support appeared and the market held for a time, moving uneasily during the rest of the period, but the selling pressure which entered at the close proved too much and the price shot down. Sales, butter, November, 100 cars; December, 83 cars; eggs, November, 181 cars; December, 46 cars. Receipts [two days], butter, 20,950 tubs; eggs, 12,785 cases. Prices follow:

COTTON MARKET UNSETTLED

Lower prices for cotton, with prices off 14 points on a few deliveries early yesterday, was followed by a further recession and a rally, the finish in Chicago being 1 point lower to 2 points higher after a range of 20 points. In other markets prices were irregular, with New York unchanged to 8 points lower and New Orleans unchanged to 3 points higher. In the spot market New York was unchanged at 10.45c, New Orleans unchanged at 10.25c, with Galveston 10.25c and Houston 10.20c. Liverpool closed 2 to 3 points lower, with spot sales 5,000 bales.

News from the south was regarded as encouraging for the cotton interests for a reduction in acreage. Otherwise conditions were mixed. The British board of trade exports of yarns for September were 9,000,000 lbs, against 10,000,000 lbs last year; for cloth yarns, 143,000,000 lbs, against 238,000,000 lbs last year. Exports of cotton are running about 240,000 bales ahead of a year ago. Garside indicates September consumption of 385,000 bales. Prices follow:

SOVIET WHEAT PIT PROFIT SEEN NEAR MILLION

Russia has made a profit of $750,000 to $1,000,000 on its operations in the Chicago wheat pit, according to estimates made by traders yesterday.

For three days that country is understood to have been covering its line of 7,765,000 bu of wheat futures, which it sold on the Chicago Board of Trade from Sept. 9 to 12, during which period the December delivery had a range of 85⅝@89⅝c, or approximately 10c higher than the figures which have prevailed during the last three trading days.

According to close observers of pit conditions the buying of wheat futures by Russia has been conducted in a most skilled manner, the orders apparently being at fixed prices and in amounts sufficient to generally escape the attention of the trade. The selling of the big line of futures in September was regarded as having been responsible for a sharp break in prices in the American market, but the removal of the hedges, according to those in close touch with conditions, has been instrumental in putting a prop under the market at a time when it needed it the most.

EXPORT HOUSE BUYS LARD

An export house was a fair buyer of December lard futures yesterday, and there was also buying by commission houses early in the day, presumably on the advance of 25@35c in hog prices as compared with Saturday. On the advance selling was attributed to western packers and offerings were well absorbed and closing trades on futures were at net gains of 20@32½c, December leading the upturn. October was neglected and gained only 5c.

Exports of lard for the week were 7,098,000 lbs, compared with 8,297,000 lbs last year. Of bacon they were 2,514,000 lbs against 3,417,000 lbs last year. Hog receipts at western points were smaller than a week and a year ago. Prices follow:

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw, was firmer today with prices advancing ¼ of a cent for spots and more for later deliveries.

A sharp upturn in the London market over our holiday and reports that 75 per cent of the Cuban mills were in favor of the committee's plan for the stabilization of the sugar industry were responsible for sharp upturns in the futures market which closed with net gains of 8 to 11 points. Approximate sales were 74,850 tons. Prices follow:

TALL HOTEL MAY TAKE PLACE OF ARIZONA FLATS

Woman Buys Oakdale Avenue Apartments.

BY AL CHASE.

Purchase of the Arizona apartments at 441-43 Oakdale avenue yesterday by Veronica Schmidtmeyer from Louis Horn will lead to extensive improvements to the property, according to G. J. Koepke of Charles H. Wendell & Co., who negotiated the sale. Charles H. Wendell adds that eventually this building will be replaced by a large modern apartment hotel to fully utilize the unusual depth of the lot, which is 197 feet. The property has a frontage of fifty feet.

The property was purchased for an undisclosed cash consideration, subject to an incumbrance of $60,000. The building is a four story structure, containing thirty units of one, two, and three rooms, all furnished. The property is 127 feet east of Pine Grove avenue. Jacob Diamond and Samuel Berke were attorneys.

The three story apartment building at 1210 North Dearborn street, lot 70x149, has been sold by Mrs. Rose K. Rotsted to Mrs. Mabel Smith for an undisclosed consideration. Robert M. McNair was attorney.

Pettibone to Address Realtors.

H. D. Pettibone, vice president and trust officer of the Chicago Title and Trust company will speak on "The Present Status of Real Estate Mortgage Bonds" at the regular monthly meeting of the Chicago real estate board this evening.

Frank Mason has been made chairman of a special committee named by the board of governors of the subdividers' division of the Chicago real estate board to carry out a coördinated program for the development of their properties. Members of the committee are Bert Laudermilk, Robert G. Blodgett, Hugh M. Cornell, Paul R. Angell, Herbert J. Lorber, Percy Wilson, and Le Roy Keneval.

S. E. Thomason, publisher of the Chicago Daily Illustrated Times, has sold his residence at 10440-58 Longwood drive, in Beverly Hills, to George W. Young, vice president of Marshall Field & Co. The property has a front age on Longwood drive of 192 feet and extends west 299 feet to Seeley avenue, where there is approximately the same frontage as on Longwood. The house is of English design, with brick and stucco exterior walls. Mr. and Mrs. Thomason have taken an apartment at the Drake hotel. Church, Haft & Robertson were attorneys for Mr. Young.

Add to Larrabee "Y."

Plans have been completed and contracts are to be let at once for a three story addition, 60x62, to the North Avenue-Larrabee Y. M. C. A., 1508 North Larrabee street. This was announced yesterday by John W. Bergthold, chairman of the building committee.

The annex will contain handball and squash racquet courts and other athletic features. It will also have a business men's club lounge, a feature of which will be dining and porter service; a business men's locker room, with accommodations for 120 private lockers, and a shower room.

In the main building the young men's locker room capacity will be increased and private shower and locker rooms for women will be built. Plans were drawn by Eugene B. White and H. Ostler.

The North Avenue-Larrabee "Y," through its present building, which was opened in 1916, now serves a membership of 2,400, including 800 business men and young men, 400 women, and 1,200 boys and girls of grade school age. It was the first department in Chicago to admit women and girls.

COLLEGIANS BURN KING'S PORTRAIT IN SPANISH RIOT

Shut Barcelona University After Disorders.

MADRID, Oct. 14.—(AP)—One of Spain's greatest universities, that at Barcelona, today was closed by a vote of the deans and all classes suspended indefinitely because of grave disorders within its precincts, involving what the authorities characterized as gross disrespect for the king. Reopening will not occur until after today's riot has been fully cleared up.

Investigators were ordered to find the leaders of some 500 students who at midday stormed the main assembly hall and took from it a portrait of King Alfonso, burning it in the yard after cutting out the head, which they mounted on a pole and paraded about the grounds.

Cry "Down with King!"

Additional importance was attached to the incident because, the authorities said, it was evident that communists or other agitators had enrolled in classes for the purpose of inciting hostility toward the government.

Severe penalties, it was announced, were to be imposed upon the offenders.

While general conditions throughout Spain improved somewhat today, the peseta slump became more pronounced. There was much gloom in business circles as a result.

Strikers Attack Street Car.

Several towns experienced new disorders, including Seville, where strikers attacked a street car operating on lines where a walkout had been declared. Strikes of varying degrees of seriousness continued in half a dozen towns, where heavy police guards were held in readiness to preserve order, if needed.

The strike committee which engineered the Seville walkout announced that the strike had ended, requesting that all workmen resume their posts as usual on Wednesday morning.

Police reinforcements were withdrawn from Vitoria today when the authorities announced the strike in that city had ended and that all business houses were being operated under normal conditions. No formal agreements were made, the strikers returning voluntarily to their posts.

Woman College Instructor at Indiana Is a Suicide

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Miss Jessie Hogate 55, a member of the faculty of Indiana university as assistant in the department of public discussion, was found dead at her home today, a suicide. After receiving her A. B. degree at Allegheny college she did post-graduate work at Indiana university and University of Chicago. Miss Hogate's father, the late Judge Enoch G. Hogate, was dean of the Indiana university law school until his death several years ago. Miss Hogate was a director of Kappa Alpha Theta alumnae and had been prominent in Republican politics, once serving as vice chairman of the party here.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 14.—American tourists standing before the tomb of the unknown soldier this afternoon saw a man leap to his death from the top of the Arc de Triomphe. A traveling salesman named Paul Levy dropped almost on top of the slab marking the unknown soldier's resting place, narrowly missing several members of the party. One American girl fainted.

CUBAN PRESIDENT FORBIDS RIGHT OF PUBLIC MEETING

Decree Is Precaution Against Disorder.

HAVANA, Oct. 14.—(AP)—President Machado today signed a decree forbidding the holding of meetings or assemblages of any kind throughout the republic until Nov. 2, the day after the congressional and senatorial elections.

The decree, although complete in every detail, will not become effective until tomorrow night at 6 o'clock, when it is published in the official gazette.

Officials said the decree was occasioned by a number of minor disturbances, unimportant in themselves, but tending to disturb the national peace, coupled with the desire of President Machado to take all possible precautions against disorders during the remainder of the electoral period.

Suspends Rights of Citizens.

The prohibition of assembly during the next 20 days suspends one of the rights given Cuban citizens under the constitution. The power to lift this and other constitutional rights for a 20 day period was invested in the president 12 days ago by special act of congress.

He may, if he deems it necessary, set up press censorship, prohibit public speech, and suspend the right of habeas corpus during the remainder of the electoral period. It is not considered likely, however, that he will attempt the full exercise of his special power unless extreme emergency should arise.

Students and Police Clash.

President Machado has openly stated he did not intend to use the right to withdraw constitutional guarantees if tranquility prevailed throughout the land, and last night permitted the reopening of the weekly magazine, Karikato, closed a week ago because of its bitter attack on the government.

A minor clash between students and police at the school of arts and trades shortly before noon today is believed to have prompted the president to start the exercise of extreme precautions during the remainder of the unsettled period preceding the elections.

Mass Will Honor Jesuit Killed in Airplane Crash

A solemn high mass as a tribute to the heroism and self-sacrifice of the Rev. Philip I. DeLon, S. J., superior general of the Alaskan missions of the Jesuits, who was killed in an airplane crash in Alaska last Sunday, is to be celebrated next Saturday at noon in the Holy Family cathedral, 12th street and Blue Island avenue. The Rev. Robert Spirig, pastor of the church, is arranging the mass as a citywide tribute to the Jesuit missionary whose mission work was started in Chicago.

PORTER WHERE WALGREEN WAS CLERK GETS JOB

For the rest of his life Charles Morris, Negro, will have a job. Thirty-six years ago he worked alongside a young chap by the name of Walgreen in a drug store at 39th street and Cottage Grove avenue. Yesterday he resumed the same relationship after almost three decades, this time with Charles R. Walgreen, the same man, but now the head of the chain of drug stores.

In 1896 Mr. Walgreen was a young drug clerk in the store working for $18 a week. Polishing windows and counters in the same establishment was Morris, whose wage was just half that of the clerk, but the two Charlies became stanch friends. The Spanish-American war took young Walgreen away to the army, but the friendship endured by correspondence, and occasionally Morris, from his end, would send the soldier a little tobacco or some spending money.

Walgreen took sick and was invalided home, and at the station Morris and his wife met him and took him to their home, where he regained his strength. Almost thirty years ago they parted once more and Morris eventually settled in Watseka, Ill. There, several days ago, he saw a Walgreen advertisement in a newspaper, wrote the "Walgreen" mentioned, received a joyous reply, and yesterday took up his permanent job in Chicago.

Indict 5 for Vote Fraud in Kirk-Joyce Contest

Five precinct election officials and a precinct captain in the 20th precinct of the 42d ward were named in conspiracy true bills voted by the grand jury yesterday. It is charged that they conspired to falsify the poll books in the primary contest between the late state senator, John T. Joyce, and Wallace Kirk. Those named are Hal Auryea and Bertram J. Reeves, Democratic judges; Oscar J. Snell, Democratic clerk; Frank Hurley, Republican judge, and Alfred Montgomery, Republican clerk. Oswen Danz, precinct captain for Joyce, was also named. According to a confession obtained in the case, the poll books were made out the night before the primary and the votes to be given to each candidate decided on.

E. J. Bries, Sycamore, Ill., Editor, Dies Suddenly

De Kalb, Ill., Oct. 14.—E. J. Boies, editor and publisher of the Sycamore True Republican, died suddenly today. He was 70 years of age and was the oldest newspaper man in De Kalb county. He served as postmaster some years ago. He also was a De Kalb county Republican leader.

Parachute Fails to Open; Pilot Dies in 1,500 Ft. Jump

AUGSBURG, Germany, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Pilot Menicke was killed today while making a test flight in a biplane. He jumped from a height of 1,500 feet, but his parachute did not open. The plane was destroyed. Why he jumped was not ascertained.

LOOT WEST SIDE DRUG STORE.

Police are searching for burglars who early yesterday broke in the rear door of the Kraemer Drug store at 5969 Lake street and obtained 25 pints of whisky, 50 cartons of cigarets and $500 in cash from a safe which was blown open.

Men! Ages 40 to 44 What You Should Weigh

5 Ft. 6 Inches	150 Pounds
5 Ft. 7 "	154 "
5 Ft. 8 "	159 "
5 Ft. 9 "	164 "
5 Ft. 10 "	169 "
5 Ft. 11 "	175 "
6 Ft. "	181 "
6 Ft. 1 "	187 "
6 Ft. 2 "	194 "

Weights given include ordinary indoor clothing. Get on the scales and see if you are overweight—and how much.

The modern way to take off fat is known as the Kruschen Method and is well worth a 4 weeks' trial.

Cut out pies, cakes, pastry and ice cream for 4 weeks—Go light on potatoes, butter, cheese, cream and sugar—eat moderately of lean meat, chicken, fish, salads, green vegetables and fruit—take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning.

ADMITS MURDER HIS DAUGHTER HAD CONFESSED

Tells Rockford Police He Killed Son-in-Law.

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Michael Abene, 70 years old, of 1157 Cambridge avenue, Chicago, confessed here early this evening that he shot and killed his son-in-law, Frank Domino, 35 years old, of Ogilby road.

His confession complicated the case, for Domino's young widow, Mrs. Katherine Domino, daughter of Abene, had already stated she was the slayer.

Police announced, however, they would accept Abene's admissions as true and institute grand jury action this week with a view of indicting him for murder. He is incarcerated in the county jail. His daughter is held as a material witness. According to both their stories, Domino was unfaithful and cruel.

Questioned by Assistant State's Attorney Kirl Williams and Deputy Sheriff Earl Rhodes, Mrs. Domino asserted shot her husband. Police believed her story at first. Meanwhile Chicago authorities, acting on their request, sought Abene and seized him Saturday night. He was brought here.

After three nights and two days of examination Abene finally broke down and confessed the slaying.

EX-WIFE SUES TO SET ASIDE DECREE-SHE WON

Mrs. Clare Green, 6757 Cornell avenue, filed a petition in the Circuit court yesterday asking that the divorce decree granted her in 1928 from J. Birchard Green, manufacturer, be set aside. Mrs. Green's petition says that her husband forced her to institute the divorce proceedings.

She declares her former husband induced her to give perjured testimony. Green, who is president of the Chicago Steel and Wire company, married Mrs. Patti Dumbeck Newton of Texas following the divorce. They are living at 6930 South Shore drive.

The first Mrs. Green recently sued the present Mrs. Green for $75,000 damages for alienation of affections. Green has petitioned the court for a reduction of the alimony payments of $300 a month which were ordered when the divorce was granted in October, 1928.

Vengeful Father Shoots Man Who Killed His Son

Paul's Valley, Okla., Oct. 14.—(AP)—Seeking vengeance for his son's slaying, Ben Downey, about 60, late today shot and probably fatally wounded Leslie Christian, 32, on trial in District court here for the murder of his one-time brother-in-law, Ben Downey Jr. Downey was held in the county jail.

HELD FOR DOUBLE HOLDUP.

Timothy Garrity, 38 years old, was seized in the kitchen of his home at 951 West 51st place yesterday on a charge of committing two holdups. After robbing Tom Wagner, a butcher, at 5100 South Peoria street, of $8, it is said that Garrity stopped at the curb to take $30 from the driver of a truck. A squad led by Sergt. James Brigid pursued Garrity to his home.

SET TRIAL OF WOMAN WHOSE AUTO KILLED 2

Judge William H. Fulton in the Circuit court at Wheaton yesterday set the trial of Mrs. Leona Dorsett of Bloomington, Ill., whose auto struck and killed two men on Sept. 26, on the December calendar. The men killed were August Reher of Westmont and his brother, William Reher of Downers Grove. They were repairing a tire in Westmont, it was said, when a sedan driven by Mrs. Dorsett veered to the wrong side of the road and crashed into them. Mrs. Dorsett has been in jail since the accident, unable to furnish bail of $5,000.

Four deaths yesterday raised the Cook county motor toll for the year to 812. The victims:

Joseph Janowski, 37 years old, 2115 West 18th place. Died in the county hospital of injuries received on Monday when his auto crashed into a lamp post in Douglas park.

Paul Rambaud, 21 years old, 3718 Costello avenue. Died in the Keystone hospital of injuries received on Sunday when his car collided with another being driven by Leon Churnell, 1412 North Lawler avenue, at Hamlin avenue and Division street.

Mrs. Natalie Sivesen, 70 years old, 4224 Elm avenue, Lyons. Died at her home as the result of being struck by a car on Sept. 25. The driver, Miss Mae Mosty, 555 East 12th street, Rockford, was not held.

John Walsh, 40 years old, an insurance man of 2437 East 74th street. Killed when his car struck a rut in the paving at Racine avenue on 74th street and crashed into a telephone pole.

GRANTS U. S. PLEA FOR INJUNCTION AGAINST UNION

Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley yesterday granted a permanent injunction sought by the government to restrain the Painters' District council No. 14 from interferring with the kitchen cabinet and interior woodwork industry. Arthur W. Wallace, secretary-treasurer of the union, headed the 13 respondents.

Kitchen cabinet manufacturers alleged that they were forced to ship all products to Chicago unpainted and that the painters' union got $2 on each cabinet painted. When painted products arrived, it was charged, strikes of other union laborers were called at the building where they were installed.

A criminal prosecution charging the defendants with restraint of interstate comerce resulted in a jury disagreement. Assistant United States Attorney Jacob Grossman handled the equity proceedings.

Mrs. Natalie W. Allen Funeral Will Be Today

Funeral services will be held today at the family home in Oshkosh, Wis., for Mrs. Natalie W. Allen, widow of Gen. Thomas Scott Allen, distinguished civil war veteran. Mrs. Allen, who was 89 years old, died last Saturday. Mrs. Allen is survived by two sons, Col. Henry A. Allen, well known in Chicago as the commanding officer of the famous "108th engineers of the A. E. F.," and Edward W. Allen, an attorney in Seattle, and two daughters, Mrs. Homer H. Bishop and Mrs. J. W. West, both of Oshkosh.

The MURDER at the VICARAGE

BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

SYNOPSIS.

Caleb Clement is vicar of a country village in England. His wife, Griselda, is nearly twenty years his junior. The vicar's young nephew, Dennis, lives with them.

Colonel Protheroe, a pompous parishioner, who makes life miserable for his daughter, Lettice, and his second wife, Anne, is expected at the vicarage at 6:15 one evening. At 5:30 the vicar is called to visit a dying parishioner and leaves word for the colonel that he will be back in time for dinner at 7 the vicar meets Lawrence Redding, an artist who is living in a cottage on the vicarage grounds, coming out of the house in an agitated state. The day before the vicar finds the colonel dead, murdered apparently. No weapon is found. Inspector Lejeune is called, and he says Protheroe has been dead half an hour and summons the vicar. A note which the colonel started to write to the vicar is headed 6:20. A clock stopped when the colonel fell forward, stopped at 6:22, but it was always kept ten minutes fast.

Lawrence Redding and Mrs. Protheroe both confess to the murder.

Miss Marple, a near neighbor, saw Anne Protheroe go to the vicarage about 6:15 and leave at 6:45. She had no place to conceal a weapon. Redding came along shortly after and joined her at the studio. They came out a little later and walked toward the vicarage.

Redding and Anne admit they had confessed the crime thinking the other had committed it. Lawrence said he had come back to see the vicar after leaving Anne and had found the body and thought Anne must have taken it.

"Murder by person or persons unknown," is the verdict given at the inquest.

The mutilated note found when Col. Protheroe died is discovered to be a forgery.

Lawrence, the vicar's young curate, has been in a highly nervous state since an attack of influenza. The vicar rushes to him in response to a phone call and finds Hawes in bed. He has let a crumpled note, which the vicar examines and finds to be the real work of Col. Protheroe. It is addressed to the vicar and accuses Hawes of misappropriating church funds. The vicar sends for Col. Melchett, the chief constable. Meanwhile Hawes has taken an overdose of sleeping medicine. Dr. Haydock is called, and he tells the curate sent to the hospital. Miss Marple, hearing of Hawes' illness, calls.

INSTALLMENT LI.

SEVEN SUSPECTS NAMED.

"Yes—yes, indeed," Miss Marple said. "May I ask you, Mr. Clement, what made you come here this evening? That is a point which puzzles me. And Colonel Melchett—not at all what I should have expected."

I explained the telephone call and that I believed I had recognized Lawrence's voice. Miss Marple nodded thoughtfully.

"Very interesting. Very providential—if I may use the term. Yes, brought you here in the nick of time."

"In the nick of time for what?" I said bitterly.

"To save Mr. Hawes' life, of course."

"Don't you think," I said, "that it might be better if Hawes didn't live? Better for him—better for every one. We know the truth now at last."

I stopped—for Miss Marple was nodding her head with such a peculiar expression that it made me lose the thread of what I was saying.

"Of course," she said. "Of course! That's what he wants you to think! But you know the truth—and that it's best for every one as it is. O, yes, best for him—the letter, and the overdose, and poor Mr. Hawes' state of mind and his confession. It all fits in—but it's wrong . . . ."

I stared at her.

"That's why I am so glad Mr. Hawes is safe—in hospital—where no one can get at him. If he recovers, he'll tell you the truth."

"The truth!"

"He—that he never touched a hair of Col. Protheroe's head."

"But the telephone call," I said. "The letter—the overdose. It's all clear."

"That's what he wants you to think. O, he's very clever! Keeping to the truth and using it this way was very clever indeed."

Again we stared at her.

"Who do you mean," I said, "by 'he'?"

"I mean the murderer," said Miss Marple.

She added very quietly:

"I mean Mr. Lawrence Redding. . . ."

Col. Melchett was the first to speak. He spoke kindly and with a kind of paying tolerance.

"That is absurd, Miss Marple," he said. "Young Redding has been completely cleared."

"Naturally," said Miss Marple. "He saw to that."

"On the contrary," said Col. Melchett dryly. "He did his best to get himself accused of the murder."

"Yes," said Miss Marple. "He took us all in that way—myself as much as anyone else. You will remember, dear Mr. Clement, that I was taken aback when I heard Mr. Redding had confessed to the crime. It upset all my ideas and made me think him innocent—when up to then I had felt convinced that he was guilty."

"Then it was Lawrence Redding you suspected."

"I know that, in books it is always the most unlikely person. But I have found that rule applies in real life. There it is so often the obvious thing that is true. Much as I have always liked Mrs. Prothero, I could not avoid coming to the conclusion that she was completely under Mr. Redding's influence and would do anything he told her, and, of course, he is not the kind of young man who would dream of running away with a penniless woman. From his point of view it was necessary that Col. Protheroe should be removed—and so he removed him. One of those charming young men who have no moral sense."

Col. Melchett had been snorting impatiently for some time. Now he broke out.

"Absolute nonsense—the whole thing! Redding's time is fully accounted for up to 6:45 and Haydock says positively Protheroe couldn't have been dead an hour. I suppose you think you know better than a doctor. Or do you suggest that Haydock is deliberately lying—the Lord knows why?"

"I think Dr. Haydock's evidence was absolutely truthful. He is a most upright man. And, of course, it was Mrs. Protheroe who actually killed Col. Protheroe—not Mr. Redding."

"I have not thought it right to speak until now. One's own belief—even if strong as to amount to knowledge—is not the same as proof. And unless one has an explanation that will fit all the facts [as I was saying to dear Clement this evening] one cannot advance it with any real conviction. Now my own explanation was not quite complete—it lacked just one thing—and suddenly, just as I was leaving Mr. Clement's study, I noticed the thing in the pot by the window—and—well—there the whole thing was! Clear and straightforward."

"Mad—quite mad," murmured Melchett to me.

But Miss Marple beamed at us serenely and went on in her gentle voice.

"I was very sorry to believe what I did—very sorry. Because I liked both. But you know what human nature is. And to begin with, when he and then she both confessed the most foolish way—well, I was relieved than I could say. I had been wrong. And I began to think other people who had a possible motive for wishing Col. Protheroe out of the way."

"The seven suspects!" I murmured.

"Yes, indeed. There was that man Archer—not likely, but primed with [an inflaming] you never know. And, of course, there was your friend. She's been walking out with Archer a long time, and she's a queer kind of girl. Motive and opportunity—why, she was alone in the house! Mrs. Archer could easily have got the pistol from Mr. Redding's house on one of those two. And then, of course, there was Lettice—wanting love and money to do as she liked. I've known many cases where the most beautiful and ethereal girls have shown next to no moral scruple—and, of course, gentlemen never wish to believe it of them."

She winced.

"The tennis racquet?"

"Yes, the one Mrs. Price Ridley's Clara saw lying on the grass by the garden gate. That looked as though Mr. Dennis had got back earlier from the dance party than he said. Boys of sixteen are so very susceptible and so impulsive. Whatever the motive—for Lettice's sake or for yours, dear—it is a possibility. And then, of course, there was poor Mr. Hawes and the pot of both of you naturally, but alternatively, as the lawyers say."

"Pot?" I exclaimed in lively astonishment.

"Well, yes. I do apologize—and, indeed, I never really thought—but it does raise the question of these disappearing sums of money. Either you or Mr. Hawes must be guilty, and Mrs. Price Ridley was going about everywhere hinting that you were the person in fault—principally because you objected so vigorously to any kind of inquiry into the matter. Of course, I was always convinced it was Mr. Hawes—he reminded me so much of that unfortunate organist I mentioned—but all the same one couldn't be entirely sure—"

"Human nature being what it is," I ended grimly.

"Exactly. And then, of course, there was dear Griselda."

"But Mrs. Clement was completely out of it," interrupted Melchett.

"Not removed by the 6:50 train."

"That's what she said," retorted Miss Marple. "One should never go by what people say. The 6:50 was half an hour late that night. But at a quarter past seven I saw her with my own eyes starting for Old Hall.

Surgeons Urge Better Care of Injured Persons

Speaker Calls Industrial Efforts Inadequate.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Reduction of an enormous amount of human and economic waste occurring annually in this country is being planned by the American College of Surgeons. That group seeks standardization of industrial medicine and surgery. The program was revealed today during the Twentieth Annual Clinical congress.

Growth of hospital standardization discovery of a new anesthetic which is expected to eliminate nausea and other discomforting effects following operations, and the frequent presence of infections due to improperly prepared catgut for suturing in surgical operations, were reported during the sessions.

The anti-waste program as outlined by a spokesman for the committee on traumatic surgery will include coöperation with industries and insurance companies, the seeking of amendments to state compensation acts, a campaign of education, through contacting medical schools, and the urging of a more thorough attention to education of medical students in the principles and the tecnique of traumatic surgery.

Leading surgeons realize, it was said, that traumatic work, the treatment necessary in case of injuries and accidents, as opposed to elective surgery, has lagged for behind the van of education and practice of the surgical science, so the technique in its finer points is little known to the great bulk of the profession.

It was pointed out that 1,600,000 persons were injured every year in this country in addition to 23,000 persons killed in industry and 30,000 on the highways, yet it was asserted that the country is almost entirely unequipped to rehabilitate those injured.

"There are only a very few great industrial concerns in this country which have medical directors worthy of the name," said the committee spokesman. "For the most part, they are men, competent in their own general fields, who secure their positions, because of privilege of friendship, but who are woefully lacking in the intimate knowledge of the conditions which they face.

"The program of the American College of Surgeons is to remove the treatment of the injured entirely from the hands of the claim departments of the industries, the insurance companies and the respective organizations, and put it in the hands of competent surgeons and physicians who can restore the injured to complete or as nearly complete physical well being as possible."

It is the intention of the college to work toward the standardization of traumatic surgery in much the same manner that it has achieved the high standardization of more than 2,000 hospitals, it was added.

Howard Carter Seeks Still More Out of Tomb of King Tut

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

CAIRO, Oct. 14.—Howard Carter has arrived at Luxor for completion this season of the work of clearing Tut-ankh-amen's tomb. Before he left Cairo Mr. Carter told your correspondent he hoped to finish the task before the tourist season was in full swing in January.

The work consists of cutting away the entrance to the tomb to allow the panels of the shrines covering the sarcophagus to be taken out bodily. These are most valuable, as they are complete and covered with inscriptions from the book of the dead.

Mr. Carter is particularly anxious not to have to take the panels to pieces, as they are of extremely fragile wood, which has shrunk, while the gold and gesso [plaster] are scarcely altered.

The entrance to the tomb was cut originally for taking out the sarcophagus and was filled in again, but the passage will have to be enlarged to permit removal of the panels, which originally were pieced together inside the tomb. The sarcophagus will be brought out surrounded by a protecting wooden case

CHURCH GROUP CALLS GAMBLING PARENT OF VARIETY OF CRIMES

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Gambling is regarded by the Chicago Church federation as the most important of six interlocked elements that cause present crime conditions. This was revealed in a crime report unanimously adopted by the executive committee of the federation yesterday and released after the session of the committee. The report offers what the federation, representing 800 churches of 17 denominations, believes to be the causes of gangland's exploitation of the public, together with suggestions looking toward crime abatement.

"The gambling business probably produces the largest money of any branch of public exploitation and exercises the most sinister influence in political and business circles," says the report. "The elegant gaming palaces and race tracks, with capital furnished by business men and patronized by crooks and social and political nabobs, continue to curse the community."

The report charges "coöperation between gangsters, public officials, newspaper employés and large business interests to a most alarming extent."

In addition to gambling, five other "interlocking elements of this system of public exploitation" were named. They are:

1. Political crooks who "sought office at large expense for no purpose of honest public service, but as an avenue for grafting from public funds."

2. Dishonest business men "who deliberately enter into conspiracy with public officials to rob the public treasury and to secure special privilege."

3. Racketeers "who secure money by intimidation."

4. Prostitution. The report says that improvement has taken place in this evil, "but the evil is still with us."

5. Bootlegging, which has "developed large and competing enterprises."

The report, which resulted from the investigations of a special church crime committee organized shortly after the killing of Alfred Lingle, declares that the issues involved in gang activity and the spread of gambling must take account of the part played by newspapers. It says that newspapers have maintained "strong arm squads which have employed gang tactics to win circulation wars."

"Some newspapers have assiduously cultivated the patronage of gamblers by printing racing forecast odds and results, thus contributing to the prosperity of the gambling syndicates," the report says. "We believe there are still in close relationship with certain newspapers men generally reputed to be in control of important racetrack gambling combines."

Prepare Fetes for Wedding of Royalty Oct. 25

Italy and Bulgaria Are Busy with Plans.

ROME, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Official announcement was made tonight that the marriage of Princess Giovanna of Italy and King Boris of Bulgaria would take place on Oct. 25 at the ancient city of Assisi.

Get Ready for Wedding.

ASSISI, Italy, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Two gentlemen of the royal court, Counts Suardi and Acquarone, arrived today and it is understood that the ceremony for Prinress Giovanna and King Boris likely will be performed in the lower bisilica of St. Francis cathedral.

On the night of Oct. 25 all the towers and walls of this historic city will be lighted with 20,000 red bulbs, while Princess Giovanna, who has long loved the city, has ordered that the poor of Assisi be given a big dinner.

The principal patrician families here are vying with one another in opening their magnificent palaces and villas for accommodation of the royal suites.

Assisi, with its 18,000 population, is on a spur to Mount Subasio and off the beaten track of all but religious pilgrims and that small class of thoroughgoing tourists who penetrate to the recesses of the country. The overjoyed town officials will put on ancient garb and revive some of the historic pagentry of the place that dates back to days before Christ.

Bulgarian Nation Prepares.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Preparations are being hurried for departure for Italy of a state delegation composed of presidents of the council and the senate and guardian of the privy seals. Likewise departure is imminent of the king's brother, Prince Cyril, and his sister, Princess Eudoxia.

King Boris today by wire acknowledged the congratulations conveyed to him yesterday from President Hoover by the United States minister. Boris' message said: "I am deeply touched. Thank you sincerely for your heartfelt congratulations and for your amiable letter. [Signed] Boris."

Boris Hunts and Fishes.

SAN ROSSORE, Italy, Oct. 14.—(AP)—King Boris took part today in a hunting party with the royal family, including his future bride, Princess Giovanna, and afterward went fishing.

U. of C. Students Plan to Aid 20th Ward Youths in Cleanup

A committee of students to organize a league for civic action was formed yesterday at the University of Chicago to coöperate with a similar group at Northwestern university. Its adviser is Prof. Jerome Kerwin of the department of political science.

The committee will devote itself entirely to the Twentieth ward in an effort to "clean it by education." Its appeal will be to the youth of the ward, it was announced. Explanatory of the project, Prof. Kerwin said he believed the students would profit more by "real activity and practical experience" than by any other form of teaching. No individual political leaders were named.

Miss Hortense Barr, 6814 East End avenue, heads the committee. The other members are Miss Jeannette Singer, 6953 Merrill avenue; Miss Fanny Krebitzki, 6627 North Greenview avenue; Kenneth Mulligan, 5757 University avenue, and Harold Brez, 5545 Ingleside avenue.

Civic Opera Concertmaster Plans Recital to Aid Jobless

A violin recital for the benefit of unemployed former service men will be given at 3:30 p. m., Sunday, Oct. 19, by Isador Berger, new concert master of the Civic Opera orchestra, at the Civic Opera house. The concert is being sponsored by the women's auxiliary of the American Legion and the proceeds will be administered by the women's auxiliary for needy former soldiers. Berger will have the assistance of the Civic Opera orchestra. Emil Cooper, who has just returned from Paris, will conduct.

ISADOR BERGER.

Berger is a member of the Musicians' post of the American Legion. During the war he was a musician with the United States navy. This is his fourteenth year with the orchestra. Among the numbers he will play are Concerto for violin by Tschaikovsky and a Hungarian rhapsody by Hubay. The closing number will be Victor Herbert's American Fantasy.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

THE new régime at the Goodman theater began its career last night with a handsome gesture in the direction of humorous romanticism. It staged "The Firebrand," a comedy distilled from the memoirs of Benvenuto Cellini, whose name has become a synonym for the swaggering artistic fury of the Italian renaissance. The company, which includes five veterans of the old administration and seven well trained replacements, gave a brisk account of itself under the expert direction of Hubert Osborne, and the first-nighters were pleased.

This play is a gracefully written dramatization of the lusty, fantastic Cellini as he may be found in the pages of his immortal self-portrait. Swaggerer, wencher, murderous brawler, but always the artist entranced by his own ego—that is the Benvenuto both of the memoirs and of "The Firebrand." The piece is costume comedy with a chuckle of modern merriment running through it, and also with a scented bedroom flavor which places it definitely in the current vogue of theater-going. It pauses discreetly, however, upon the thresholds of the boudoirs of the Medici—duke and duchess, each hoping to cuckold the other—and leaves the honors of amorous achievement with Benvenuto, who is temporarily absorbed with the seduction of his favorite model.

So the subscribers to the Goodman's season found "The Firebrand" a neat, romantic frolic pleasantly ornamented with literate dialogue. Its situations are none too solid of structure; but the lively conduct of the players gives the fantastic little story a backbone of drama. I should not call "The Firebrand" a play of any special importance in the art theater movement; but, on the other hand, it is the sort of thing that art theaters often indulge in. It is picturesque and has an air belonging to the realm of letters.

The gorgeous rôle of Cellini fell to Dario Shindell, who is making his début with the Goodman company. He plays it with intensity and dash, proving that he has a flair for characters that demand a spirited expression of "temperament." He seems, however, too boyish for the blustering Cellini, who doted on manslaughter before breakfast; and his somewhat luscious voice has a tendency to become blurred in Benvenuto's feverish line of dialogue.

Harry Mervis, who might have been a harder and more threatening Cellini, is a neat light comedian as the mincing duke of Florence; Katherine Krug is skillful as the bland and brainless Angela on whom the hero wastes his warmest love songs; Florence Williams makes her bow as an airy young soubrette; Ellen Root is a superbly careless aristocrat as the Duchess; Patricia O'Hearn is crisp as Angela's sinister mother, and Earl McDonald is a promising fellow as an auxiliary Medici. Altogether, Mr. Osborne appears to have assembled a sound organization for repertory purposes.

London Gets Rare Persian Treasures for Exhibition

LONDON, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Priceless crown jewels, gold and silver thread carpets, and dazzling treasures and relics worth millions from the sacred mosques of Kum and Isfahan were landed today on the dingy stones of Thameside wharf.

They were consigned to Burlington house where a Persian art exhibit opens in January. The treasures completed the last stage of their journey.

This Arabian Nights collection was flown in four airplanes across the wild mountains and trackless deserts between Persia and the Persian gulf so that they would not fall into hands of wild mountain tribes.

Yale Students Are Awarded Charms, Prizes by Angell

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 14.—(AP)—President James Rowland Angell today presented charms and prizes to members of the class of 1933. They were given by the New York Yale club for scholastic excellence.

Charm winners included Fred J. Freuchtemeyer, Cincinnati, O., and John J. Kennedy Jr., Pittsburgh. Additional prizes of $50 each were given to students whose record for the year showed the greatest improvement. Mayhew Yale Foster, Willoughby, O., won one of these.

Preacher Again Lauds Dry Law, Raps Its Foes

Says Society Leaders Aid Hoodlums' Cause.

Dr. John Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist church, Chicago temple, who in his sermon last Sunday night said social and financial leaders were combining with "low" elements to repeal the 18th amendment, yesterday added "a chain of influential newspapers" to the wet combination. The loop pastor declared that the report of his sermon published Monday morning had brought a flood of "heroic anonymous correspondence," including "many threatening letters."

"Surely this is wet fanaticism gone wild," was Dr. Thompson's assertion. "It also indicates that there are some dangerous paranoiacs abroad. I am no prohibition fanatic, but I regard the 18th amendment to be the noblest experiment ever entered upon by any nation, and should be given a fair chance for a generation."

Dr. Thompson added that prohibition had not had a fair trial. He cited the "chain of influential newspapers" that have kept up a constant attack on it, "often unfairly." He then pointed to the new wet organizations he said were patronized by social and financial leaders.

"It is their privilege to organize," Dr. Thompson admitted. He then repeated the charge made in his Sunday sermon and asserted the new organizations and wet newspapers "have joined hands for dry law repeal with the hoodlums, panders, gangsters, toughs of all kinds, and 100 per cent of the vicious element of every city. These various social groups may not be on speaking terms, but they are in the same camp, working for the same ends."

"My honest conviction," he further stated, "is that if the press and our men and women of position, wealth, and leadership had thrown their influence in support of the 18th amendment we would have had a very much better industrial, social, and psychological condition. It is weld to study God's chronology. Liquor belonged to a slower age than this. Prohibition, automobiles and airplanes have come at the same period. This combination appears providential."

Rutgers Official Says It Doesn't Try to Bar Jewish Students

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 14.—[Special.]—Allegations of discrimination against the admission of Jewish students to Rutgers university which are under investigation by the Independent Order of Brith Sholom in New Jersey were denied at the college today by Dean Fraser Metzger.

The allegations originated in a statement made public by Julius Kass or Perth Amboy, an attorney who was graduated from Rutgers in 1926. He said that of nine Jewish youths from New Brunswick who applied for admission to the university this year only one was accepted, but that the others admitted after he, with others, including Robert C. Carlson, principal of New Brunswick High school, had protested.

"All applicants for admission must meet certain requirements," Dean Metzger said. "This questionnaire is the same for all. This is an undenominational institution and it is a general proposition here, applying equally to all, that no one racial or religious group is permitted to dominate."

Five Chicago Artists Display Work at the Carson, Pirie Galleries

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

There opens this afternoon in the Carson, Pirie, Scott galleries an exhibition of paintings by five Chicago artists. Pauline Palmer brings the serene sureness of her craft as weight for the more impetuous manner of Francis Chapin, one of the younger artists and one of our most promising. J. Jeffrey Grant, John A. Spelman, and Stark Davis complete the group, each in his own way adding to the beauty and interest of the exhibit.

Stark Davis has a flair for the decorative. He manipulates broad planes of color, now in the guise of birds, now beasts and again as flowers. His pink flamingos are rosy shadows, winging with the grace of arrows their swift flight against a curtain of gray. A pinker macaw croaks defiance from a gayer setting. Pink flowers upon a blue, blue base glow in the artificial fashion of an exaggerated cutout. A Siamese cat, gray and brown, a fit beast to wander on Halloween fences, plays with a dark blue butterfly, cruelly cajoling it. Finest of all is "Harvest," three magnificent peacocks guarding the golden wealth of pumpkin and garnered fruit.

Francis Chapin shows a curiously fascinating still life, based on the pure color of yellow orange. From this starting point he has woven with subtle shades of deeper orange and yellow, red and green, a mosaic made up of such details as flowers, fruit in a bowl, a vagrant apple and banana, and a checker board. Impressionism fathers most of his open air scenes.

"Rain on Washday" is a vivid bit of color, something in the manner of Angarola. "Roofs in the Sun" is solid paintings, sincere and convincing. The spirit of romance rides the road in "Lincoln Park—Early Fall," where the path is gleaming mud banked by wet sides of snow.

John A. Spelman offers a beautiful "On Seagull Lake" and several other canvases in his familiar, leisurely, careful manner. Liveable landscapes, all of them. "Lacemakers of Portofino," by J. Jeffrey Grant stands out as does his superb "The Incoming Tide." "Amethyst Dish" and "Chinese Cabinet" are delightful contributions of Pauline Palmer. Delightful, too, and well done are her "Rosita" and "Concertina Player."

The exhibition will continue to Nov. 15.

Will Display Antiques.

Antiques valued at more than $100,000 will be displayed at the second annual Antiques exposition to be held in the Palmer house, Nov. 10 to 15. The first Chicago show was limited to Chicago studios but this year a number of Eastern collections will be included in the more than 100 exhibits. Felix Mendelsohn is director of the exposition.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Justly Annoyed.

"Dear Miss Blake: I telephoned my friend, but refused to tell him my name. Later he found out that it was I and refuses to see me now. Please advise. SALLY."

That kind of telephone call is most exasperating, and I don't wonder he was peeved.

Two Girls Offer Puzzle to Altar-Minded Chap

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am 28. I should know my own mind, but I need some one else's opinion. I have a fairly good position, make a fair salary and see good prospects ahead. I am a college man.

"Now, I would like to get married. There is a girl. There are two, in fact. One has made my life bright here in this city. She has a pleasant disposition, is pretty, and 25, and I am sure she would marry me if I asked her. I think a great deal of her and believe we would get along well, but there is the other girl in my home town. Have known her for years and have loved her. I think I still love her, but at times doubt it.

"She doesn't want to marry me because I do not make enough money. She doesn't want to break away from her home town friends to come to me. She is self-centered, selfish, thinks of nothing but good times, is my own age and not likely to change, wouldn't you say? She doesn't seem to care whether I go to see her or not. All in all she is most indifferent.

"Still, she hangs on—and so do I. Why? RAYMOND."

Under the circumstances, one simply has to try to rally the wits that are left and figure out where he will be ten, fifteen, twenty years hence. With girl number one there probably will be an agreeable home life and family and the position of respect this course earns. With the other, should marriage accrue eventually, there would ever be conflict, unrealized desires, a hectic pursuit of money to satisfy her wants which never would be fully gratified.

Baron Wrangel's Daughter Wed to Yankee Salesman

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 14.—With all the colorful rites of the Greek Orthodox church the wedding of Helen Wrangel, daughter of the late Gen. Baron Peter Wrangel, who led Russia's White army against the Reds, and Phillip Knapp Hills, son of Laurence Hills, a Paris newspaper man, took place this afternoon in the Russian cathedral here. Father Spashky, former chaplain of the Russian fleet, officiated. The bridesmaids were Natalie Wrangel, sister of the bride, and Frances Hills, sister of the groom.

Mr. Hills is Brussels sales manager for an automobile made in America.

UNGUENTINE CONES FOR HEMORRHOIDS

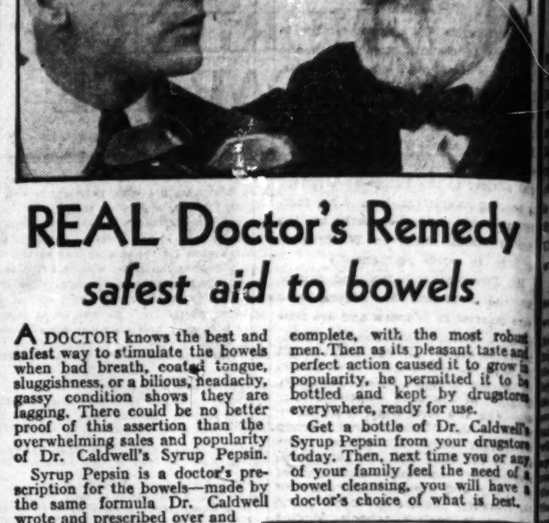
A Scientific Triumph by the Makers of Unguentine

When a real miracle working formula to speedily relieve and end piles is offered to the public through the drug stores of America it doesn't take long for the good news to spread—sales are enormous.

For over 30 years Unguentine Cones have been giving quick blissful relief from the burning, itching and agony of piles. But that isn't all. In most cases, Unguentine Cones cause distressing piles to shrink and the trouble is gone.

Do not neglect piles—you are inviting the knife if you do and operations are painful and expensive.

It costs but 75 cents to learn about the supreme healing and soothing power of Unguentine Cones—at all drug stores. The Norwich Pharmacal Co., Norwich, N. Y.



REAL Doctor's Remedy safest aid to bowels

A DOCTOR knows the best and safest way to stimulate the bowels when bad breath, coated tongue, sluggishness, or a bilious, headachy, gassy condition shows they are lagging. There could be no better proof of this assertion than the overwhelming sales and popularity of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Syrup Pepsin is a doctor's prescription for the bowels—made by the same formula Dr. Caldwell wrote and prescribed over and over during his forty-seven years of practice. He tested its gentle action with women, older people, babies and children; saw that it does not gripe, sicken or cause any discomfort. He proved its action thorough, complete, with the most robust men. Then as its pleasant taste and perfect action caused it to grow in popularity, he permitted it to be bottled and kept by druggists everywhere, ready for use.

Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your druggists today. Then, next time you or any of your family feel the need of a bowel cleansing, you will have a doctor's choice of what is best.

U. S. Deweys Plan Return to U. S. Career

BY THALIA

The Charles S. Dewey family is going to resume residence in the United States next January, Mr. Dewey has been in Washington, D. C., for the last few days. He brought the youngest Dewey children, Miss Lydia and Albert III., to this country for school. As his task of financial adviser to the Polish government is nearing completion, he and his family probably will be back in the United States, either in Washington or here, to reside permanently.

Mr. Dewey's son-in-law and daughter, the Frederick M. Algers, who were married in Warsaw and are now living in Detroit, have gone to Washington to see Mr. Dewey and to visit Mrs. John A. Hinckleys. Mrs. Hinckley is the former Helen Robinson, daughter of Theodore Douglas Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alger were debutantes of the "little cabinet" group when they came out several years ago, at the time their fathers were, respectively, assistant secretary of the navy and assistant secretary of the treasury. Louise and Albert, who have been in eastern schools, studied last year in Europe, the former in Paris and the latter in Switzerland.

The Hallam room of St. James' Episcopal community house, with its soft cream colored walls, mulberry damask furnishings, and matching toile drapes, made a pleasant background for the fine needlework displayed at the tea given there yesterday afternoon by the members of the Woman's Parish league. Members of the league were busy receiving guests, taking orders for their handiwork, and officiating at the tea table.

Among the articles made by the women parishioners were dainty blanket covers, organdy dress bags, bouillon pillows (fashioned by Mrs. Edgar L. Ryerson Jr.), towels, bridge sets, and infants' wear. A clothes closet designed by Mrs. Clement Studebaker to illustrate how milady's clothes may be tucked away in neat, orderly fashion contained lavender sachet, green hangers, hat and shoe bags, and boxes of various sizes.

Members of the league present included Mrs. A. C. Fox, general chairman, who wore a black crêpe frock with a hat trimmed in white galyak; Mrs. Orville Taylor, also in black and white; Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine Jr., in brown crêpe dress and matching hat; Mrs. Ryerson, in a black crêpe frock with turquoise and tan trimmings; Mrs. Henry Hooper Jr., in black crêpe and hat; Mrs. Alan C. Dixon, in a tailored brown suit and hat, and Mrs. James Lawrence Houghteling, in a black and green crêpe frock and matching hat.

Among others present were Mrs. Charles J. Wentworth, Mrs. John Dickinson Dermont, Mrs. Richard Saunders, Mrs. George Payston, Mrs. Walter Fuller, and Mrs. Gilbert Humphrey. The faithful league members meet every Tuesday at the parish house to work on the articles which have been promised for delivery before Christmas.

The marriage of Miss Victoria Ulrich Williams, daughter of Mrs. Harold Robert Williams of Oak Park, and Gratiot Washburne, son of Mrs. Hempstead Washburne of 1411 North Lake Shore parkway, is to take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the parish house of the Holy Name cathedral, with only members of the immediate families present. A wedding dinner will take place following the ceremony at the residence of the bride's mother. Mr. Washburne and his bride are going to the Huron Mountain club and then to his Wyoming ranch for their wedding trip and are to reside in Chicago.

-o-

Mrs. Louis Koch Boysen of 1448 Lake Shore drive will be hostess at a weekly luncheon meeting of the women's auxiliary committee to be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the Arts club.

-o-

The junior board of the Chicago auxiliary for Convalescent Women and Children will be entertained at luncheon and bridge following their regular meeting today by Mrs. Henry P. Conkey, Mrs. Alan Lockard, and Miss Helen McNair at the Woman's Athletic club.

-o-

The Woman's National Republican club is organizing a series of political card parties to take place on Thursday, Oct. 23, Tuesday, Oct. 28, and Thursday, Oct. 30. The first is to be at Mrs. Waller Borden's residence at 1020 Lake Shore drive, the second at the residence of George F. Harding of 4853 Lake Park avenue, and the last at the George Woodruffs' handsome penthouse dwelling at 1500 Lake Shore drive. Some of the Republican candidates are to speak during the games. Mrs. Jacob Baur is president and the board members are to serve as hostesses.

-o-

Mrs. John Alden Carpenter of 666 Rush street is expected to arrive in town this morning, and her daughter, Miss Genevieve Carpenter, is coming to Chicago in about 2 weeks for a long visit with her parents.

-o-

Mrs. Donald McPherson of Winnetka has gone to Pittsfield, Mass., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. West. Mr. West is recuperating from a serious siege of pneumonia. While she is in the east Mrs. McPherson will also see her daughter, Fanny, who is at Miss Hall's school in Pittsfield.

-o-

Mrs. James Prindiville of Winnetka, who has occupied the John Metcalf house in Winnetka this summer, has moved to the Orrington hotel in Evanston to remain until the first of the year. Her daughter, Miss Mary Ellen Prindiville, has sailed with a group of girls under the tutelage of Miss Louise Wood for travel and study abroad. Mrs. Prindiville plans to sail in January to spend a year in Europe.

Music Festival Offers Lively Italian Songs, Not Exactly Merry

BY EDWARD MOORE.

The chamber music festival revealed a little masterpiece at the Simpson theater last night, which in itself is almost enough of an achievement for any festival. It was a set of three Italian songs by Ildebrando Pizzetti scored for soprano voice and string quartet and presented by Olga Averino and the Brosa quartet.

Because of their deftness, their melody, their expressive range, they come near to being the best songs of the year. The first is a salty little ballad about a wife crushing a serpent's head to put into her husband's wine and getting caught at it, the second a story of family relations hardly more cheerful, the third a love tale with no complications. All were delicate, all were of melody used for dramatic expression, all were done in a manner altogether charming.

-o-

The program was entirely of Italian music, and it tended to prove that, with a few exceptions, the fund of melody commonly ascribed to Italian composers is persisting today. One of the exceptions was the first work, a first performance in America of G. Francesco Malipiero's "Ritrovari" for eleven instruments, all of low pitch. It was played by members of the Chicago Symphony orchestra and conducted by Hugo Kortschak.

Malipiero would seem to have made a vow to get as far in matter and manner from anything Verdian as human ability will permit. From the makeup of the orchestra and his style of writing, the piece gave an impression something as though a person had set out to write an extended poem, banishing meanwhile all words containing the letter i, and then confining his vocabulary to words derived from some obscure middle European language.

But then came another first American performance, a sonata for flute and piano, played by Georges Barrère and Rudolph Reuter. This had considerable to say in a reasonably ingenuous melodic manner, perhaps saying the more because Mr. Barrère is a great master of the flute. Then came the lovely Pizzetti group, which, by the way, was quite as easy to listen to as Italian music of the old school. This school got its hearing after the intermission, a sonata for cello and piano by Locatelli, a group of songs by Monteverdi, then back to the present with a string quartet by Castelnuovo-Tedesco, who usually does not care much about Verdian music either.

-o-

Meanwhile William Russell was singing a program of baritone songs at Kimball hall, displaying a fresh, vigorous voice of excellent quality, a fair, if not perfect, knowledge of how to sing the English language, and a style that showed to first class effect in the dignified vigor of Handel's "Arm, Arm, Ye Brave." He furnished several good reasons for being heard again.

THIS NEW BEIGE POWDER ACTUALLY BECOMES PART OF THE SKIN

The eagerly sought natural finish can not be achieved with powder chosen haphazardly or simply because of habit. Certain powders cause streaks; others, spottiness—but Primrose Beige is so perfect a shade and so fine in texture that it actually becomes part of the skin. It clings, and remains on the face for hours—a precious boon to women who don't like to be forever reaching for the powder puff. To learn the advantages of this luxurious $3 powder, you need only buy a dollar's worth, for it is now available in boxes at $1.

At all better class drug and department stores, in boxes, $1 and $3. Primrose House, 595 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

FEMININE WORLD SETS APPROVAL ON NEW FACE POWDERS

A Face Powder for Each Skin Type Fills Long-Felt Need

"Fashions come and go," says Peggy Martin, famous beauty expert, "but I've been simply amazed at the way debutantes, dramatic stars, business and professional women, home-makers, all have adopted the new idea of a face powder for each type of skin."

And this approval of Plough's Three Face Powders is expressed in actual day-in and day-out use by thousands of lovely women. It is proof-positive that Plough knew the wants of the feminine world in creating one powder for oily skin, one for dry skin and one for normal skin.

You yourself will be amazed at the striking new beauty your skin attains under the softly-clinging touch of your own Plough Powder! You'll be delighted to see how smoothly it goes on—and stays on—and how marvelously it lends a silken texture, a youthful radiance to your complexion.

IF YOUR SKIN IS OILY—Choose heavy texture Plough's "Incense of Flowers" Face Powder, in the oval box—75c.

IF YOUR SKIN IS NORMAL—Choose medium texture Plough's "Exquisite" Face Powder, in the round box—30c.

Each Plough Powder comes in white, flesh, pink, brunette and sun-tan tints. Each is sensibly priced wherever beauty creations are sold.

The women who choose Plough's Face Powders shop wisely and well. For they are assured the finest quality possible in any face powder at prices in keeping with the modern trend to smart economy!

Great Cleanliness Necessary in Doctoring the Face

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

A skin specialist recently called my attention to the fact that acne scars are a commonly found blemish and that in nine cases out of ten they are on otherwise pretty faces because of the crude, careless and sometimes soiled hand manner in which pimples are squeezed.

There is some hazard in squeezing out a large pimple. After healing, a tiny, fine scar may remain. One of these scars may be blemish enough, but if there are a number of them, the face may become a serious grief. You have seen extreme cases of acne scarred faces with the look of smallpox pitting to them. It is not all due, it is true, to the cause just related, but many of them have rough and careless removal of the pus matter to blame.

If a pimple has got under way, it should be allowed to remain until it comes to a head and is ready to open. Then it should be punctured with a sterilized needle and the content taken up by suction for which there are purchasable small glass globes with a rubber ball attached. Or, if not the suction globe, then with a pledget of clean fresh cotton saturated in a disinfecting liquid, quickly take up the content matter. This is so important in home treatment that you cannot afford to overlook the cleanliness and disinfecting principles.

The formation of a pimple dates invariably from the clogging of the sebaceous gland, which we recognize as a blackhead. If the blackhead is removed carelessly, pus forming bacteria will cause the inflammatory swelling. So we must repeat that the cleanliness of an operating room and sterilization as it is practiced there should be the keynote of any attempt at blackhead or pimple removal.

Before anything else is done, the face should be washed thoroughly, rinsed in warm water, and if the acne condition is bad (thick clusters on nose, forehead and chin) the face may be steamed so that pore contents are sufficiently softened to squeeze the contents out with gentle pressure.

Food Talk.

Fritters are an excellent way of serving the "good old food standbys" in a new dress. When members of the family grow tired of the plain fruits or vegetables, a fritter of the same food will often make them enthusiastic. While fritters are not quite so easily digested as the raw or stewed product, when properly made they retain enough of the minerals and vitamins of the fruit or vegetable to be given an occasional place in the diet.

Technically, fritters are pieces of material dipped in a thin batter or eggs and bread crumbs and then fried. To turn out prefect golden brown crisp ones, it is important that we observe certain precautions. Whether we fry in deep fat or on a greased griddle, vegetable fats are better for frying than animal, as they may be heated to higher temperature without "smoking." The food must be completely covered with a batter or with eggs and bread crumbs to keep it from absorbing fat.

The batter used is a simple thin one, usually made of eggs, milk, baking powder, and flour. If fruit is used, drain well before dipping in the batter. Have the fat at about 375 degrees or hot enough to turn an inch cube of bread a golden brown in 60 seconds. Drop the fritter into the fat and fry until it is the desired golden brown. Remove from the fat, if in deep fat, with a slotted spoon, or if the pot has a wire basket, lift that out. Place the fritters on white unglazed paper to drain. Do not let one fritter touch another, thus all the fat will be absorbed.

Fruit fritters should be sprinkled with powdered sugar before serving. Other kinds such as corn fritters are served plain or garnished with parsley with the course they accompany. All fritters should be served immediately.

BANANA FRITTERS.

1 tablespoon lemon juice.
1¼ cups family flour.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
1 egg, beaten.

Peel bananas and remove the outside fibrous portion by scraping off with the back of a knife. Cut lengthwise and then crosswise. Sprinkle with lemon juice and roll in powdered sugar. Cover and let stand 20 minutes. Mix and sift flodr, baking powder and salt. Beat egg and add milk. Combine liquod and flour mix here and beat until smooth. Dip bananas in bater and fry in deep, hot fat [360 degrees F.] to a golden brown. Drain. Serve with powdered sugar or sirup. May be served with the meat course at dinner.

CORN FRITTERS.

3 teaspoons baking powder.
1 tablespoon sugar.
¼ teaspoon salt.
1 egg.
½ cup milk.
1 cup corn [if canned corn is used, cream well].

Sift flour, then measure. Resift with the other dry ingredients. Beat the egg and add the milk. Combine dry ingredients with wet and blend together quickly yet thoroughly. Add corn to batter and fry in deep, hot fat [390 degrees F.]. Drain on paper and serve while hot with sirup.

FARM and GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

SAFEGUARDING GARDENS.

With home gardeners preparing plantings to survive the ravages of wind, freezing and thawing and drying out during the next five to six months, experiences of those versed in this winter care are helpful.

Perennials do not need protection against the cold, but rather against sudden changes in temperature. If newly planted they require a mulch of loose textured material such as straw or leaves, but nothing should be used which will mat down on such plants as foxgloves, hollyhocks, sweet williams and violas. Cornstalks or watertight boxes filled with leaves and inverted over this type of plant are best.

Bulbs require similar mulches, usually applied after the ground freezes. Late planted bulbs should be mulched immediately after they are put in the ground. Hybrid perpetual and hybrid tea roses can be carried over to the next season by hilling up dirt six to eight inches at the base and then covering plants with hardwood leaves to a depth of 24 inches. Rhododendrons should be banks with leaves with a screen of evergreen boughs or cornstalks around the planting on exposed sides to prevent sun scalding.

Water lilies used in garden pools are a new problem to many persons in the Chicago area where water pools are rapidly increasing in number. Daining of the pond is advisable, filling with leaves. If the lily roots are planted in boxes that have been setting in the pool, remove from the box and store in a cool basement, leaving them covered with moist burlap until spring, according to the experts.

Ends Orphanage Work.

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Dr. James Barton of Boston, chairman for near east relief, handed over to Greece today the orphanage at Syra and a pavilion at Athens for tubercular children. He signified that American post-war orphanage work in the near east was ended.

Paris Evening Fashions Return to Plaited Skirts

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Plaited skirts and all plaited dresses are one of the striking features of Paris fall fashions. This is good news, after the pieced, gored and pinched frocks of the last seasons, for plaited frocks are easy to make and easy to wear, which cannot be said for their predecessors.

To produce an effect of softness and delicacy the plaited dresses that Paris is making for us this fall are made with unpressed plaits in most cases, and these also eliminate the necessity for constant pressing, which is another advantage gained. Such plaits are held down to neatness by stitched bands and sashes, as in the Lucien Lelong evening frock shown in our sketch.

This frock is made of turquoise blue georgette, and both the color and the material are extremely fashionable in Paris for evening wear. Nothing could be simpler or more graceful than the Lelong dress shown. It is plaited in fine knife plaits from the décolletage to the knees, and the plaits are stitched to this point. They supply the fullness to the lower skirt, but are not pressed. This makes them twice as chic.

Very smart is the dropped shoulder bertha that leaves the shoulders bare. This bertha is made of turquoise blue georgette covered by a pattern of eyelet embroidery.

Feminine Hygiene

Now Possible Without Danger or Inconvenience

MODERN American women have learned that the secret of a woman's youth, charm and vitality, depends largely upon one aspect of her toilette . . . upon feminine hygiene.

Many physicians declare that rapid aging and the many diseases deemed characteristic to women are often traceable to the lack of proper hygiene on this fundamental point of cleanliness.

Modern women are fast learning that there is one antiseptic for this purpose that is both harmless and convenient. There is no longer need to dabble with dangerous poisons. There is no longer need to suffer inconvenience.

Now, through the use of a new antiseptic in tablet form, (Pariogen tablets), which requires no water or accessories, feminine hygiene is possible instantly, with no more effort than washing ones hands.

Pariogen tablets are non-poisonous, contain no carbolic acid, bichloride of mercury or cresol, yet destroy most objectionable germs in a few seconds. Non-caustic, Pariogen will not harm the most delicate tissues. (Pariogen is also a deodorant.) Gone are the dangers attending the use of poisons or caustics! Gone are the inconveniences of preparing solutions!

Pariogen tablets are packed twelve in a tube the size of a fountain pen. May be obtained at any drug store or drug counter at one dollar the tube. Complete instructions are enclosed with each tube. American Drug & Chemical Company, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

THE REWARD—vibrant enjoyment of life's good things. No wonder famous doctors endorse yeast!

ROUGE and POWDER won't hide the traces of INTESTINAL FATIGUE

Blotches, blemishes, sallow skin are outward signs of a serious condition within. Powder may cover them up, but this simple food corrects them

ALWAYS covering them up . . . blotches, pimples, blackheads! Always covering them up—but never doing anything to eradicate their cause!

You, who "take a pill" at regular intervals, will learn that the day of reckoning must come. Violent, harsh laxatives are internally destructive. Eventually you pay a staggering price for temporary relief. Yet the cost of permanent relief is small. And the source well known. Not weakening diets, torturous treatment—just Nature's means for correcting that common trouble . . . Intestinal Fatigue. This elemental method is eating Fleischmann's Yeast . . . the corrective food endorsed by leading specialists and world-famed physicians.

Yeast, you know, is a plant, a food. Taken as a regular part of your diet, it moistens and softens indigestible waste products which have accumulated in the intestinal tract.

It stimulates the natural action of the intestines and thus helps the body to throw off indigested food in a normal way. It peps up appetite, stimulates digestion . . . improves your whole health. You feel worlds better the minute intestines start functioning normally.

Don't make the mistake of continuing to suffer because you're too indifferent to make an effort. Millions are missing the good things of life because they can't make up their minds to act. Shun their unwise example.

Surely it's worth a trial . . . a consistent trial. Begin today, and see how much improvement a few weeks bring! You can get Fleischmann's Yeast at all grocers', restaurants and soda fountains everywhere.

three times a day

Remember, it's important to ask your grocer for Fleischmann's fresh Yeast (with the yellow label) . . . the only yeast that contains the Sunshine Vitamin D! Every cake is "irradiated" to give it this added element so important for sun-starved indoor workers. It is rich in Vitamins B and G, too.

Sour Stomach
Two-Minute Relief!

Sodium carbonate, the modern scientific anti-acid (2½ times as effective as soda) perfectly blended with Magnesia and other soothing, healing ingredients in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will dispel those sour risings and the unsettled condition of the stomach that follows a heavy meal in a couple of minutes.

These tablets will neutralize several times their weight of acid material in the stomach and they start to work the moment they're swallowed. For lasting relief purchase a 25c Handy Pocket Case at your druggist, and make the Two-to-Sunday test.

Try these tablets after meals and avoid all discomfort—they provide a safe and harmless anti-acid.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Child Needs Clothing.

"I am writing for Mrs. M. whose husband deserted her last winter and left her ill and with a 3 year old girl. She has had a hard time getting on her feet and, although she is now working, she earns just enough to pay her rent and for the care of the child. The little girl is in need of a winter coat and other warm clothing which her mother cannot buy. Do you think you could get it for her through your column? M. M."

If you have a young daughter of this age I am sure you discard garments which she has outgrown and which are still in fairly good condition. These things would keep Mrs. M.'s little girl warm during the coming winter months and her mother would be relieved of much worry.

New Plans for Rome Will Make Streets Wider

ROME, Italy, Oct. 14.—(AP)—After more than six months of constant work Rome's new city plan is about ready to be presented for final approval of the premier Oct. 28, the anniversary of the Fascists' march on Rome.

The heart of Rome with all its narrow and crooked streets has, for the most part, been respected. Only four of those picturesque Roman alleys will be torn up to make way for streets more suitable to traffic, which is constantly growing in the capital.

The city will be planned to contain more than two million inhabitants. Work on three large and beautiful boulevards will soon start.

"YOU'VE earned a rest, Mother—

"Thirty years of housekeeping—four children raised to manhood and womanhood—not to mention Martha's two babies—or the care you've given me all these years.

"They're all gone now, mother, except me, and I don't need much attention any more. Yes, you've earned a rest. We'll sell this big house, and the old furniture, too, and find a smaller furnished place, like the one Bob and his Agnes rented when they were first married.

"There's an idea for us, mother! We'll move into one of these furnished apartments, where the housework will be just enough to keep you from fretting for something to do! Hand me the want ad section of the Tribune, mother, I know we'll find listed there the best apartments available!"

WHEN you decide to rent a furnished apartment, look for it in the Tribune Want Ad Section. Choice furnished apartments for rent in all sections of the city and suburbs are listed there. You can quickly choose an apartment desirable for size, convenience, location and transportation, at rentals you can afford. Many a weary step will be saved, and greater certainty and satisfaction can be assured if you will but follow this simple rule for all apartment hunters—consult the Want Ad Section of the Tribune first!
